ROYAL WEDDING OVER BUT LONDON STILL CELEBRATES

Merrymakers Carry On Long After Princess and Duke Leave for Honeymoon in Country.

THIS IS THE BRIDE'S
BIRTHDAY—SHE IS 28

Brilliant Ceremony at Westminster Abbey Followed By Intricate Ritual of Greek Orthodox Church.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Nov. 30.—Londoners celebrated until an early hour today the wedding yesterday of Princess Marina of Greece and the Duke of Kent while the royal pair were in honeymoon retreat at Himley Hall, country home of the Earl of Dudley. Excited crowds kept up the celebrations until long after midnight. Once or twice knots of rowdies clashed with police but there were no serious disorders.

The Duke, fourth son of King George and Queen Mary, and his bride arrived at Himley Hall last night after a trip through the English countryside before cheering throngs. A special train took them to the hall, in Worcestershire, following their two wedding ceremonies yesterday. They left Buckingham Palace immediately after a wedding breakfast, well after noon.

The Duke and Duchess are expected to join King George and Queen Mary at Sandringham for the Christmas holidays. Then they will extend their honeymoon to the continent, traveling ultimately to Italy.

Today is Princess Marina's birthday—her 28th. The Duke will be 32 on Dec. 20.

No Dampening of Spirits.
Happy excitement, not at all blighted by early morning rain, fog and mist, gripped London from the moment Marina awakened yesterday until shouting throngs saw the newly-weds off for their honeymoon.

The wedding was the city's highest event perhaps, since the coronation of King George 25 years ago. Londoners awoke yesterday swelled by thousands from the provinces, made the most of it.

Two colorful ceremonies, each steeped in centuries of tradition, united the pair, whose romance was started at the country estate of Prince Felix of Yugoslavia in the Slovenian Alps.

The first ceremony was the impressive service of the Church of England, carried out before the crowned heads and the notables of England and the Continent in Westminster Abbey.

Beneath the high windows and the rosy arches of the Abbey, where sleep the nation's Kings and Queens, the Duke and Princess spoke their vows before the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Greek Orthodox Service.
The second service was the 1100-year-old rite of the Greek Orthodox Church, solemnized in the white and gold private chapel of Buckingham Palace before members of the immediate families.

Thousands stayed all night to be on hand to witness the start of the day's pageantry and ceremonies, the three processions which took the bridal pair, the King and Queen and their royal guests to the Abbey.

Thousands of others arose before daylight to make their way into the streets along which the processions passed.

Smiling and waving, Kent and Marina drove to the Abbey in the King's glass coaches for the first ceremony.

While kings and queens, dukes and duchesses, lords and ladies, diplomats and other distinguished persons listened, the resonant voice of the white-haired Archbishop of Canterbury echoed and re-echoed through the domes and vaulted abbey as he led the couple through the wedding rites.

The Episcopal Service.
As the light of tapers in candelabra and menorahs glinted back from the elaborate uniforms and the handsome dress, the jewels and decorations of the galaxy of great, he intoned slowly:

"George Edward Alexander Edmund, wilt thou have his woman to thy wedded wife, to live together after God's ordinance in the holy estate of matrimony?" With that love her, comfort her, honor and keep her in sickness and in health; and forsaking all others, keep thee only unto her, so long as ye both shall live?"

Kent's voice carried to the last row as, kneeling beside his Princess, he firmly answered: "I will."

To Marina, radiantly beautiful in her silver lame gown, the Archbishop said:

"Marina, wilt thou have this man

POLICE CLUBS STOP REDS AT CITY HALL

Meeting of 100 On Steps Broken Up When 20 Try to Enter to See Mayor.

A meeting of about 100 Communists on the Market street steps of City Hall was "adjourned" by policemen swinging hickory clubs today after a delegation of 20, headed by Sam Dukes, Negro, had tried to force their way into the building against the order of Capt. Albert Wetzel, commanding Central Police District. Several men were struck by policemen.

Capt. Wetzel denied the order to break up the assembly was due to anything speakers had said in the preceding 30 minutes.

"I had told leaders of the group that not more than five members would be allowed to see the Mayor to present demands which they had prepared," he said to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "The meeting went on as usual in such gatherings, with the speakers denouncing the administration and the police."

"We paid no attention, because we are used to hearing that sort of thing. Finally, Dukes came up the steps, followed by his committee of 20. I told him only five would be allowed in. He said, 'We're all going in,' and tried to push past me. Then I ordered the officers to adjourn the meeting."

As policemen dispersed the crowd, some of the Communists ran around to the Twelfth boulevard entrance, where they were repelled by police. Fifty uniformed policemen and detectives had been detailed to the City Hall building and ground for the meeting. About 75 of the Communists who participated in the meeting were Negroes.

The meeting was a sequel to a gathering last Saturday of about 300 Communists, who had announced they would present demands to the Mayor for increases in relief allowances, and for funds to finance a trip to Washington to make a demonstration for passage of an unemployment relief bill.

Eight were arrested, including four white women, Dukes and three other Negroes. The women identified themselves as Miss Lillian Davis, 23 years old, 4314 Maryland avenue; Mrs. Hilda Mariz, 19, 3960 Evans avenue; Mrs. Freda Jones, 30, 303 Cedar street; and Miss Elsiebeth Wikmark, 24, 5706 Easton avenue. All were charged with peace disturbance.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 30.—A heavy snowstorm swept over large areas of the Rocky Mountain and plains states today.

Beginning late yesterday snow fell in Western Missouri all night. It halted airplane traffic; marooned hundreds of homeward bound football fans; disrupted wire communications and caused many minor traffic accidents. Trains into Kansas City from east and south were delayed two to four hours.

The Ozark Hills in southwestern Missouri were covered with snow a foot deep. Branches of fruit and shade trees broke under the weight of the snow. Highway workers pulled hundreds of automobiles from ditches. Highways 40 and 50 were open in and out of Kansas City.

The State Highway Department reported that Highways 40, 50, 66, 36 and 60 were blocked in places. Traffic was also at a standstill on many other highways in Western Missouri. Highway 40 was reported blocked near Concordia. In nearby Marshall 16 inches of snow.

LACLEDE ORDERED TO CUT DOMESTIC GAS RATES 6 PCT.

State Commission Directs Reduction, Effective Feb.
1—Commercial Users Included.

VALUATION FIXED
AT $39,000,000

$11,850,000 Lower Than 1933 Figure—City Urged $28,000,000 and Company $56,000,000.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 29.—The Missouri Public Service Commission today fixed the valuation of the Laclede Gas Light Co. of St. Louis at $39,000,000 for gas rate making purposes, and ordered the company to make a 6 per cent rate reduction for domestic and commercial users in St. Louis, effective Feb. 1.

The reduction for domestic and commercial users, served under the General Gas Service schedule, will total about $350,000 a year, based on estimated revenues and anticipated operating experience for 1935.

While not specifically directing it, the commission also suggested the company revise its house heating and industrial gas rates to increase the use of gas and increase its revenue from these sources.

Case Pending Since 1927.
The order was issued in a case which has been pending before the commission and the courts, in various stages, since 1927. While the case, once reversed by the Missouri Supreme Court, has been in progress for years, the speed with which the commission issued its report and order, after the final legal briefs were submitted last Oct. 25, sets a commission record for a major utility rate and valuation case.

In placing the valuation of the company property which is used and useful in the public service at $39,000,000, the commission cut about $11,850,000 from a former figure of $50,850,000 which was in force in 1933. The 1935 figure was based on a $47,000,000 valuation originally granted in this proceeding, plus net plant additions.

The company contended for a valuation of about $56,000,000 in the hearings just completed. The legal department of the City of St. Louis argued that the valuation should not exceed $28,000,000.

Additional Provisions of Order.
Other provisions of the Commission order included the following: The Commission holds a fair and reasonable rate of return for the property of the company at 8 per cent. In a previous decision in 1929 the Commission held the company was entitled to a return of 7 1/2 per cent.

The new schedule of rates, granted for domestic and commercial users, will be effective on Feb. 1.

That the company shall be entitled to earn $500,000 a year as a depreciation allowance, for replacement of wear and tear on the property, plus 1 1/2 per cent of the cost of net additions to plant since last June 30, the date as of which the $39,000,000 valuation was fixed. The former annual allowance was 1 1/2 per cent of the cost of the depreciable property.

On Going Concern Value.
For the first time in years the Commission, in a major valuation case, did not make a separate finding for going concern value, as a part of the rate base. The Commission indicated it had made some allowance for going value in arriving at the final valuation figure, but was silent as to the amount.

"We feel that there is no necessity to make a separate finding for going concern value," the Commission stated. "In our determination of fair value we shall treat this property as a going concern and will make the proper allowance for this element of value."

In an earlier valuation of the Laclede company, in 1925, the Commission placed the going value at $5,818,000. In fixing the value of the Laclede company's gas department at $45,000,000. This going value finding was not disturbed in the Commission's first order in the present proceeding, in 1929.

The present case was instituted by the City in 1927, with an application for a rate increase. The Commission issued its order in January, 1929, fixing the valuation at $47,000,000 and granting a rate increase of about $600,000 a year. On appeal by the City of St. Louis the Supreme Court reversed the order and remanded the case for a revaluation. The court held the Commission had failed to con-

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The assertion that they were coerced under threat of legal action into paying $133,000 to the estate of Warren G. Harding is contained in a suit filed with the board of tax appeals by Louis H. Brush and Roy D. Moore, purchasers of the former President's Ohio newspaper, the Marion Star.

The suit also disclosed that terms of the sale provided Harding was to be employed for $13,300 a year as an associate editor to write editorials and articles to be syndicated. Presumably this was to start when Harding left the White House, where he received $75,000 a year. The contract was dated June 18, 1923. Brush and Moore ended $26,600 paid to the Harding estate in 1930 and 1931 was "necessary business expense" and was deducted in the tax return. The Bureau of Internal Revenue is attempting to collect a $3350 deficiency tax on this amount.

Brush and Moore said they paid the estate $13,300 a year for 10 years following his death.

Liability Questioned.
The petition said Brush and Moore considered that no further liability rested on them since President Harding died before the formation of an employment contract.

"The Harding Publishing Co. considered that there was no liability whatever upon its part in view of the same fact," it added.

Mrs. Harding, the President's brother and sister, Charles D. Chaffner, executor of Harding's estate, nor by Messrs. Hoke Donithen and Richard Crissinger, who were attorneys for the Harding family and estate.

"When the parties failed to agree on this matter, the Hardings threatened suit against the Harding Publishing Co. to compel this payment of $13,300 per year and the guarantee therefor."

Assets of Paper.
The principal asset of the Harding Publishing Co. at the time of said purchase was its circulation and good will which were then valued at $290,000 out of total assets of about $520,000.

To avoid the danger to its circulation and good will from this threatened suit, the Harding Publishing Co. by its new owners, agreed to a settlement of the claim made by the Harding family and their representatives.

"Under this settlement the Harding Publishing Co. agreed to pay the 10 year period, to pay the $13,300 annually to Mrs. Harding during her life, and after her death, to the President's brother and sisters."

"The Harding family, for its part, waived their claim that this payment be guaranteed by surety bond or a collateral security approved by them."

On Aug. 8 Mile. Boucher flew her plane at the rate of 276 miles an hour, about 27 miles an hour faster than the previous world record for women, held by Mrs. Mae Hatzlip of St. Louis.

In 1933 Mile. Boucher set a second category altitude record of 19,356 feet. She was flying a light single-seater plane.

Pendergast's Letter to Farley
(Copyright, 1934, by the Pulitzer Publishing Co.) May 12, 1933.

James J. Farley, Postmaster-General,
Washington, D. C.
My dear Jim:

Jerome Walsh and John Lazia will be in Washington to see you about the same matter that I had Mr. Kemper talk to you about. Now, Jim, Lazia is one of my chief lieutenants and I am more sincerely interested in his welfare than anything you might be able to do for me now or in the future. He has been in trouble with the Income Tax Department for some time. I know it was simple a case of being jobbed because of his Democratic activities. I think that Frank Walsh spoke to the proper authorities about this. In any event, I wish you would use your utmost endeavor to bring about a settlement of this matter. I cannot make it any stronger, except to say that my interest in him is greater than anything that might come up in the future.

Thanking you for any and everything you can do, I remain
Sincerely, your friend,
T. J. PENDERGAST.

Jerome Walsh, a Kansas City lawyer, is a son of Frank P. Walsh, a nationally known New York lawyer, formerly of Kansas City and now one of counsel for Tom Mooney. The elder Walsh, one time publisher of the Kansas City Post, has been active in Democratic politics both in Missouri and New York. In 1931 he was appointed by Gov. Roosevelt chairman of the Power Authority of New York State. He came from New York at the request of Pendergast to defend Lazia when he was finally tried.

Jerome Walsh was elected to the Missouri Legislature from Jackson County in 1926. He was associated with his father in the defense of Lazia.
William T. Kemper of Kansas City is Democratic National Committee man for Missouri. He recently settled for slightly more than 10 cents on the dollar a Government claim for $777,443 additional income tax on profits from a transaction in stocks of the Kansas City, Mexico & Orient Railroad Co., of which he had been receiver.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Postmaster-General James A. Farley, who holds the political post of chairman of the Democratic National Committee, was visibly embarrassed when told that the "Dear Jim" letter from T. J. Pendergast had been found and would be published.

At first he professed surprise that he should be mentioned in the case at all. When it was pointed out to him that interest centered on the fact that the Democratic boss of Missouri had written an intimate personal letter to the Democratic chairman asking the chairman to intercede for a political lieutenant with a criminal record and that the Kansas City District Attorney had told the grand jury and Federal Judge Otis that he had been instructed not to proceed with the prosecution, Farley replied that he had no recollection of having received the Pendergast letter.

"I don't recall having received the letter," he said, "and I certainly took no action."

Farley said that a search had revealed no evidence that the letter had been received at his offices. He explained that around that time last year he was receiving on an average about a thousand letters daily and that only a relatively small number reached his desk. Asked whether in the natural course of events a letter from Pendergast would be shown to him, he replied, "Not necessarily."

Cummings Produces Files to Show
Aids Were Not "Reached."
Attorney-General Homer S. Cummings seemed unperturbed when told about the letter and the present interest in the Lazia case. He spent more than an hour with the Post-Dispatch correspondent going over the bulky file of the case in an effort to show that the Department of Justice had not been "reached" by political influence and that his subordinates had been diligent in the prosecution of Lazia.

His formal statement follows: "The Lazia case rose early in my term of office. His attorney represented to me that Lazia was being unfairly treated and should be given an opportunity to present evidence of his innocence. He requested a conference at which Lazia could explain his side of the story.

"The request was granted in accordance with our policy to give everyone who wants to be heard an opportunity to be heard. Hearings were held in Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 30.—Thomas J. Pendergast, the most powerful political personality in the State of Missouri, admitted today to the writer that he wrote the urgent personal letter, which appears in adjoining columns, beseeching Postmaster-General Farley to stop the prosecution of his friend and lieutenant, John Lazia, for Federal income tax evasion, which had already begun.

Lazia, an ex-convict and deputy political boss, was the dispenser—for a price—of protection for gambling and other illegal resorts, who rose to power through his control of votes of the North Side Italian colony here and who was machine-gunned to death July 10 last.

"Boss" Pendergast's admission more than confirms reports prevalent from the inception of the investigation of Lazia's large and unreported income by the Intelligence Unit of the Internal Revenue Bureau that secret influences were at work to thwart the bureau. It also gave the investigation the strange sequence of events which almost resulted in actually saving the reputed head of Kansas City's underworld from any prosecution at all.

Prosecution Begun in 1933.
The prosecution which was begun in March, 1933, by United States District Attorney, William L. Vandeventer, who issued an information charging Lazia with criminal tax evasion, was thereafter halted by orders from the Attorney-General's office to Vandeventer, and was resumed only when a member of the Federal grand jury protested in open court against the stoppage and was advised by Federal Judge Otis that the grand jury had no superiors in Washington and could proceed with its investigation independent of the Department of Justice.

An indictment and conviction resulted, but Lazia was killed while his appeal was pending.

Significant Chronology.
Pendergast's effectiveness may be judged by the significant chronology of events which follows:

The Intelligence Unit of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, in the ordinary course of its work, discovered evidence of income of about $125,000 unreported by Lazia, and in due time laid its evidence before the District Attorney. The information holding Lazia to the grand jury was based on this evidence.

As is customary, Lazia was immediately informed and invited to explain the unreported income. He at once set forth his investigation to make any cash settlement the Government demanded if that would save him from prosecution, and asked for time.

Within a few days, early in April, Vandeventer received instructions by telephone from a letter from the Attorney-General's office in Washington, that Lazia desired to present explanations and was to have hearings. A series of meetings followed between Vandeventer and the Intelligence Unit men on the one side and Lazia and his attorneys on the other without any satisfactory result so far as Vandeventer

RELIEF CAMPAIGN CHAIRMEN MEET WITH DICKMANN

Plans for Extending Drive to Raise $683,180, Still Needed, Are Being Discussed.

500 SOLICITORS TO CONTINUE WORK

Increased Contributions Are to Be Sought From Persons Giving Between $25 and $250.

Division chairmen and team captains of the United Relief Campaign met today in Mayor Dickmann's office at City Hall to make arrangements for extending the drive in an effort to make up the deficit of $683,180 between the amount contributed and the $2,708,000 goal.

Pledges, when the drive reached its formal conclusion Wednesday, totaled $2,124,820, or 78 per cent of the amount sought. The Mayor asked leaders of the campaign to permit him to take charge of an extended appeal, and assent was quickly given.

About 500 picked solicitors will participate in the effort next week. About 200 of these will be chosen by the Mayor, the rest from the force of several thousand who gave their services to the United Relief Campaign.

Increased Gifts Sought. In the extended campaign a particular effort will be made to obtain increased contributions from about 8000 persons who have given in this and previous years between $10 and $250.

The "rating" plan of directors of the campaign, applied previously only in the larger gifts division, was extended recently to include those who usually give between $10 and $250. There are about 27,000 persons in this classification. Credit men for stores and banks went through the list and selected about 8000 who, they thought, could afford to contribute more than they have been accustomed to give.

Campaign Chairman, Leo C. Fuller, in a statement issued today at United Relief headquarters, expressed concern about the indifference toward the campaign displayed by many persons whose annual incomes are between $5000 and $25,000.

Statement by Fuller. "Much has been said," Fuller stated, "about the grossly inadequate gifts of certain wealthy individuals. Every word that was said was perfectly justified. But it is a mistake to assume that failure of the campaign is the failure of these individuals alone. An equally serious problem is to be found in the indifference response of many salaried and professional men, an indifference, I am sure, which can be based only on failure to realize the desperate situation St. Louis faces in caring for its sick and unfortunate."

The group which gives between $25 and $250, Fuller said, gave $927,120 two years ago, but only $387,721 last year. Excluding, in both years, the contribution of the Police Department, because two years ago its members contributed 10 per cent of their salaries in what amounted to a wage cut, the figures would be $595,120 two years ago, and $305,721 last year. Figures on the present campaign are not yet available, but are not expected to differ greatly from those of last year.

On July 7 the Department sent Vandeventer a form letter instructing him to give precedence to a list of pending cases and the Lazia case was included. Apparently Vandeventer telephoned to the Department asking whether this form letter superseded previous instructions. The Attorney-General said there was no evidence of a written communication from Vandeventer asking this information.

On July 14, Malloy wrote Vandeventer a six-line letter informing him that the July 7 form letter did not supersede previous instructions. When it was pointed out to the Attorney-General that this brief letter when taken alone seemed to bear out the idea that the Department was in no hurry to prosecute, Cummings said that unfortunately it did give that impression.

He thumbed a huge pile of departmental correspondence and insisted that Malloy was keeping a close tab on the case and was diligent for its prosecution. He pointed out that Malloy on Aug. 7 and again on Aug. 17 had inquired as to the status of the case and had instructed Vandeventer to conclude the hearings, and if the facts justified, to proceed to trial.

In both instances, Vandeventer replied that additional evidence had been presented by Jerome Walsh and that the Government's agents had not completed their investigation of this new material.

Concluding his study of the files, the Attorney-General said that the whole he was satisfied with the record his department had made.

On May 10 one of the numerous "conferences" was held and nearly broke up in a row. Vandeventer and the intelligence unit men were unwilling to let the matter rest. On April 13, Vandeventer received another letter from the Attorney-General's office, of much the same nature as the first, and later another letter. The tenor of all these was the same—to suspend pending until the taxpayer had had further opportunity to explain his return.

was under consideration by the accounts of the Government during the month of August. At frequent intervals during this period, a good many people, some of whom were ignorant of the facts in the case, came to the Department of Justice to urge consideration for Lazia. So far as we were concerned it was like water on a duck's back. We had reached the conclusion that Lazia was of the type that did not merit further consideration, and the case came to the Department of Justice to be considered for the course of the case.

Order to Aid Grand Jury. "Although the final report of the agents had not been received when the case came to the attention of the grand jury, the United States Attorney on Sept. 7, was directed to assist the grand jury in a full and complete investigation of the case and to procure an indictment if the facts and the evidence justified such action."

"It is perfectly absurd to assume that political influence or any other improper influence had any influence on the case." Cummings refused to reveal the names of the persons who interceded for Lazia. He said that he had talked with Jerome Walsh on March 31 and accorded the request for a conference just as he would with any other attorney.

He said that to the best of his recollection he had not discussed the case with William T. Kemper, Democratic National Committeeman for Missouri, or Frank P. Walsh.

The Attorney-General's explanation of his mention of the July 1 date was that on that day Assistant Attorney-General Pat Malloy had written to Vandeventer saying that previous conferences had not produced results and instructing the District Attorney to give Lazia and his attorneys a last chance and if this failed to proceed with the trial.

Malloy Correspondence. On July 7 the Department sent Vandeventer a form letter instructing him to give precedence to a list of pending cases and the Lazia case was included. Apparently Vandeventer telephoned to the Department asking whether this form letter superseded previous instructions.

The Attorney-General said there was no evidence of a written communication from Vandeventer asking this information.

In both instances, Vandeventer replied that additional evidence had been presented by Jerome Walsh and that the Government's agents had not completed their investigation of this new material.

Concluding his study of the files, the Attorney-General said that the whole he was satisfied with the record his department had made.

On May 10 one of the numerous "conferences" was held and nearly broke up in a row. Vandeventer and the intelligence unit men were unwilling to let the matter rest. On April 13, Vandeventer received another letter from the Attorney-General's office, of much the same nature as the first, and later another letter. The tenor of all these was the same—to suspend pending until the taxpayer had had further opportunity to explain his return.

FEDERAL AGENTS HUNTING WIDOW OF KILLER NELSON

She Is Thought to Have Been With Dillinger Gangster When He Was Fatally Shot in Fight.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Nov. 30. — Federal agents today hunted Mrs. Helen Gillis, widow of George (Baby Face) Nelson, one of the last of the Dillinger gang.

Through her capture Federal as well as State, county and city officers hoped to bring to justice John Hamilton, thought to have been with Mrs. Gillis when Nelson was fatally wounded late Tuesday in a machine gun fight at Barrington in which Inspector Samuel P. Cowley and Special Agent Herman Hollis were killed.

Mysterious Phone Call. Some officials thought it was she who was responsible for a mysterious telephone call received by Philip Sadowski, an undertaker, which led Federal officers to the discovery of Nelson's body in a ditch near suburban Niles Center.

Unless she was at her husband's side when he and his companion fired at the two Federal officers, she would not have known that Nelson was dead, the officers said. Sadowski is Mrs. Gillis' family undertaker.

Mrs. Gillis is the former Helen Wawrzyniak. She is 21 years old, and is the mother of two children, Arlene, 4, who is at the home of Nelson's mother, Mrs. Mary Gillis, in Chicago, and Ronald, 5, reported living with one of Nelson's sisters in Bremerton, Wash. She formerly had brown hair, but is understood to have bleached it in an attempt to disguise herself. Her husband's real name was Lester Gillis.

On Guard at Morgue. Government agents stood guard at the County Morgue, where Nelson's body lay on the same slab that held the body of John Dillinger. They hoped they might be able to seize Mrs. Gillis there, believing she might try to enter the place for one last glimpse of Nelson, but no trace of her was found.

The search for Hamilton went on. Inspector H. H. Clegg, who flew here from Washington to aid in the investigation of the killings, said the talk of Hamilton being dead was "unfounded rumor."

"We are searching for him," he said, "and will continue to do so until we have absolute evidence that he is dead."

Mrs. Gillis is wanted by authorities of Madison, Wis., on a charge of harboring Dillinger and Tommy Carroll. Both are being sought in connection with the escape from the Little Bohemia lodge in northern Wisconsin. She got an 18-month sentence which was suspended. She is charged with having violated the probation on June 12 and has been a fugitive since.

Government Payments to Widows of Federal Agents. By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. — The Government will pay $96.25 and $73.75 each month to the widows of the two Federal agents killed in the fight with George (Baby Face) Nelson. It was announced today by William Stanley, Assistant Attorney-General. He said each would receive $61.25 and in addition $17.50 for each child. Mrs. Samuel P. Cowley has two children and Mrs. Herman E. Hollis one.

Snow three to 14 inches thick, covered Eastern Arizona mountains. A light snow fell in Northwestern Montana.

Kansas, part of Oklahoma and West Texas had one to three inches of snow.

Falling temperatures accompanied the storm. They ranged from near freezing in this section, to degrees below zero at Leadville, Colo. Textile, Tex., reported the lowest reading in that state, 13 degrees above zero. Bentonville, Ark., reported nine inches of snow.

was concerned. Lazia admitted failure to return income, but insisted that he had not returned it deductibly, he having paid it to other persons, while he told where some of the $125,000 had gone, he steadfastly refused to name the recipient of the bulk of the money, which was what the Government most wanted.

On April 13, Vandeventer received another letter from the Attorney-General's office, of much the same nature as the first, and later another letter. The tenor of all these was the same—to suspend pending until the taxpayer had had further opportunity to explain his return.

THREE ESCAPE ON WAY TO ILLINOIS PRISON

Disarm and Rob Guards Near Richview and Flee in Officers' Auto.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. RICHVIEW, Ill., Nov. 30. — Three prisoners on their way to Chester penitentiary disarmed their guards and escaped in the officers' automobile early today.

The convicts, Ivan Taylor, 22 years old, Roy Colter, a half-breed Indian, 23, and Nicholas Olier, 21, were convicted at Paris, Ill., on charges of robbery, and sentenced to indeterminate terms in the penitentiary.

One of the prisoners obtained a revolver, with which he threatened Deputies Everett Snyder and Robert Mitchell as the automobile neared Richview at 5 a. m. Taking the officers' revolver and $40, the prisoners put the guards out on the highway, State Route 2, and sped away. The automobile, a black Marmion sedan bearing Illinois license 290-562, has not been recovered.

Also forced out of the car were the wife of one of the deputies and the daughter of the other, Taylor, 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighs 180 pounds and has light hair and blue eyes. Colter is 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 140 pounds and has coarse black hair, and blue eyes.

It has not been learned how the prisoner obtained the revolver.

It was proper but he pointed out to the jurors that they are not their superiors, and told them they could investigate anything they saw fit. Well, they went ahead and investigated, vigorously. I wired direct to Attorney-General Cummings, informed him of the situation, asked him what position I should take. He telegraphed me to "render every assistance possible." I went ahead and prosecuted."

W. T. Kemper Says He Never Talked to Farley About Lazia. W. T. Kemper, Democratic National Committeeman, informed by the writer that Pendergast had affirmed the letter to Farley, said he "never talked to Farley about the Lazia case."

Asked whether Pendergast had requested him to do so he replied: "I'd rather not answer that question. I do not want to get into a controversy with Mr. Pendergast."

Kemper subsequently recalled that "know it occurs to me that somebody way back may have asked me about Lazia but I wouldn't try to fix a case like that."

Kemper continued that "Pendergast never personally asked me to talk to Farley."

"Tom Pendergast is my friend," said Kemper, "and I would do anything for him that I felt was reasonable. There are some things he might ask me to do that I might not ask him to do that he might not do."

INQUEST VERDICT CLEARS MAN WHO KILLED FRIEND
Robert Basile Says Edward
M. Joyce Appeared at Dinner, Drunk and Waving Butcher Knife.
GOT A PISTOL FROM BEDROOM, SHOT HIM
Police Department Odd-Job Man a Relative by Marriage—Prosecutor Wants Grand Jury Inquiry.
A coroner's verdict of justifiable homicide was returned today in the case of Edward M. Joyce, round-faced, jovial odd-job maintenance man employed by the Police Department, who was shot and killed yesterday by his friend and relative by marriage, Robert Basile, shoe-worker, at Basile's home, 2929
Madison street.
Basile and three others agreed that Joyce, drunk and belligerent, invaded the Basile home with a butcher knife as the family sat down to Thanksgiving dinner, and was shot when he advanced on Basile as though to attack him. Shot twice in the chest, he died on the way to City Hospital without making a statement.
In a signed statement admitting the shooting, Basile, 34 years old,
said he and his family had just sat down at the table when Joyce entered. Present were Basile's wife and three small children, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Catherine Putnam, and Michael Duffy, 3532 Pace boulevard.
Gets Pistol From Bedroom.
"He came in the back way," Basile said, "and the first I saw him he was coming into the dining room. He had a butcher knife in his hand. He looked at me and said, 'So you're the man that's going to kill me.'"
"I saw he was drunk. I said, 'Oh
t down and put that knife away up to the table and have some dinner.' He kept on talking and waving the knife. I went into the bedroom and got my revolver and he went out into the kitchen."
"I went out after him. I said to him, 'Drop that knife.' Instead he started toward me, and I fired. He fell on the floor and I called the police."
First policemen to arrive found Joyce on his back, apparently unconscious, with a bullet wound in his left hand. Basile turned over to them his revolver, from which two shots had been fired.
Witnesses' Testimony.
At the inquest, Mrs. Putnam told the same story as had been given by Basile of Joyce's invasion of the house, and testified that when it had appeared trouble was imminent, she had gathered up the chilren and had run from the house.
Duffy testified to the same effect, and said that Basile, before going for his revolver, attempted to disarm Joyce and was cut on the right hand. Testimony showed that before entering the house, Joyce had parked his car at the alley gate,
and had left the engine running.
Basile did not take the stand. Assistant Attorney McLaughlin announced he would order Basile's bail bond returned to the grand jury investigates the case.
Widow, Daughter Survive.
Joyce, 44 years old, lived with his wife and daughter, Miss Nellie Joyce, at 1313 North Vandewater avenue. He went to work for the Police Department as a civilian chauffeur in 1924, and returned to work as a maintenance man in April, 1927.
He was known as a sunny, good-natured man, not habitually given to drinking to excess. His wife is an aunt of Mrs. Basile.

bond of matrimony? Wilt thou obey and serve him, love,

Marina's voice was small and soft as, lifting her face to the Archbishop, she replied: "I will."
Flighting of their Troth.
The two then plighted their troth, the Duke repeating after the Archbishop:
"I, George Edward Alexander Edward, take thee, Marina, to be my wedded wife, to have and to hold from this day forward, for richer or poorer, in sickness and in health, to love and to cherish, till death do

dinance; and thereto I plight thee
my troth."
Marina said the same words, substituting her name for that of the Duke, and saying at the end, "I give thee my troth."
The words died away, the bridegroom took the golden wedding ring from the hand of his eldest brother, the Prince of Wales, who though not best man carried out his functions, and placed it on Marina's finger, repeating after the Archbishop:
"With this ring I thee wed, with my body I thee worship, and with all my worldly goods I thee endow;

MAN THREATENED, FRIEND HE SHOT
ROBERT BASILE.

EDWARD M. JOYCE.

In the name of the Father and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.
Amen."
Queen Mary Wipes Eyes.
As the final Prayers were said
Queen Mary brushed her eyes. King George, standing with his hand resting on the hilt of his shining sword, looked straight forward.
A choir of 70 voices chanted melodious "amens" to two prayers that followed, after which the pair moved slowly to the altar, decorated with costly golden plates and
altar pieces.
There they knelt again as the precentor of the abbey choir chanted psalm responses followed by the Lord's Prayers in which mailed slowly to the altar, decorated with costly golden plates and
altar pieces.
After further prayers and the hymn "God Be In My Head," came the Archbishop's address.
At the conclusion of his benediction, the National anthem swelled from the great organ, with the choir and the audience singing with
it. An anthem "Alleluia, Alleluia!" written especially for the occasion followed.
The pair then signed the registers in the chapel of the confes-sors—the Duke wrote simply
"George" and the Princess "Mariana." King George, Queen Mary, Prince and Princess Nicholas of Greece, parents of the bride, and others of the royal families signed after them.
After five minutes, while the huge congregation stood quietly, the pair returned, re-formed for the processions and moved out of the Abbey to go to Buckingham Palace.
Ceremony on Schedule.
Adhering rigidly to the precise schedule the King laid down, the 1500 guests were seated in their assigned places in the Abbey before the royal party arrived.
The kaleidoscopic picture of scar-lets, blues, golds and whites of the assembly, shot through with the glitter of precious stones and the sparkle of medals, changed and shimmered in swift-broken patterns as the guests arose first to acknowledge the arrival of the royal personages and then to join in hymns and prayers during the ceremony.
Not the least picturesque of the man, all in uniform, court dress or evening dress, was the Aga Khan of India, resplendent in his richly embroidered coat and black fez.
Another vivid splash of color was provided by the King's bodyguard,
the so-called "gentlemen at Arms," dressed smartly in scarlet coats, heavily braided dark trousers with wide gold stripes and golden helmet with flowing white plume, who served as ushers and who stood at attention at the nearby altar afterward.
Arrival of Royal Families.
The guests were seated at 10:15
a. m. Then came the members of the royal families with the King and Queen, and their immediate suite arriving last. Meanwhile the clergy, gowned and coped and carrying the staffs and emblems of their office, moved in procession to the altar and took their places.
A minute or more before the arrival of Marina, Kent, with his elder brothers, the Prince of Wales, and the Duke of York, proceeded to the altar steps where he awaited
the bride and her eight bridesmaids.
Marina, a picture of radiant loveliness, entered the west door at 10:58 a. m., clinging to the arm of her father. The bridesmaids fell into line, with eight-year-old Princess Elizabeth, the Duke's niece and 10-year-old Lady Mary Cambridge carrying the ends of Marina's long flowing veil.
The procession then moved to the altar to the accompaniment of the organ's "Trumpet Tune and Air," swinging afterward into the hymn,
"Gracious Spirit, Holy Ghost."
Kent and Marina spoke their

$20,000 FORFEIT,
BUT NO REALTY IN BONDSMAN'S NAME
Joe Lasky Has Lease, Not Fee, to Property He Scheduled in Going Bail
in Three Cases.
Another bond forfeiture, the third in three weeks, stands today against Joe Lasky, professional bondsman who, apparently, is without property to satisfy the forfeitures.
Circuit Judge Baron late Wednesday forfeited a $10,000 bond Lasky
had signed for Michael Novack, charged with first degree robbery,
who failed to appear in court when his case was called.
Two bonds of $5000 each which Lasky had signed for Ralph Oakes
and William Evans were forfeited Nov. 9 by Judge Butler, when they failed to appear in Court of Criminal Correction for preliminary hearing on larceny charges.
Lasky, when he signed the bond for Novack last Sept. 29, qualified for $25,000, listing himself as the owner of stores and tenements in the 1100 block of North Fifteenth street. Investigation by the Clerk of the Circuit Court for Criminal Cases has disclosed, however, that Lasky does not own the fee to that property, but only the leasehold.
In ordering the forfeiture Wednesday, Judge Baron said the taking of such bonds was a "travesty on justice." The Circuit Attorney's office, he said, lacks the power to correct the evil.
"Unless the Legislature remedies
this bond matter," Judge Baron said, "situations of this kind will become more and more frequent.
Taking of bonds of this character is the greatest stimulant crime has."
Novack, a former convict, was charged with holding up Miss Anna Holthaus, an employee of the Lynn Meat Co., last July 2, and robbing her of $917. His bond was approved by Judge Dickmann in Court of Criminal Correction. Judge Butler approved the bonds Lasky signed for Oakes and Evans. vows while the bridesmaids stood in two files in the aisle.
Remarks of the Archbishop.
Referring to the fact that radio made it possible for vast multitudes to listen to the ceremony, the Archbishop said "the whole nation, nay,
the whole empire, are wedding guests."
"We all wish you happiness, but our wishes cannot give it. Nor can it come from outward circumstances. It can only come from yourself. . . . You cannot choose what changes and chances await you in coming years. But you can choose the spirit with which you meet them."
Probably the most nervous man at the Abbey wedding was the Prince of Wales, although he carried out his duties—taking Marina's bride bouquet from her hands, passing to the bridegroom the ring, handing to his father his plumed hat at the close of the ceremony—
with briskness and efficiency.
In contrast to the calmness of the Duke of York, Wales fingered the collar of his uniform, looked to the right and the left at the guests, hitched up his belt and turned the pages of his program.
Intricate Greek Ceremony.
A short time after the state wedding at the Abbey the pair sealed their troth again with the ancient and symbolical Greek Orthodox ceremony in the private chapel of Buckingham Palace.
Archbishop Strinopoulos Germanos, head of the Greek church in England, officiated at the second ceremony. The scent of incense filled the chapel as Marina and George, under the eyes of their kinsmen, performed the intricate ceremony.
The Archbishop wore his magnificent robes of office and his black-velvet headpiece. A heavy chain supported the massive emblem of office at his throat.
The pair entered the chapel bearing lighted tapers. The Archbishop awaited them at a table in the middle of the room, on which was a large Bible decorated with gold and silver. Gold and silver candlesticks, a cross of precious metal,
two rings, two crowns and red wine
for the wedding cup were neatly arranged on the table.
Two children at either side held lighted tapers.
"Office of the Betrothal."
Facing the Archbishop, "the man on the right and the woman on the left" as the ritual prescribed, Kent and Marina heard a litany and prayer, after which came the "office of the betrothal" in which the exchange of rings was effected.
The Archbishop first blessed the rings, handing one first to the bridegroom and saying:
"The servant of God, the Duke of Kent, is betrothed to the servant of God, Princess Marina, in the name of God, the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost.
Amen."
With the ring he made the sign of the cross over the bridegroom's head. A similar ritual for the bride followed, the words of the betrothal
then being pronounced three times to both the Duke and his bride and the Archbishop afterward placing the rings on the third finger of their right hands.
"Office of the Crowning."
A longer ceremony, the "office of the crowning" followed, in which each of the two was crowned three times by the Archbishop as he repeated words similar to those of the betrothal ritual.
As this was completed, the Prince of Wales interchanged both the rings and the crowns three times,

Titled Pair Said to Have Parted

MARCHESA CARIGNANI
RESIDING IN RENO
Ex-St. Louisan Expected to Seek Divorce from Italian Nobleman.
By the Associated Press.
RENO, Nev., Nov. 30.—The Marchessa Carignani, formerly Miss Mary Denman Clark of St. Louis, has established a residence here presumably for the purpose of obtaining a divorce from Marchese Giovanni Carignani.
She could not be reached to comment on divorce reports. She has been in Reno several weeks.
The Marchessa Carignani is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLure Clark, 15 Hortense place, granddaughter of the late John Scullin and niece of Harry Scullin, St. Louis Excise Commissioner and president of the Scullin Steel Co.
Her marriage to the Italian nobleman took place at Florence in June, 1926. He was connected with the diplomatic service of his Government.
She made her debut in St. Louis in 1921 and became a member of the Junior League and the Imperial.
In St. Louis she attended Sacred Heart convent, continuing her education at Eden Hall, Philadelphia, and a French school in the East.
A benediction was spoken meanwhile.
The Greek Orthodox ceremony
also included the ritual of the drinking of the wine. The Archbishop blessed the cup and the wine, then passed it first to the bridegroom and afterward to the bride, both of whom drank of it.
The final ceremony was that in which the Duke and his bride, escorted by two priests and the Prince of Wales, circled the table while the choir, without musical accompaniment, chanted hymns. The procession ended in front of the table, where the Archbishop spoke a few words of advice, gave his final blessing and said a special prayer.
The Wedding Breakfast.
The wedding breakfast thereafter was served to 120 guests, some five wedding cakes providing the center of attraction. The largest was cut with the Duke's sword.
Outside Buckingham Palace thousands clamored for a sight of the Duke and his new Duchess. When they appeared on the balcony, waving their hands, the ovation was lengthy and vigorous. Then King George and Queen Mary appeared beside them to the accompaniment of more cheers. The King lifted up his little granddaughter, Princess Margaret Rose, and she waved her hands to the shouting spectators.
When the Duke and Duchess left for Paddington Railway station and train to Himey, Staffordshire,
the Prince of Wales and the Duke and Duchess of York threw silver shoes and rose petals at the departing pair, who rode in an open carriage pulled by four horses. The pair went through streets crowded with spectators who cheered them until they disappeared into a train compartment and left the city.

MAN AND WOMAN ARE IDENTIFIED
Five Found Dead in Pennsylvania, It Is Learned, Are Members of California Family.
By the Associated Press.
CARLISLE, Pa., Nov. 30. — Authorities were convinced today that the bodies of three young sisters found last Saturday in the mountains near here and of a man and woman fatally shot in a shack near Altoona were those of Elmo J.
Noakes of Roseville, Cal., his niece, Winifred Pierce, 18 years old, and his three daughters, Cordelia, 8, Dewilla, 10, and Norma, 12.
State police investigators said the man killed his daughters by suffocation, laid their bodies under a blanket on the mountainside and later shot his niece and killed himself at a railroad shanty at Duncanville, about 100 miles farther west. The motive, however, was lacking.
"Suffocation by external means"
was announced by Coroner A. E.
Haegle at noon today as the official cause of the girls' death. Police said the deaths of the man and woman was "murder and suicide."
Major C. M. Wilhelm, deputy superintendent of State police, said it has been established that the man bought a rifle in a loan shop at Altoona, a few miles from Duncanville. It also has been established that the man and woman were killed by this rifle, Wilhelm
said.
R. U. Noakes prepared to leave Roseville, Cal., for Pennsylvania to claim the bodies of the five persons, convinced they are the remains of his brother, and his brother's three daughters and niece.
Police Officer William Elem at Roseville said items serving to identify the five had been verified. He declared articles of clothing found on the bodies checked with those of the family and also that Miss Pierce had a deformed foot similar to that of the dead woman.
Clew to Identification.
It was the finding of an abandoned automobile at McVeytown, midway between Carlisle and Duncanville, that provided the clew to identification of the bodies. By means of the automobile's serial number, the police in Roseville learned that the car was sold to Noakes on Oct. 31 by a Sacramento dealer. They learned further that Noakes, a fruit shipping company employee, had left his home in Roseville either on Nov. 11 or 12 with his niece and his daughters without collecting two weeks' pay due him.
Strengthening the chain of clews were five sets of initials scribbled
in a childish hand on a mirror found in the abandoned automobile.
These initials were "N. S. N." "C.
N." "W. P." "E. J. N." and "D. N." corresponding with the initials of Noakes, his niece and his three daughters.
Another bit of evidence supporting the identification was the name
"Norma" scrawled on a page of a book found in a leather bag picked up on the mountainside where the liger gangster, Nelson, whose three girls were found dead.

The family disappeared from home two full weeks before the girls were found dead and in ample time to reach Waynesboro, where the roving family was first seen on Nov. 17.
"Nothing to Worry About."
The brother in Roseville said he knew no reason why Noakes left home so suddenly, as he had seen him only a day or two before he left town and Noakes had said he "had nothing to worry about."
The disappearance of the niece was reported at the time by her brother, Russell Pierce, who, like Noakes' brother, said he had received no word from the family.
Pierce disclosed that for some time after the death of Noakes wife in Salt Lake City two years ago, Mrs. Hugh Pierce, mother of Miss Pierce, had cared for the three children. Last summer Miss Pierce began keeping house for Noakes, quitting high school after two years.
ATTEMPT MADE TO ROB
VAULT OF TRUST COMPANY
Invaders Enter Building Through Second Floor Window and Smash Way Into Banking Room.
Evidences of an attempt by burglars to rob the vault of the Easton-Taylor Trust Co., 4474 Easton avenue, were found this morning by a janitor. The invaders had cut through a ceiling and dropped to the top of a steel and concrete vault, which is burglar proof.
A policeman, called by the janitor, found a hatchet, chisel, punches and gunny sacks on the top of the vault. Investigation showed the invaders had entered a dance hall above the bank through a back window, and had smashed their way through the floor into the banking room below. The burglary attempt was made some time between Wednesday evening and this morning.

ROOSEVELT'S HOLIDAY AT WARM SPRINGS, GA.
President Carves 40-Pound
Turkey and Judges Singing Contest Among Tables.
By the Associated Press.
WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 30.
—The President and Mrs. Roosevelt observed last night the tenth anniversary of his coming to Warm Springs to take treatment for infantile paralysis at an informal dinner. The dining room of the new Georgia hall was filled with patients, mostly children, and their families.
In a brief talk the President told of his arrival here in the fall of 1924 to try exercises in the warm waters. He told of helping to establish a foundation. He hinted of a "larger family here" as a result of yesterday's meeting of the trustees.
Mary Grimley, 6 years old, of Moorestown, N. J., sat at the right of the President at the head table, and Peter Woodberry, 8, of Manchester, N. H., sat at the left of Mrs. Roosevelt. Ten other children who were the lucky ones at at-drawing had seats at the table.
The President carved the 40-pound turkey sent him by Mrs.
Elizabeth Warr, 97, of Lamar County, Georgia.
During the dinner there was a singing contest as each of the four long tables tried "Sweet Adeline."
The President was asked to be the judge and he quickly replied:
"There is no question which table is best—table number two."
The President spent the afternoon yesterday with the trustees of Warm Springs Foundation.
John C. Hegeman of New York introduced the President at the dedication of Kress Hall, named after three brothers, Samuel, Claude
and Rush Kress of New York City, whose contribution made possible
the completion of the dormitory building.
In his remarks dedicating Kress Hall, the President said the new unit was an example to other groups throughout the nation to "carry the torch of the handicapped and crippled wherever they may be."
He continued: "To these buildings will come, we hope for many generations, people, especially children, who will be greatly helped along the road of life. Warm Springs is doing much for them today, but even in the future Warm Springs can never hope to give help here to more than a small fraction of those who need help. Ours, therefore, must ever be the greatest aim —to maintain here the example of the right way of giving help so that throughout our land other groups and other buildings may carry the torch of the handicapped and cri-pled wherever they may be."

DEFENSE OF THE NEGRO AT BRAZILIAN PARLEY

Medical, Cultural and Artistic Group Pleads Against Discrimination.

By the Associated Press.

PERNAMBUCO, Nov. 30. — The National Scientific and Cultural Congress went on record here recently against discrimination directed at the Brazilian Negro since his emancipation 46 years ago.

A resolution adopted by the congress called for recognition of the Negro's contribution and extolled his "great influences" in art and culture. There should be no discrimination against a Negro, mulatto or quadroon by reason of his race, it said.

The resolution came at the closing session of a four-day Afro-Brazilian congress attended by many medical, cultural and artistic authorities of the country. Among conspicuous members of the congress were Dr. Ulysses Pernambucano, noted psychiatrist, and two aged tribal fathers of Negro ritualistic groups.

One of the fathers, Pae (Father) Anselmo, told interviewers there should be no objection to African ritualism in a country priding itself on religious freedom. The congress in its final resolution called on Brazilian authorities not to interfere with the rites which are known to be held regularly and clandestinely throughout the country under cover of night away from urban centers.

Pae Anselmo, whose title of "Babalorixa" in the African dialect of his sect means father in the religious sense, drew comparisons with the accepted religions of the Western world and said that within the rites of his faith he, too, had baptized children and that there was in his jungle belief a hierarchy comparable in structure to the Roman curia.

He declared that the congress had served an unusual purpose in "guaranteeing to us our birthright to practice our own religion." Police would not disturb Negro gatherings in the forest any longer, he said.

An example of the jungle rites was afforded each night after the day's session. At a single gesture of Pae Anselmo hundreds of Negro men and women, dressed in motley color and turbaned, would arise from quiet, squatting postures and walk slowly to the tree-surrounded fields. Then began a tom-tom dance lasting for hours.

Suddenly a vibrant shape in white silk would spring into the center and beat about the ground. Then, at a shout from Pae Anselmo, an old woman would shuffle out of the winding circle and, with a white cloth in her hands, entwine the girl as she dropped exhausted to the ground. The girl's evil spirit had been chased out of her body, an on-looker explained.

NEW PREMIER OF FRANCE WAS WAR FLYER IN 1914

Flandin Champion of Aviation Development; Still Member of Air Reserves.

PARIS, Nov. 30. — In Pierre-Etienne Flandin, France has the most alrmined Premier in her history and now has two Cabinet members who can fly their own planes. These are Flandin and Gen. Denain, the Air Minister.

A licensed pilot in 1912 at the age of 23, Flandin was a war aviator in 1914, participating in the French operations on the Yser. He still holds his license and is an officer in the air reserve. All through his political life he has been champion of development of French aviation.

An enthusiastic sportsman, he drives his own car and likes to play tennis with his wife and children. Not only is he the tallest man in his Cabinet—he stands almost 6 feet 6 inches—but he is the youngest member and one of the youngest Premiers in the history of the third republic. Flandin is 45 years old.

In the Post-Dispatch of November 15, we advised that the 1935 Arvin Auto Hot Water Heater, $4.95—Superior Model and 1934 Arvin "Superior" Auto Hot Water Heater $4.95.

We regret that the wording of this advertisement was misleading. The Arvin is a trade-named heater made by the Hamilton-Walsh Manufacturing Co. of St. Louis. It is made by the same manufacturer as the Hamilton-Walsh heater. It should not be confused with the Arvin, which is a heater made by the Hamilton-Walsh Manufacturing Co. of St. Louis.

Another Meeting to Be Held Next

erential Contract.
Union laundry drivers, whose present wage contract expires tomorrow, will continue working pending further negotiations with employers, union representatives stated today.
Another meeting of the negotiators will be held Tuesday. The drivers, who are seeking a preferential contract at no change in base pay or hours, have voted authority to their leaders to call a strike if negotiations are broken off.

$150 Holdup in Cigar Store.
Benjamin Goldman, proprietor of a cigar store at 3218 Easton avenue,
and James Beny, Negro customer, were bound with rope by two robbers, who entered the store with drawn revolvers at 9 o'clock last night. The robbers took $150 from the cash register, $5 from Beny's pockets and fled. The victims freed themselves and called police.

POLICE OFFICIAL, 9 OTHERS ACCUSED OF RELIEF FRAUD

Special St. Clair County Investigator Urges Prosecution in Six Separate Cases.

Informations charging 10 persons in six separate relief cases with obtaining money and property under false pretenses from the St.
Clair County Relief Administration have been requested from State's Attorney Zerweck of Belleville, it was disclosed today in the report of Fred D. Moore, special relief investigator, adopted by the St. Clair County Board of Supervisors.

The persons against whom prosecution is being sought include a police official and a policeman of a St. Clair County village and an O'Fallon (Ill.) woman.
Since the beginning of his investigation two months ago, Moore's report says, records made public by the relief administration office shows that 1005 families have been dropped from relief rolls and restitution is being made by 14 persons who obtained relief fraudulently.
Moore still has 173 reported cases of fraud to be investigated, he said.

Case Against Official.
In the case against the police official Moore submitted a photostatic copy of a relief order for the official, dated last Nov. 1, and records to show he was appointed to his office last August. He points out in his report that the relief station for the village was on the same premises as the police headquarters and three relief workers, who he recommends be prosecuted for conspiracy, must have known the police official was not entitled to relief.

Moore also charges that a patrolman in the same village has received relief since his appointment to the department with his superior officer.
In another case, Moore submitted evidence to show that a Belleville lumber truck driver, who earned from $25 to $35 a week, got a relief card and gave it to a friend to obtain relief payments. The truck driver has admitted the fraud.
Moore says, and is making restitution of the relief payments.

Evidence that a father and two sons, employed in an O'Fallon stove plant, earned $418 during August and September, and the father received relief payments during that earning period, also was presented to Zerweck. The father was taken off the relief rolls when he started investigating the case, Moore reports.

Says Woman Was Employed.
The O'Fallon woman is charged by Moore with receiving relief for herself and three dependents since last July, although a member of the household owned a saloon during the relief period, was regularly employed as a miner, and the woman herself was employed in the saloon.
Moore said they still are getting relief payments.

Another information sought by Moore is against a farmer living on a rent-free farm owned by a corporation, by which he was employed at an average weekly wage of $19. He was placed on relief last April, and up until a month ago when his case was reported, he drew $110, Moore said. The farmer also had a crop income from the land.

The board also adopted two resolutions submitted by Moore. One is to give him the right to obtain relief information from the files of the relief administration office in charge of Miss Claudine Rodgers, administrator. Moore pointed out that having no access to these records hampered his investigations.
The other resolution provides that reports be made to the board of persons who are making restitution of relief funds fraudulently obtained.

The resolutions are directed to the newly appointed St. Clair County Relief Committee, which has power to assist in relief administration and could grant Moore's requests.

cuit Judge Hogan today, on his plea of guilty of robbery.

was fatally burned and her mother, Mrs. Mary Lichte, 44, suffered serious burns when fire destroyed their band, Alford Lichte, suffered minor jury and fractured left leg suffered yesterday when he was struck by tween two parked machines into the

PHYSICISTS IN CITY FOR NATIONAL MEETING

Sessions Held In Crow Hall at Washington U.—Dinner
Tonight.

Many of the country's foremost physicists are in St. Louis today for the 194th meeting of the American Physical Society at Washington University on the occasion of the formal opening of Wayman Crow Hall, the new $257,000 home of the university's department of physics. About 150 members of the society attended.

This morning Chancellor Throop told of the life of the man for whom the building was named, an early benefactor of the university, who obtained its charter in 1853, and Prof. Arthur L. Hughes, head of the department of physics, described the department's work. The department was established after Mr. Crow, a dry goods merchant, donated $25,000 in 1881 to endow a professorship in physics. The late Dr. Francis Eugene Nipher, was appointed in 1875.

The program for this afternoon was devoted to discussion of technical papers, with a dinner meeting to be held tonight at 7 o'clock at Hotel Chase.

Featuring the scientific program, a symposium on X-ray scattering will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. This subject was chosen because of outstanding work done here in that field and because of the elaborate equipment for research in X-rays at Crow Hall. The speakers will include Prof. W. H. Zachariasen of the University of Chicago, Prof. G. E. M. Jauncey and Prof. E. O. Wollan, both of Washington University, and Prof. G. W. Stewart of Iowa State University.

The meeting is in charge of Prof. R. W. Wood of Johns Hopkins University, vice-president, in the absence of the society's president, Arthur H. Compton of the University of Chicago, who is at Oxford University, England, under an exchange professorship. He was formerly Wayman Crow professor. The sessions will close tomorrow afternoon, after the reading of additional technical papers.

Eugene S. Coleman, graduate student in physics, was selected by graduate students last night to represent them at the meeting. He is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh.

Construction of Wayman Crow Hall was begun in the summer of 1933 and completed about a year later. It was made possible by two anonymous gifts totaling $700,000. Of the remainder of this fund, $38,000 has been set aside for maintenance of the building and $350,000 for furthering teaching and research work of the department.

The structure, in the Tudor Gothic style of architecture conforming to the design of other main buildings of the university, is on the main campus, north of Cupples Hall No. 1. Built of native Missouri granite and Bedford limestone, it is 175 feet long and varies in width from 52 to 105 feet. It is the first unit of a proposed group of engineering buildings, for which plans have been made.

The ground or basement floor contains research rooms for the regular staff and advanced students. Library, offices and class rooms are on the first floor, the second floor containing the main laboratories.

Experiments necessitating even temperatures and freedom from earth vibration, are carried on in an artificially ventilated sub-basement, 33 by 66 feet in dimensions. Above the second story is a large tower, affording, through shafts to the sub-basement, opportunity for experiments with falling bodies.

Floors are covered with rubber tiling to lessen noises. Another unusual feature are pipes in five colors to designate the five substances carried, such as steam, gas and water.

Equipment of the lecture rooms is designed for convenience and efficiency. Gas outlets are spaced along the lecture table, with compressed air and vacuum attachment available. At the lecturer's side of the table are switches controlling the electrical circuits in the room.

Lecture rooms are heated and ventilated by a special system, and window shades are raised and lowered by electricity.

We didn't plan this climax to our exciting Overcoat Parade. We were forced to it! You've probably heard about the crowds we've had here, for this event. You can imagine what they did to our stocks. Overcoats at $22 were getting scarce. And staring us in the face, the biggest day of all—this next Saturday, right before Thanksgiving. Emergency measures were necessary. Heavy drafting of higher-priced overcoats simply had to be made. And was! There'll be no disappointments for men who planned to attend Bond's Overcoat Parade this week-end. On the contrary there'll be extra dividends—extra savings! Expensive Bolton Fleeces and MacGregor Meltons don't belong in anybody's stock at $22—but that's all they're going to be in this rousing climax. When they're gone, our Overcoat Parade is over. WORSHIPERS IGNORE FIRE

By the Associated Press.
TOWSON, Md., Nov. 30.—As firemen fought a fire in the basement of the Catholic Church of the Immaculate here yesterday, most of the 150 people, although seeing the smoke seeping through the building, remained in their seats to the end of the service.

The Rev. Stephen Helzlsouer

completed the mass he was celebrating before he swooned from the thick smoke. He was taken to the adjoining rectory and was revived. Two fire companies brought under control the fire, which was confined to the basement under the altar. The damage was estimated at $500. A fireman also was overcome.

BUSINESS SHOWS UPWARD TREND IN ST. LOUIS AREA

But Rail Traffic and Steel Slumped From October 1933, Federal Reserve Report Says.

DEPARTMENT STORE SALES INCREASE

Sales of Shoes, Clothing, Dry Goods and Hardware Are Up; Furniture, Groceries Down.

A general upward trend of business in the Eighth Federal Reserve District through October and the first half of November was reported by the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis in its monthly review issued today.

Although favorable factors predominated in the statistical data gathered by the bank, some industries slipped below the levels of a year ago, notably railroad freight traffic, steel production and production and sale of building materials.

Demand for consumer merchandise was active and sales of department stores in the leading cities of the district in October, measured in dollar volume, were 5.6 per cent greater than in October, 1933. The effect of price increases was not considered.

Speaking of consumer goods, the report said: "Production of merchandise in this category was at relatively high levels, a number of lines which ordinarily curtail output at this time of year showing less than usual contraction. With few exceptions wholesale and jobbing lines investigated by the bank reported sales in excess of the like periods during the four preceding years."

Steel Mills Show Decrease.
It was different in some other lines of industry, the review finding that "operations at steel mills and certain grey iron foundries decreased, and smaller outputs were reported by manufacturers of glass, lumber, fire-clay products and some other building materials."

As to railroad traffic, it was said operating officials in this district reported the volume in freight had decreased moderately as compared with the corresponding period a year ago. Interchange of loaded cars at St. Louis in October was 72,060 loads compared with 74,384 in October, 1933. Passenger traffic revenue of reporting lines increased 3.14 over a year ago.

In the five largest cities of the district, dollar value of permits for new construction in October was 3.6 per cent greater than in September, but 7.1 per cent less than in October of last year.

Consumption of electricity by industrial users in the five largest cities was seven-tenths of one per cent less than a year ago.

Department Store Sales Up.
Department store sales showed an increase in dollar volume over a year ago in all cities reporting except Evansville, Ind., where the decrease was 9.5 per cent. Increases in percentage were as follows: El Dorado, Ark., 6.3; Fort Smith, Ark., 3.9; Little Rock, Ark., 2.5; Louisville, Ky., 3; Memphis, Tenn., 12.5; St. Louis, 4.8; Springfield, Mo., 14.5; all other cities, 25.9; Eighth District, 5.8.

In the field of finance, bank deposits were reported still increasing, with some recent gain in the demand for commercial loans, but with volume of outstanding loans still below a year ago.

Detailed Summary.
Conditions as reported in various industries were, in brief, as follows:

Shoes—October sales, in dollar volume, 3 per cent greater than a year ago; rather large expansion of demand in the South; plants at relatively high capacity.

Clothing—Sales as compared with a year ago up 22 per cent; demand for work clothing continued steady, but mild weather retarded demand for heavy garments.

Drugs and Chemicals—Some slackening of demand, reversing usual seasonal trend, but demand for holiday goods holding up well; anti-freeze solutions bolstered volume.

Dry Goods—October sales increased 9 per cent over a year ago, but were lower than in September, following seasonal trend.

Electrical Supplies—Month to month improvement continued, the October volume being about 32 per cent greater than in the corresponding month a year ago; small motors and household appliances in strong demand.

Furniture—"A further decline in activities in this classification was indicated by the reporting firms, October sales decreasing 2 per cent from September and about one-third from October, last year."

Groceries—Slight falling off contrary to seasonal trend; attributed to unusually warm weather.

Good Hardware Demand.
Hardware—October sales, largest since September, 1933; better demand in rural areas.

Iron and Steel—Some improvement in demand from makers of stoves and farm implements, but activity generally "spotty"; output through building industry showed no broadening tendencies. Fabricators of structural iron and steel are dependent chiefly on public works projects."

Automobiles—Business was spotty and seasonably lower, but sales of new passenger cars were about 12 per cent greater than a year ago. Agriculture—Weather continued favorable for maturing and harvesting of crops; prices remained on higher level, with favorable effect on purchasing power of farmers.

Noted English Engineer Dies.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Sir Robert William Perks, 85 years old, civil engineer who was associated with the building of docks at Manchester, Buenos Aires, and Alexandria and the building of the Trans-Andean Railway in South America, died today.

Two Drowned in Auto.
 WESTFIELD, N. Y., Nov. 30.—
 Mr. and Mrs. George L. Ferguson of Cleveland, O., were drowned near Ripley, N. Y., yesterday when their automobile left the highway and was submerged in a small stream. Coroner William P. Crandall of Westfield said Ferguson apparently failed to make a turn in the road about a mile north of Ripley and the car struck a culvert. It rolled down an embankment and into the creek.

sider depreciation on mains in making certain deductions from the rate base, had not taken into consideration the abandonment of certain property or nonuse of some of the land, and had not considered facts relating to going value which should have resulted in decreasing
 the allowance for this item.
$12,000,000 Cut in Valuation.

In scaling down the former valuation, plus net additions to it, by nearly $12,000,000 the Commission did not set out all of the changes in detail. After reviewing the evidence, and making numerous findings, the Commission stated it had considered all of the elements entering into a valuation, including future trends, and was of the opinion the fair value of the property,
 used and useful in public service,
 was $39,000,000.

However, the Commission made sharp reductions based on findings that part of the property now was not used and useful in the public service. This non-use largely arises from a change by the company about three years ago from sale of straight artificial gas to sale of a mixture of artificial and natural gas, and other changes in operations.

After finding the reproduction
 cost of all of the structural items of property was $49,000,000, the Commission threw out $2,846,954 of such property as not used. After the fair market value of the company land was fixed at $3,085,020,
 the Commission found only $1,749,- 944 represented land used in public service.

Although the Commission did not make a separate going value finding, analysis of its general findings indicated that about $3,000,000 was cut out of the old going value allowance of $5,818,000. Sharp reductions were made in some of the overheads.

Board's Comment on Cuts.
 Commenting on its reductions, the commission said the actual investment of the owners was considerably less than the valuation fixed.
 "The investment in used and non-used property is approximately $34,- 000,000 and the investment in the property now used in public service is approximately $30,000,000," the commission stated. "To this should be added the allowance for cash working capital and materials and supplies, approximately $1,600,000.
 A return of 6 1/2 per cent on $39,- 000,000 is equivalent to a return of 8 per cent on the investment of $31,600,000."

The commission rejected a company contention that if some of the items of property were classified as non-used, their value should be amortized over a reasonable period;
 likewise a suggestion for inclusion in the rate base of some property which would not be needed until about 1940.

"The result of following such a course," the commission said, "simply is to pay back to the investors
 the present value of the non-used property and then, should this equipment again be needed in the future, to include its value at that time in the rate base, even though the investor has been fully reimbursed therefor. We are not disposed to require the present consumers to pay a return on property which will not be used or necessarily useful for many years."

At another point the commission said: "We do not believe that property which we know cannot be used at this time should be retained in the rate base."

Depreciation Allowance.
 In fixing the annual depreciation allowance, the commission said it was not designed to provide for unusual retirements caused by replacement of service by another type of service, such as replacement of gas street lights by electric lights, or other changes in the art of making gas, or the discovery of a different source of supply, such as the introduction of mixed or natural gas in St. Louis.

"The allowance we are making is for the gradual wearing away
 of the plant," the commission said.
 "Sudden changes as enumerated above are hazards of the industry and result in a loss to the investor unless the change benefits the consumer by offering him the same service at a lower rate or a better service at the same rate, in which case the superseded property should be amortized out of the rates paid by the consumer. In the latter case the consumer benefits and therefore should pay for the change. In the former, where the abandonment does not result in any advantage to the consumer,
 the loss occasioned by the abandonment must be sustained by the investor."

"If natural gas had been brought to St. Louis and the consumer served with straight natural gas at much lower rates than he paid for manufactured gas, it would have been proper to amortize the value of the manufacturing facilities out of the savings. The introduction of natural gas for mixing purposes has not resulted in any appreciable savings to the consumer and the consumer should, therefore, not be charged with any amount for the amortization of the units of property which we have classified as not used in public service at the present time."

"One of Hazards of Game."
 "The Supreme Court in its decision remanding this case to us specifically sets out that no allowance for amortization should be made where the property suddenly goes out of service because of changes in the art. That is one of the hazards of the game."

In making its estimates of the probable revenues of the company in 1935, and making numerous adjustments in the revenue and operating expense forecasts submitted in evidence, the commission said
 the domestic and industrial users should not be burdened with the carrying charges of additional property which made necessary to serve heating customers. Company witnesses testified they anticipated

an increase in house heating and industrial sales of gas next year.

In this connection the company
 suggested revision of the heating and industrial rates, to stimulate use and increase the revenues.

"We are of the opinion," the commission said, "that whatever rate reductions are made should apply primarily, to the domestic and commercial consumers because we are aware that the industrial and heating rates are promotional rates and based on competition."

The commission estimated the company's operating revenues for 1935 at $8,256,688, and operating expenses at $4,873,011. After giving effect to the reductions ordered,

 the commission estimated the company would earn the $3,035,000 that would be required for depreciation and the 6 1/2 per cent return.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

WOMAN FINED ON CHARGE OF DRUNKEN DRIVING

Her Car Collided With Two Other Machines Near Municipal Courts Building.

Rovella Vaughn, Negro, was fined $200 in police court today on charges of careless driving and driving when intoxicated.

Folliemmen testified that an automobile she was driving collided with two other machines on Market street, near the Municipal Courts Building, last Friday. The officers said she was intoxicated when they arrested her. She lives east 3403 Franklin avenue.

Fred Johnson, Negro, 5851 Plymouth avenue, was fined $100 for leaving the scene of a collision between his automobile and a street car. William Merriman, Negro, 3110 Pine boulevard, was fined $50 for leaving the scene of an accident and $25 for careless driving.

CITY TO BEGIN NEGOTIATIONS FOR BOND REFUNDING

$2,533,000 in Obligations Due Next Year—Nolte to Confer With Bankers on Plan.

While immediate revenue problems of the city were expected to be solved by two ordinances to raise an additional $900,000 annually, which Mayor Dickmann announced he would sign tomorrow, Comptroller Nolte has been authorized to negotiate with the banks for refunding of $2,533,000 in bonds falling due next year.

The bills to be signed by the Mayor called for increasing the city gasoline tax from one-half to one cent a gallon and the merchants' and manufacturers' taxes from $1 to $1.25 per $1000 on sales and from $1.25 to $1.50 per $100 on stock. They were passed by the Board of Aldermen Tuesday, but the Mayor deferred signing them in order to have the gasoline tax increase become effective on the first of the month. These measures will be in effect when approved by the Mayor.

Revenue for Bond Fund.

Income from the additional taxes will be devoted to paying interest and principal of $3,500,000 of the $16,100,000 in improvement bonds voted last May, but not issued under a ruling of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. The revenue from the additional merchants' and manufacturers' taxes will be assigned to carry $2,500,000 of the bonds, while the yield of the added one-half cent gasoline tax will be used for a $1,000,000 bond item for a street improvement revolving fund and for paying interest.

The $1,000,000 in revolving fund bonds will be devoted to completing the opening of North Twelfth boulevard, between O'Fallon and Palm streets. President Brown of the Board of Public Service announced he would recommend to his board and to the Board of Estimate the following schedule for the remaining $2,500,000 in new bonds proposed to be issued:

Completing interior of Municipal Auditorium, $900,000; Southern Arsenal Relief Sewer, $500,000; hospitals and other institutions, $380,000; for some work at City Hospital and for plans; new police stations, $350,000; Negro community centers, $150,000; completion of details of Civil Courts Building, $100,000; improvement of Memorial Plaza, $75,000, partly for plans for a war memorial structure; improvement of Union Station Plaza, $25,000; new National Guard armory, $20,000, for plans.

1000 Men May Get Work.

Brown said the much work could be started quickly under this schedule.

CONFESSES PART IN KILLING OFFICERS

FRANCIS McNEILEY, HELD at Columbia, Mo., for the murder of Sheriff Roger Wilsoy and Sgt. Ben Booth of the State highway patrol in a fight in June, 1933. Adam Richetti, former companion of the late "Pretty Boy" Floyd, previously has been in custody at Columbia charged with the killings, but was not named by McNeiley, who said another man was his accomplice.

and that 1000 men could be employed for an average of six months. The auditorium and sewer jobs would require 200 men each. Sites probably would have to be acquired for the Negro community centers and the police stations.

City officials have been hopeful that issuance of the $3,500,000 in bonds would suffice to preserve the city's right to $5,297,000 in PWA grants allotted in connection with the $16,100,000 in bonds voted. There was no grant in connection with one bond item, for grade crossing elimination, so that item was omitted from the immediate program. Only two items, for completion of the auditorium and for the street revolving fund, were included in Brown's list in entirety.

No plans have been made for future issuance of the remaining $12,600,000 in new bonds.

Out of $7,917,786 worth of bonds of earlier issues maturing by the end of next year, the sinking fund, with the help of liquor taxes, will be able to pay off $5,384,786, leaving $2,533,000 to be refunded. The Board of Estimate authorized Comptroller Nolte Wednesday to take up the refunding scheme with bankers.

Bonds to Be Refunded.

The Comptroller proposed to refund the following bonds, all of 1923 issue; $1,566,000 worth, for opening and widening streets, due Feb. 1; $359,000 worth, for sewer construction, due Oct. 1; $608,000 worth, for electric street lights, due Oct. 1. These bonds bore variously 4, 4½ and 4¾ per cent interest.

A Citizens' Committee on City Finance, including bankers in its membership, recommended to Mayor Dickmann two weeks ago that not more than $5,000,000 in bonds maturing by November, 1936, be refunded; that not more than $3,000,000 in bonds of the May issue be sold before November, 1936; that a new issue of relief bonds, to be supported by the Municipal Bridge tolls, be submitted to the voters, and that general expenditures be trimmed in order to balance the city budget in the fiscal year of 1935-36.

City officials, since receipt of this report, have been discussing submission of a $2,000,000 relief bond issue in the municipal election next April. The $4,800,000 in relief bonds voted in 1932 will be exhausted by then. Definite steps for budget balancing have not been taken. A deficit of $1,800,000 in general accounts at the end of the current fiscal year, next April, has been anticipated.

FATHER PARDONED IN KILLING DAUGHTERS WERE ATTACKED

Gov. Ferguson Frees Man Whose Daughters Were Attacked.

By the Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 30.—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson granted a full pardon yesterday to P. A. West of Brewster County, who last August was sentenced to two years in prison in connection with the death of a man accused of improper relations with two of West's daughters.

Gov. Ferguson termed West's conviction a "miscarriage of justice" and said: "As long as such men, beasts in the disguise of manhood, shall attempt to defame and violate the chastity of innocent girls, just so long will red-blooded Americans do what the father of these girls did in this instance."

BOARD APPROVES GROUND DEALS FOR STREET WIDENING

24 Parcels to Be Bought for North Twelfth Boulevard Project.
The purchase of 24 parcels of ground, needed for the widening of North Twelfth boulevard, for $191,950, a saving of $45,450 under the damages awarded by the condemnation commissioners, was authorized Wednesday by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.
The city, considering the awards of the condemnation commissioners too high, has been negotiating with property owners for direct sale of the ground needed. The ground involved in Wednesday's authorization lies between O'Fallon and Palm streets.

More Political Arrests in Peru.
By the Associated Press.
LIMA, Peru, Nov. 30.—Police raided suspicious places in the city Wednesday night, and arrested a number of prominent oppositional politicians who were conferring in a house in a distant quarter, it was announced today. The men were locked up in the penitentiary as were others arrested in Lima and the Provinces.

ANOTHER SEVERE TYPHOON HITS PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

Seven Provinces Isolated From Manila; One Death, $500,000 Damage in Leyte.
By the Associated Press.
MANILA, P. I., Nov. 30.—Another severe typhoon struck the Philippines yesterday, isolating seven provinces in the Central Islands, south and southeast of here. The number of deaths was in doubt, due to meager reports. Three hundred persons have been killed in a series of typhoons in the last three months.
The hurricane reached its most violent pitch in Leyte Island where the wind reached a reported velocity of 125 miles an hour. Only one storm death was reported but damage in the already storm swept province was estimated at $500,000 by Gov. Vincente de la Cruz. Hundreds of flimsy bamboo huts of natives were unroofed and blown over by the gale.
The storm passed far south of Manila. Twelve Red Cross workers left Manila early today for Leyte, where natives were still rebuilding after previous storms.

JOBLESS PLACED AT 550,000 MORE THAN YEAR AGO

Federation of Labor Estimates 10,671,000 Were Without Work in Industry Last Month.

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 201-205 Kellogg Bldg.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The United States is entering the winter with 550,000 more persons out of work than at the same time last year, President William Green of the American Federation of Labor, announced today.

The Federation, Green said, estimated that 10,671,000 persons were without work in industry last month, as compared with 10,122,000 in October, 1933. Business activity last month, he said, was 2.6 per cent below the same month last year, but this, he added, only partly accounted for the increased unemployment because the effort to increase employment has not been as general this year as last.
"The serious implication of this increase in unemployment cannot be overemphasized," Green continued. "Relief need this winter is already higher than it was last year. Reports from urban areas show that in October, 1934, the number on relief rolls was 30 per cent greater than in October, 1933. In August, the latest month for which we have complete figures for relief in the country as a whole there were 900,000 more cases, or nearly 3,000,000 more persons, on relief rolls than in August last year, an increase of 20 per cent."

"The total financial obligation for relief had increased from $61,470,000 to $149,426,000, or more than doubled. This means that, in addition to the increase in unemployment, those who have been unemployed for a long time have exhausted their resources; those who once had savings are now wholly dependent on relief. Food prices have increased and the cost of relief is greater; also, relief in some cases is more adequate."

"Unquestionably, our relief problem this winter is the most serious this nation has ever faced. Trade union unemployment figures show a greater increase in unemployment from October to November this year than last year, and part time in November (first half) is higher than ever before in the history of our figures. In building, water transportation, theaters and all manufacturing groups, there are more on part-time than last year. Thus many of those who have jobs are finding their incomes lower than last year."

"Government emergency work was provided in October as follows: $505,000 PWA, $362,000 on CCC. In addition, an average of 1,392,000 had work each week on the ERA program."

SIX DEMOCRATS WHO WON FILE CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

W. F. Baumann Spent $1810 in Defeating Edmund Koeln for Collector.
Six of the Democrats who were elected to city and State offices in the last election filed their expense accounts Wednesday at the office of the Recorder of Deeds.
The largest was that of William F. Baumann who defeated Edmund Koeln for collector, a position which Koeln had held for 25 years. Baumann said he spent $1810.50 in the campaign, of which $500 was contributed to the Democratic City Committee and the balance went for advertising.
H. Sam Priest, elected circuit clerk, listed his expense at $1377.75, divided as follows: $750 in the primary, $250 to the City Committee, and the balance for advertising. He said 32 contributors donated $1005 to his fund. The largest contribution was one of $350 made by his father, George T. Priest, a member of the Board of Police Commissioners.
Others who filed expense accounts were: Circuit Judge Robert J. Kirkwood, $614.05 of which $450 went to the City Committee; J. Wesley McAfee, Circuit Judge $534.75, of which $400 went to the City Committee; John W. Joynt, Circuit Judge, $804.25, of which $400 to the City Committee; and Harry F. Russell, Circuit Judge, $966.20, of which $450 to the City Committee.

The electric railway circles Vesuvius and is used by thousands of Americans and others who come to Italy. Automobile ambulances carried the injured back to a hospital in the city. Troops and firemen arriving on a relief train aided in extricating the bodies.

French Honey-moon Couple Among Victims; 9 Others Are Injured.
By the Associated Press.
NAPLES, Italy, Nov. 30.—An electric car coursing down the side of Mount Vesuvius, loaded with tourists, left the rails and crashed into an electric power pole Wednesday, killing seven persons and injuring nine.
The car was carrying a tourist party back from a trip to the top of the volcano. The dead included a French honeymoon couple and an Italian guide.

DEMANDS OF PLAYERS BLOCK MOVIE CODE

Rejected Program of Actors' Guild Calls for Basic Eight-Hour Day.

By the Associated Press.
HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Nov. 30.—A 10-point platform, presented by the Screen Actors' Guild and rejected by motion picture producers was disclosed last night to be the stumbling block to an agreement between Hollywood movie players and production heads.

From various sources it was learned the actors' program, which they seek to have incorporated in a proposed NRA code covering dealings between players and production heads, is as follows:

A basic eight-hour day for players hired by the day that shall include travel time to and from location.

Overtime pay for day players and free-lance players.

A 15-hour rest-period between "calls."

No Sunday or holiday work unless compensated for by another day off.

No lending, without the consent of the player, of one contract artist to another studio.

Short-term contracts to run consecutive days, not over an indeterminate period.

Compensation for re-takes made after a picture is finished.

A new standard contract with provision for arbitration of all individual actor-producer disagreements.

Abolition of the "call bureau."

Right of players to represent players in all dealings with producers, including matters not related to fixing of salary and obtaining of roles.

The last three points are regarded as being the essential matters of disagreement.

The "call bureau" is a clearing house, operated by major producers, for contract players, just as the Central Casting Bureau is a general callist for "extras."

Actors long have complained that the existence of the "call bureau" is unfair to players, tending to keep salaries down. Its list, they declared, carries the name of every top-ranking actor and actress, his or her last salary, and all other salaries.

WOMAN KILLED BY HUNTER

RANDOLPH, Vt., Nov. 30.—Mrs. Lawrence Pratt, 34 years old, of Gaysville was killed yesterday and her brother-in-law, Eben Proctor, was wounded by a bullet apparently fired by a hunter who mistook them for a deer.

The pair were walking down a ravine near the Pratt home when the bullet struck, passing through Mrs. Pratt's neck and then striking Proctor. Mrs. Pratt is survived by her husband and five children.

JOHN WANAMAKER JR. DIES; ILL TEN DAYS

Grandson of Noted Merchant
Known as a Speed Boat
Racer and Sportsman.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—John Wanamaker Jr., 44 years old, grandson of John Wanamaker, founder of the Wanamaker stores in New York and Philadelphia, died yesterday of a cerebral hemorrhage after an illness of 10 days.

Known as a speed boat racer and sportsman, he was recently elected president of the American Power Boat Association. A year ago his speed boat Louisa finished second in the international races on Lake Garda, Italy.

He rose to the rank of captain in the World War, serving first in the Seventy-eighth Division and later as a member of the staff of Gen. Pershing. After the war he was assigned to President Wilson's entourage in France in charge of transportation and communication service.

In 1931 he was knighted by the French Legion of Honor for Services to the French Government during and after the war.

Born in Paris, the son of Rodman Wanamaker, he was educated in Philadelphia. Then he entered his grandfather's business, with which he was actively engaged until his death.

In 1917 he married Pauline Disston. They had two children, John Rodman Wanamaker, 16, and Fernanda, 13. They were divorced in August, 1932, in Reno in a suit contested by Mrs. Wanamaker. She charged he deserted her in 1926.

Before he went to Reno to seek the divorce his wife obtained a preliminary injunction restraining him from going there to marry his cousin, Mrs. Elizabeth Peltz Warburton, divorced from Ceverton Warburton of Philadelphia. However, he married his cousin the day he obtained his decree.

The injunction was dissolved, but the first Mrs. Wanamaker appealed to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania last Tuesday to set aside the order of dissolution. In 1932 he had been directed to pay $27,500 a year for the support of his first wife and two children.

Besides his second wife and two children, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Ector Munn and Mrs. Wanamaker Munn, both of this city.

COURT RESERVES DECISION ON MRS. VANDERBILT'S PLEA

She Seeks Yes or No Decision on Habeas Corpus Suit for Custody of Daughter.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The Appellate Division reserved decision today on Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt's application to force Supreme Court Justice John F. Carew to act on her habeas corpus petition for the custody of her daughter, 10-year-old Gloria Vanderbilt. Mrs. Vanderbilt contends that Justice Carew's decision making Gloria the ward of the Supreme Court, and giving her to her mother two days a week and to her paternal aunt, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, the remaining days, was a compromise. She maintains that Justice Carew must either sustain or deny her application for a habeas corpus writ. Such action would facilitate an appeal on her part.

No argument accompanied submission of the papers and their contents were not disclosed. The principals were not in court.

MINE FIRM WINDING UP CASE IN UNION DISPUTE

Testimony in Support of Injunction Petition Against Progressives Likely to End Today.

Testimony in support of the United Electric Coal Co.'s injunction petition to restrain the Progressive Miners' Union from interfering with the operation of the company's strip mine near Freeburg, Ill., is expected to be concluded today in Federal Court at East St. Louis.

Counsel for the Progressive miners, who are resisting the injunction and operation of the mine under a United Mine Workers' contract, will present more than 60 witnesses. Conclusion of the hearing may be interrupted by the setting of a criminal docket which begins Monday.

Witnesses for the company have described unsuccessful attempts to open the mine since the spring of 1933, when the Progressive union was formed. They told of mass picketing by Progressives, threats made to United miners who were employed to resume operations, and futile attempts of mine officers to get police protection from State and county authorities.

Watchman Tells of Threat. R. J. Wilson, New Athens, Ill., watchman at the mine, testified that early on the morning of last Aug. 13, when about 400 Progressives gathered at the mine for a demonstration, a group of the pickets got inside the fence and told George Huff, mine manager, "If we had any idea you would start today, we would start cleaning you up now."

Shortly before that Huff had driven into the mine inclosure, the witness said, and his automobile had been dented from blows of clubs in the hands of the pickets. He said he heard one shot fired but did not know if Huff's car had been hit.

Wilson left the mine and tried to get back in about 2 p. m. that day, he said, when the pickets barred his way on a road leading him that unless he got a permit from Sylvester Jones, district agent of the Progressives, he could not get in.

Got Permit from Sheriff. "I went back to the Sheriff's office at Belleville and got a permit from him," Wilson said, "but I was again stopped and only got into the mine when a deputy sheriff said I could go."

The company is attempting to show that the Court has jurisdiction to protect its right to operate under the United Mine Workers' contract, since it had exhausted its remedies under the NRA.

The court room was crowded again today with interested miners filling all available seats and standing two rows deep in the rear.

RUSSIANS GROOM SABLES FOR U. S. AND PARIS MARKET

BARGAUZIN, Eastern Siberia, Nov. 30.—Two hundred and thirty sables whose fur will one day adorn women in New York and Paris are being cared for and fed special foods here in a nursery.

The sables start the day with a 7 o'clock breakfast of biscuits and oatmeal, or rice with milk. At 1 o'clock they have another meal which consists of ground meat with vegetables and cedar nuts. The nursery is in a forest and is provided with pure drinking water delivered to sanitary troughs in pipes.

Each month the animals are weighed and those which are under weight are fed eggs and cream. Many of the little animals are so tame they take food from the hands of keepers.

PROSECUTOR ANDERSON GAINS

Surgeon Hopes to Place Cast on Left Leg Tomorrow.

Prosecuting Attorney Anderson of St. Louis County, in County Hospital for serious injuries suffered in an assault Oct. 9 was "looking considerably better" today, the attending surgeon reported.

The surgeon hoped to be able to place a cast on Anderson's fractured left leg tomorrow. This leg has been badly infected and a cast could not be used heretofore because of the necessity for draining pus.

COLDS

Go Thru 3 Stages

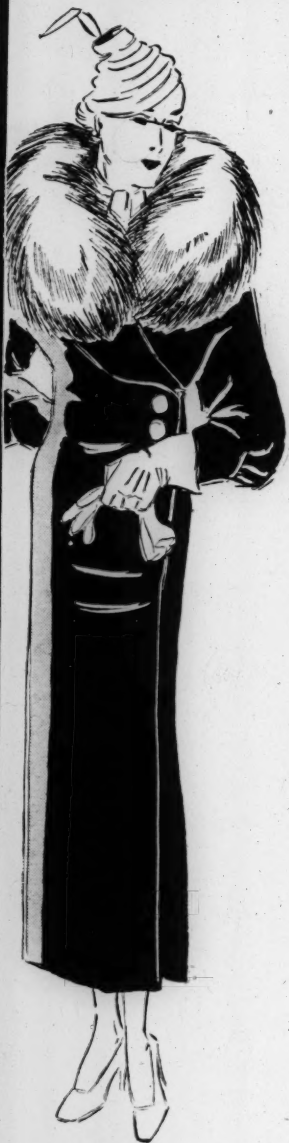

—and They're Far Easier Relieved in the First than in the Second or Third!

A cold ordinarily goes through 3 stages: the Dry Stage, the First 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. The first stage is the time to "nail" a cold.

Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is the treatment for colds. It is expressly a cold remedy and not a preparation good for half a dozen other things as well. It is direct and internal which is what a cold, an internal infection, requires. It is also complete—it does the four things necessary. It opens the bowels, combats the cold germs and fever in the system, relieves the headache and grippiness feeling and tones and fortifies the entire system. Anything less than that is inviting trouble. Get Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine at any drug store, 30c and 50c. Ask for it by the full name and refuse a substitute.

No Member Has Seen Fit to Aid in Investigation of Voting Frauds, Report Says.

The members of the Board of Election Commissioners, two Democrats and two Republicans, appointed by Gov. Park, were criticized in the final report of the September grand jury, made today by Circuit Judge Hartmann, for their failure to assist the grand jury in any way in its investigation of registration, primary and election frauds and irregularities.

Duty of Election Board. "Under the election laws," the grand jury states, "it is made the duty of the Board of Election Commissioners, and each member of the Board upon obtaining evidence of fraud or other acts committed in violation of the criminal laws by persons officials or any other persons to present such evidence forthwith to the proper authorities in charge of the prosecution of violations of said laws."

It is also their duty to aid in the prosecution of all crimes and offenses against the election laws and they are required to keep a book in which shall be entered all complaints against persons alleged to be guilty of violation of said laws and when in the judgment of the election commissioners such offense has probably been committed, it is made their duty to cause a prosecution to be instituted and to cause the offending parties to be punished accordingly.

BRITAIN BARS SHIP PURCHASE

Company Proposed to Popularize Cheap Travel to United States.
LONDON, Nov. 30.—The British Treasury today prohibited the proposed purchase of a number of Red Star liners by a company that planned to popularize trans-Atlantic travel through a cheap trip between the United States and England. The plans provide for the formation of a company with a capital of $500,000 (approximately $2,500,000), guaranteed by financial and shipping interests. Maj. Frank Burtard, a leader in the venture, said the Treasury gave as a reason for its action the fact that the line would be a possible competitor of the Cunard and White Star lines, which receive Government subsidies.

U. CITY HIGH AND MAPLEWOOD NEAR BREAK OVER FOOTBALL

PRINCIPAL BAKER ASKS SEVERANCE DUE TO RECENT GAME DISORDERS

By Reno Hahn.

Severance of athletic relations for an indefinite period between University City High and Maplewood High, two of the outstanding schools of the county, was sought in a letter sent from authorities of University City to Maplewood, this morning. The action is a culmination of the intense feeling between the schools, which reached its peak in the final football game of the County League season for the schools.

Maplewood won that game, 7-6, and fans, presumably from Maplewood, tore down University City's goal posts. Other equipment, such as the forward chain used to keep down flags, line markers, etc., also disappeared, according to C. A. Muhl, University City athletic director.

Maplewood's goal posts also were wrecked late at night following the game.

World Break in All Sports.

The letter, according to Coach Muhl and Armin A. Wahlbrink, athletic director of Maplewood, carried a suggestion that relations be broken off in all sports. University City school authorities planned some such action immediately after the game, but decided to wait until the feeling engendered by the game had died down.

Final action on the matter, according to Muhl, depended upon the Maplewood authorities.

Mr. E. R. Adams, principal of Maplewood High, said that the principals of University City and Maplewood would have to pass final judgment upon whether relations would be severed. He also said that the principals of the County League would be drawn up to facilitate the schools in scheduling their games and that the individual schools could follow or change the schedule if they so desired.

Asked whether he was in favor of breaking off relations, Adams said that he had not come to a decision, but added that, in the past, several schools had broken off relations with one another, not playing each other for one or two years.

He also said, in reply to a question that as far as he knew, the basketball schedule, which calls for University City and Maplewood to play a home-and-home series, would be carried out. He said that he did not know when the severance would be effective, if it were made, or whether it would be in all sports or just in football.

Maplewood's authorities take issue over relations. It would mean that Maplewood and University City would not meet in football, basketball and basketball games during the next two seasons, nor in basketball meets, but would compete in such affairs as the county basketball tournament, the district basketball tournament, etc.

Would Disrupt County Schedule.

The would also mean the disruption of County League schedules, which were started three years ago and are just now functioning effectively. The probabilities are that it would prevent the clear settling of any county championships for some time also.

University City's defeat was its second in league play in seven years. Next year, in football, University City will lose the majority of its regulars. Maplewood lost only three.

Baker, principal of University City, said that he would not be reached for a statement. Mrs. Julia B. Griswold, secretary, and Mr. O. W. Costlow, president of the County League also could not be reached.

76-YARD RUN PROVES FEATURE OF PENNSY WIN OVER CORNELL

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—Pennsylvania's speedy, aggressive football team closed its season triumphantly yesterday by outdistancing its old rival, Cornell, 23 to 0 in an exciting race for touchdowns on a rain-soaked gridiron.

A Thanksgiving day crowd of 15,000 saw the Quakers gallop into the lead in the first half by scoring on all their scoring opportunities, and then survive a shocking come-back by the gallant Indians in the last two periods.

Apparently hopelessly licked after scoring two touchdowns and a field goal to Penn's brilliant attack, the Quakers directed by Quarterback Frank Murray, Cornell rallied and completely outplayed the Quakers in the last half. The Ithacans tallied touchdowns in each of the last two periods and threatened to score the more with a combined run and passing attack, only to have the Quakers' thrusts bounce back on them in the form of a 76-yard run for Penn's third touchdown.

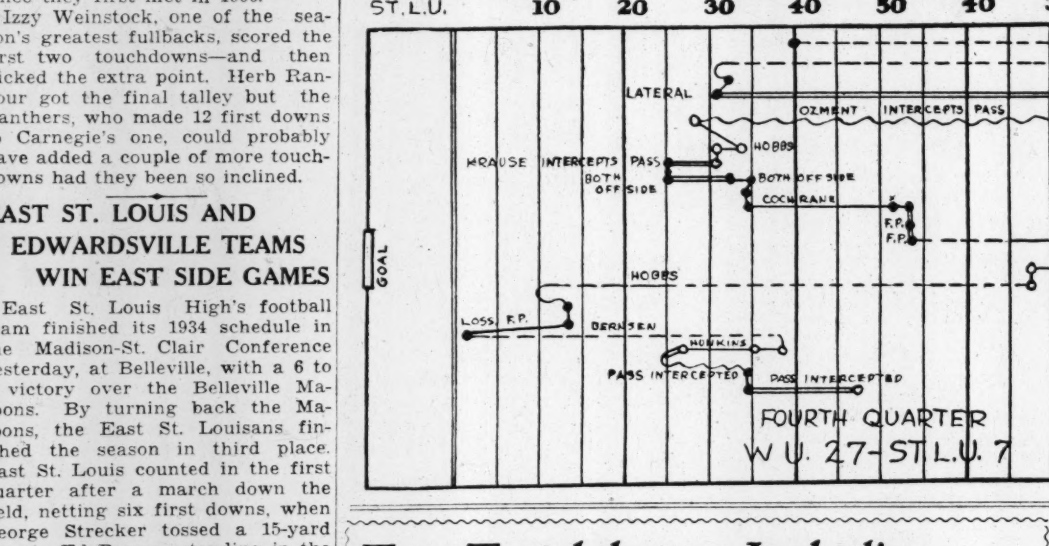

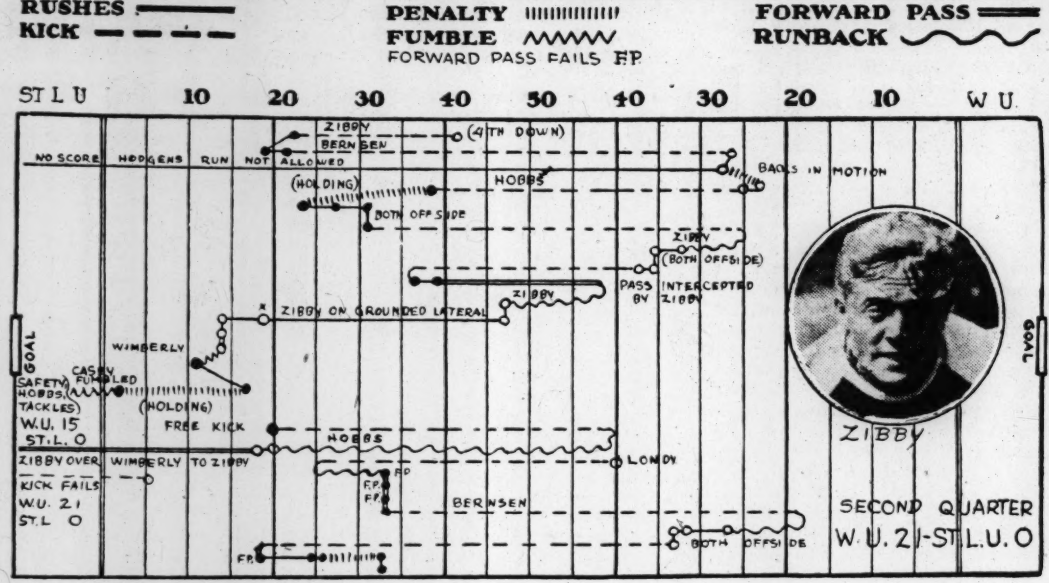

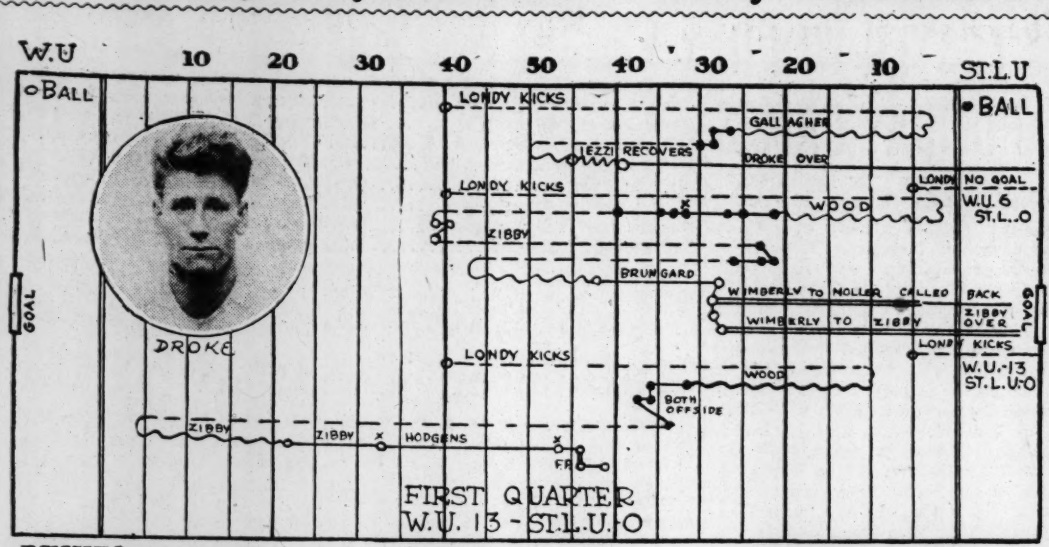

Bill Shanahan, substitute back, scored the winning touchdown.

Play-by-Play Story of the Bears' Victory—And Its Heroes

Pittsburgh Wins From Carnegie Eleven, 20 to 0

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 30.—Pitt's soldiers of the stadium yesterday charged to a 20 to 0 victory over Carnegie Tech. "The team from down the street," as 10 veterans of many a gridiron war fired farewell salutes to the banners of Blue and Gold.

Approximately 34,000 fans sat under steel-gray skies and saw the rampaging Panthers, aided by ill-fated fumbles of the gritty Scots, score touchdowns in the first, third and final periods in the twenty-first clash between the home-town rivals since they first met in 1906.

Lizzy Weinstock, one of the season's greatest fullbacks, scored the first two touchdowns—and then kicked the extra point. Herb Randour got the final tally, but the Panthers, who made 12 first downs to Carnegie's one, could probably have added a couple of more touchdowns had they been so inclined.

EAST ST. LOUIS AND EDWARDSVILLE TEAMS WIN EAST SIDE GAMES

East St. Louis High's football team finished its 1934 schedule in the Madison-St. Clair Conference yesterday, at Belleville, with a 6 to 0 victory over the Belleville Maroons. By turning back the Maroons, the East St. Louisians finished the season in third place.

East St. Louis counted in the first quarter after a march down the field, netting six first downs, when George Strecker tossed a 15-yard pass to Ed Posage, standing in the end zone.

In a non-league contest, Stephan Kole's Edwardsville Tigers bested the Happy Warriors of Granite City, 6 to 0. The victors scored their winning touchdown in the initial quarter after taking the ball to Granite City's 10-yard stripe to have Hydron fake a reverse spinner to cross the goal line.

Kansas Defeats Tigers, 20-0; Resignation of Carideo Is Reported

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 30.—Big Six football circles today were discussing the fate of Frank Carideo, coach of the University of Missouri, following the defeat of the Tigers here yesterday by Kansas, 20 to 0. Reports of Carideo's resignation were current but unconfirmed as the Missouri U. Committee on Intercollegiate Athletics was scheduled to meet.

The Tigers, under Carideo's coaching, have won two, tied two and lost 22 games over a three-year period. They have finished last in the Big Six race all three years.

Yesterday's game with Kansas was a repetition of previous contests this season so far as the result was concerned. The Tigers were outwitted and completely outplayed by the Kansas Jayhawkers in each of the first three quarters and had no trouble keeping the Tigers away from the goal line.

The play, before 12,000 homecoming spectators, was on a skiddy field and the Kansas back field, behind a powerful line, had little trouble gaining ground. Missouri's running attack was ineffective as were most of the 30 passes thrown by the Tigers.

In the two final periods several were completed, but there was no real scoring threat.

Starting the game, the Tigers were tight on defense and it was not until 11 minutes had passed that Kansas scored. Hapgood, the Jayhawk quarterback, doing most of the ball carrying on a march of 50 yards. A final three-yard plunge scored the touchdown.

In the second period, the same Hapgood, with Stukey and Nesmith as collaborators, paraded 60 yards, but were stopped on the one-yard line by the desperate Tigers. However, two minutes later, the Missourians were back on their five-yard stripe and Peterson, Kansas halfback, hit guard for the second score.

Coach Carideo then sent in Lochner, his best passer with Bourne, an end, who rates high as a receiver, but the combination failed to click and the Tigers could not cut down the Jayhawkers' advantage.

Missouri's pass attack functioned better in the third period and one of the many heaves brought the ball to Kansas' 25-yard line with the Tigers in possession. Sticking to the air, Missouri flipped four passes, but an alert Kansas secondary broke up the offensive.

Later in this third period, Hapgood, Kansas quarterback, threw a 30-yard pass to Sklar, a guard made eligible to receive by a line shift, and Sklar covered the necessary five yards for the third and final touchdown.

There was no scoring in the final period, both teams resorting to kicks in the chilling rain.

PEORIA MANUAL AND SPRINGFIELD (ILL.) TIE FOR BIG TWELVE FLAG

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 30.—The Big Twelve high school football conference ended yesterday with Springfield and Peoria Manual as co-champions, each trouncing its opponent in the annual Thanksgiving game.

Springfield whipped Decatur, 52 to 0, and Peoria Manual beat its home town rival, Peoria Central, 19 to 0.

CHARLES TOWN, W. VA., RACE MEET TO OPEN AFTER BOND IS POSTED

By the Associated Press.

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., Nov. 30.—The Charles Town Jockey Club will open a 13-day horse race meeting at the Charles Town track tomorrow. J. B. McLaughlin, Commissioner of Agriculture an ex-officio Racing Commissioner, says a formal permit will be issued today.

He announced granting of the license after he said officials of the club, in Jefferson County, had met his requirements for the posting of adequate security. He said cash and securities equivalent to $15,000 were offered to pay race purses and track employees, in addition to the State's three per cent tax taken from pari-mutuel receipts.

Bernsen Shows Educated Toe.

So constantly was the ball in St. Louis territory that the Billikens had to kick from their end zone no fewer than eight times. Bernsen, who did most of the St. Louis kicking, turned in an excellent job, his long drives probably preventing additional Washington scoring.

Washington used three centers—Tezzy, Niehaus and Martintoni—and the Billikens employed four quarterbacks—Gallagher, Drone, Bittner and Black.

Billikens Strong in Second Half.

It's a funny thing. The Billikens were soundly thrashed, there can be no doubt of that. And yet, the scoring in the second half read, St. Louis 7, Washington 6.

Sometimes a play is a boomerang. In the third quarter, for the first time in the game, Washington tried one of those "shovel passes"—the underhand, short forward pass behind the line of scrimmage. It was this pass that bounced off Hudgens, the intended receiver, into the arms of Kersens, Billiken

The big crowd was stunned by

Temple Held to Scoreless Tie By Bucknell

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—NY faint hopes there may have been for a Rose Bowl chance for Temple University's football Huskies vanished yesterday under a scoreless stalemate with Bucknell's thundering herd of Bisons.

Not only did the burly Bucknellians smash back every threat made by "Dynamite Dave" Smukler and the rest of the Temple entourage, but they actually outplayed the undefeated local club in every department of the game, except for a minor deficiency in the overhead attack.

They cracked out 15 first downs to six for the Owls of Temple. They battered downfield for 191 yards from scrimmage, while the best the vaunted Temple backs could do was 104 yards. With Smukler on the pitching end, Temple completed four of 12 forward passes for a 34-yard gain, while Bucknell made two of its dozen for a 20-yard advance.

Martin Ranked First in Valley Junior Tennis

By Davison Obeas.

Tennis players from the St. Louis District captured six of 15 places in the junior singles ranking of the Missouri Valley Tennis Association for 1934, according to the official list announced here by Karl Hodge, chairman of the ranking committee.

Owing to insufficient data the committee was unable to rank any teams in junior doubles.

Mark Martin Jr., captain of the St. Louis University High School tennis team last spring, tops the junior singles list. He was runner-up to Pascall Walball, Texas star, in the Missouri Valley singles championship played on the Washington University courts last June.

In the Valley event Martin defeated Jack Shine, St. Louis district, ranked No. 3 and St. Louis Municipal junior champion and also won from Robert Scharff, placed No. 8 in the list.

The official rankings follow:

FIRST TEN.

1—Mark Martin Jr., St. Louis.
2—Robert Denmore, Tulsa.
3—Jack Shine, St. Louis.
4—Donald McNeill, Oklahoma City.
5—Howard Stephens Jr., St. Louis.
6—Harry Greenfield, St. Louis.
7—Jack Jones, Oklahoma City.
8—Robert Scharff, St. Louis.

Idaho Blanks Creighton.

By the Associated Press.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 30.—Idaho University defeated Creighton, 13 to 0 here yesterday. The game was featured by a 40-yard pass in the second quarter by McCue of Idaho, to Ovenson, who caught the ball on the 10-yard line and raced over for Idaho's second score.

An international fistie match between Paul Amato, middleweight champion of Canada, and Jimmy Webb, leading local scrapper, last night was added to Wednesday night's amateur boxing card at the Coliseum by Matchmaker Benny Kessler.

ALABAMA IS SELECTED TO PLAY STANFORD IN BOWL GAME

By the Associated Press.

PASADENA, Calif., Nov. 30.—Alabama was selected today to meet Stanford in the Rose Tournament football game here New Year's Day.

The announcement, made by Alfred Masters, graduate manager of Stanford, came as no surprise. It will be the Crimson Tide's fourth trip here. In its three previous appearances the Southern team won twice and was tied once—by Stanford, 7 to 7 in 1927.

Coach Frank Thomas' boys come here undefeated and untied. They closed their season yesterday with a 34 to 0 victory over Vanderbilt and rolled up 114 points to none for their opponents in the last three games.

Stanford, Pacific Coast Conference champion was unanimously selected by the group last Monday. The Indians, too, are unbeaten, although they were tied by Santa Clara early in the season.

Masters made the announcement on his arrival from Palo Alto. "Well, boys," he said, "it is my pleasure to tell you that Alabama has been invited. I am informed they have one of the greatest football teams in the history of the South. We could make no other choice."

Masters said Stanford had entertained no idea of inviting the unbeaten University of Minnesota team in view of the Western conference rule prohibiting post season games.

The Stanford graduate manager said that while plans are still tentative, Alabama probably will arrive in Pasadena the day before or the day after Christmas and complete its preparation in Pasadena.

Stanford players who live in Southern California will begin workouts shortly before Christmas but the entire Cardinal squad will not be called together until after Christmas by head coach "Tiny" Thornhill.

The tide, coached by Wallace Wade, came here first in 1926 and turned in a surprise victory 20 to 19 over Washington. It returned the next season to the Stanford, and came back in 1931, which was Wade's last year there, to trounce Washington State 24 to 0.

Stanford has fared less well. The Indians were beaten by Notre Dame 27 to 10 in 1925, their first game in the Rose tournament series. After the 1927 tie with Alabama, the Indians returned in 1928 to get their lonesome victory, 7 to 6, with Pittsburgh. The last New Year's day Columbia defeated Stanford 7 to 0.

On the basis of comparative scores, Alabama has the scoring edge. The Tide rolled up 287 points in eight games, 21 for Stanford in 10. The Indians, however, boast a better defense record.

was against six persons charged with fraudulently removing and secreting primary ballots; and two were against two persons charged with impersonating voters, one at the primary and one at the November election.

Sought to Open Box.
The grand jury sought to open the ballot box used in one of the Fourth Ward precincts at the primary, to investigate charges of fraud, but was stopped by a Supreme Court order, obtained by Attorney Frank P. Aschmeyer, ostensibly representing a voter of the precinct. Later the grand jury tried to get the ballot box of another precinct in the same ward, and the same obstructive move was repeated, with the same attorney
but a different nominal client. A majority of the Democratic City Committee recently petitioned Gov.
Park to appoint Aschmeyer to the vacancy which will exist after Jan.
1 in the membership of the Supreme Court, due to the death of Judge-elect John T. Fitzsimmons.

Court Hearing Next Year.
The grand jury, in its report, sets forth the facts as to its efforts and the obstructive measures taken, without mentioning the name of the attorney. It then sets forth that the Supreme Court is to hold a hearing in January on the question of a permanent restraining order to prevent opening of the boxes.

"Accordingly, under the practice and procedure of that Court," the grand jury reports, "no final ruling on this most important question, of whether or not these ballot boxes can be legally opened by a grand jury in the investigation of charges of fraud of this character, can be expected until some time in the early part of next year; and all efforts to complete such investigation are necessarily suspended until such ruling is made by the Court. We respectfully recommend and urge that our successors as grand jurors at that time, in the event of a favorable ruling in these pending cases, take up afresh the charges in question, and use every effort to complete a full and fair investigation of the matter, with such action as may be called for under the law and the evidence thus obtained."

The members of the Election
Board are James A. Waechter, Democrat, chairman; Joseph W.
Hannauer, Democrat; Stephen M.
Wagner, Republican; and Charles L. Moore, secretary, Republican.
Members of the grand jury were:
Otto L. Swaney, foreman; Lorenz
E. Lehmburg, Edward A. Bokern,
Herbert L. Glaser, A. L. DuBard,
William J. Holdaway, John W. Morrison, Guy H. Wright, Birch O.
Machaffey, Harold W. Simpkins, Ley
P. Texford and R. William Knoll-mann, and Walter S. Knollmann and John M. Robertson, alternate members.

WILSON W. SEIBERT KILLED BY TRAIN

Bond Salesman Had Been Missing Since Visit to Doctor Monday.

Wilson W. Seibert, bond salesman, who had been missing since last Monday, was killed by a train in the Missouri Pacific railroad yards at Mary avenue, Carondelet, last night.

The body, which had been run over, was found at 8 p. m. A telephone bill in a pocket led to identification. Railroad employees reported having seen Seibert loitering near the tracks late in the afternoon.

Seibert, 51 years old, lived with his widowed mother at 3835 S. Shaw boulevard. He had suffered from a nervous condition for three months. Last Monday his brother, Dr. D. G. Seibert, of Jackson, Mo., came to St. Louis and took him downtown for a medical examination. They became separated at Thirteenth and Olive streets and Wilson Seibert failed to return home.

Relatives said Seibert had grieved for his wife, Kate, who died four years ago. He was formerly in the insurance business, becoming a bond salesman this year. He was a son of David Seibert, a former vice-president of the International Bank. An uncle, James M. Seibert, was formerly Excise Commissioner here. Funeral services will be held Sunday at Jackson, Mo.

WHEEL FLIES OFF AUTO, LANDS ON DINNER TABLE

Object Crashes Through Window as Man and Wife Prepare to Eat Thanksgiving Turkey.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—Just as Sidney Good, pharmacy proprietor, and his wife prepared to sit down to their Thanksgiving turkey an automobile wheel crashed through the plate glass window of his drug store and landed on the dinner table.

A few minutes later Eugene Federman, of Chester, entered the store and claimed the wheel. He said it came off his car a block away and rolled down the incline.

FIRST COURT TEST TOMORROW ON ST. LOUIS COAL CODE PRICES

Hearing to Determine if Restraining Order Is to Be Issued Against Firm.

The first court test of the enforcement of established retail coal prices for St. Louis will begin before Federal Judge Davis tomorrow with a hearing to determine whether an order should be issued restraining the Coal Service Co. from selling below the price schedule.

The complaint, which was laid before District Attorney Blanton by Divisional Counsel No. 32 of the Retail Solid Fuel Industry, incorporated statements made publicly by Louis Horen, sales manager of the company, that it was opposed to price-fixing and did not intend to abide by the schedule.

Since the new prices were set up on Nov. 19, Horen's company has sold below the scale, announcing that it paid NRA wages and observed NRA hours and that the code prices were "unreasonable and unfair to the consumer," prepared for the benefit of "a few large dealers."

less halted by a court order his company would continue to sell coal "mined by union miners and serviced and delivered by our men who receive better than NRA wages."

COUNTY WATER CO. FIGHTS MOVE TO REDUCE RATES

Files Answer to Complaint Made to Service Board Asking for Revaluation.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 30.—The St. Louis County Water Co. has answered a rate complaint filed with the Missouri Public Service Commission by water consumers in unincorporated areas of St. Louis County. It denies its earnings or ratemaking valuation are excessive, and declares there should be no reduction in rates.

The rate complaint, filed last month, asked the commission to reduce the property of the company for ratemaking purposes, and to order a reduction of 25 per cent for water consumers and a reduction of 30 per cent in fire hydrant rentals, in the unincorporated sections of the county.

The company stated its ratemaking valuation was $7,641,536 as of last Dec. 31. This represented a $4,978,130 valuation fixed by the commission in 1927, plus net additions and betterments. The company stated its net operating income for 1933 was $536,438, or 7.02 per cent on its valuation. A rate reduction, estimated at about $69,000 a year, was made by the company last February.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER OF CCC CAMP COOK

Polk County Deputy Sheriff Found Not Guilty After Five Minutes' Deliberation.

By the Associated Press.
GOLCONDA, Ill., Nov. 30. — A jury acquitted Christian Donald McCormick, Polk County Deputy Sheriff, of a charge of murder in the death of Bennie White, CCC camp cook, Wednesday night after five minutes' deliberation.

McCormick, son of Sheriff H. G. McCormick, testified he shot White in self-defense after White had attacked him with a rock. The shooting occurred Sept. 30 at the home of Mrs. Nellie Thacker.

A crowd which packed the courtroom heard McCormick testify. Four physicians testified McCormick's jaw was broken.

The State rested yesterday morning after a camp comrade of White testified that she saw McCormick break down a door at the home of Mrs. Thacker and deliberately shot White.

Gladys Joiner and Mrs. Thacker also testified McCormick shot White after breaking in the door. Mrs. Thacker related that she saw White pick up the rock, used in the house as a door stop, and throw it at McCormick.

PROPOSAL TO REPRODUCE HISTORIC ST. LOUIS FORT

Sons of Revolution Sponsor Campaign for San Carlos' Inclusion in River Front Memorial.

The St. Louis chapter of the Sons of the Revolution is sponsoring a move to have a reproduction of Fort San Carlos, from which St. Louisans defended their city from a combined British and Indian attack in 1780, included in the proposed river front memorial to the Louisiana Purchase.

Fort San Carlos stood at the end of what was then the Rue de la Tour (now Walnut street) at the outskirts of the little village. It is proposed to place the reproduction at Walnut and Fourth streets, near its original site. The fort would be of native limestone, as was the original, and efforts would be made to obtain duplicates of the guns and other equipment which the fort housed.

The water front memorial has been authorized by Congress and a national commission has been appointed to gather funds and work out the details. No definite plan has been adopted.

TWO SUSPECTS IN NEBRASKA BANK ROBBERIES ARRESTED

Department of Justice Men to Question Prisoners Held in East St. Louis.

Department of Justice agents were to go to East St. Louis City Jail today to question two men who were arrested in East St. Louis yesterday on suspicion of having participated in two Nebraska bank robberies.

The men were arrested by East St. Louis detectives at a beer tavern at 205 Missouri avenue where they were employed. A picture of one of the men has been identified by seven persons as one of the robbers of the First National Bank of Holdrege, Neb., last Sept. 22, when $5500 was taken. The men are also held for possible connection with the $1500 robbery of the State Bank of Lexington, Neb., last Oct. 17.

Both men have police records. They denied participation in the robberies.

CEMETERY LAND SALE BARRED

Temporary Injunction Issued Against Tax Delinquency Proceedings.

A temporary injunction against sale of delinquent 1929 tax bills, amounting to about $1200, on a 65-acre unplatted portion and 10 lots in Valhalla Cemetery, was granted by Circuit Judge Nott at Clayton Wednesday. The suit was filed last Saturday by the National Cemetery Association of Missouri, owner of the cemetery, against Collector Benson and Assessor Neaf of St. Louis County.

It set forth that cemeteries were exempted from taxation by the State Constitution, that the association had no knowledge of the proposed sale until recent publication of a notice and attacked the validity of the new law providing for sale of tax bills. Sale of the cemetery bills had been set for today and tomorrow.

AGUINALDO IN DIFFICULTIES

Former Filipino Rebel Loses Land to Government.

MANILA, Nov. 30.—Gen. Emilio Aguinaldo, 65-year-old Filipino who led an insurrection against the United States more than a generation ago, is in financial difficulties. He surrendered to the Philippine Government 170 acres of land to satisfy an unpaid loan of approximately $4000. He is expected to lose 2200 additional acres for a similar reason.

Aguinaldo wrote the Insular Director of Lands he had expended about $100,000 on this larger estate. It is located in his native Cavite Province south of Manila. The General purchased it from the Government, but is unable to make more payments.

All Pilots Urged to Take Air Dec. 17, Thirty-first Anniversary of Kitty Hawk Venture.

The thirty-first anniversary of the first flight of a powered airplane will be observed Dec. 17 with a flight of all available airplanes over the 1400 airports of the nation.

The National Aviation Day Committee has requested that the flight be made in the morning, weather permitting, and that planes and equipment be displayed at airports in the afternoon. The day has been set aside to honor the Wright Brothers, who flew the first powered plane at Kitty Hawk, N. C., Dec. 17, 1903. The Army, Navy and Bureau of Air Commerce are arranging for participation of all service planes, and airport managers will make arrangements for civilian aircraft to take part.

A canvass of the three flying fields here showed that there are between 100 and 120 airplanes, military, transport and privately owned, that can be flown.

FIRE COMMISSIONER DIES, OBJECTED TO AMPUTATION

Chicago Official Said "Fireman With One Leg Is No Fireman at All."

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—Fire Commissioner Arthur R. Seyferlich, 63 years old, who refused to have his leg amputated because "a fireman with one leg is no fireman at all," died at 9:05 today.

He had suffered for several weeks with gangrenous infection in the right leg which was aggravated by a diabetic condition. Physicians had told him that amputation of the leg was his only chance.

Firemen from several stations had met to pray for Seyferlich during his losing battle. Seyferlich had been a Chicago fireman so long that civil service records do not show the date he entered that service. He became a Lieutenant in 1897, a Captain in 1904, and a battalion chief in 1908. Mayor William Hale Thompson made him Fire Marshal in 1918, under Mayor Dever he was Assistant Fire Marshal, and became head of the department again in 1923. He resigned in October of 1933.

The accomplice is being sought.

FORMER ARMY, NAVY CHIEFS DEFEND MAIL SUBSIDIES

Grace Steamship Interests Present Letters to Postoffice Department.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Letters from Admiral William S. Sims, retired, war-time commander of the Atlantic Fleet, and Major-General James G. Harbord, retired, Gen. Pershing's chief of staff, were presented before the Postoffice Department today by the Grace Steamship interests in supporting their contention that the Government should not alter its present policy of extending aid to private shipping through ocean mail contracts.

"Any measures or laws that tend to discourage the building and operating of merchant shipping are directly against the efficiency with which our naval defense can operate in time of war," Admiral Sims said.

Major-General Harbord wrote: "Anything that diminishes the numbers of efficiency of the American merchant marine militates directly against our national defense in war."

ORDERED TO QUIT ADVERTISING NOSE DROPS AS A CURE

American Drug Corporation Directed to Cease Certain Practices in Selling "Sinaspit." By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The Federal Trade Commission announced yesterday an order by which the American Drug Corporation of St. Louis is required to cease certain practices in connection with the selling of "Sinaspit." The company was directed to cease representing by advertisements that the preparation will cure, prevent or relieve sinus trouble, but it may state that it will clean out nasal passages so that the sinus may drain properly and that by the use of Sinaspit, inflammation and swelling may be relieved. The order, which also prohibits assertions that the product ever has cured or prevented sinus trouble, was said by the commission to have been issued with the consent of the drug corporation.

William F. Fahey, a lawyer, president of the corporation, which has offices at 1935 Washington avenue, today denied that it had been claimed the preparation was a cure for sinus trouble. He said officers were unaware that claims which the Government might consider extravagant were being made, lower nasal cavity."

CONFESSES KILLING FARMER WHOSE WIFE HE ADMIRER

Young Michigan Defendant Admits He Waylaid Victim and Shot Him.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 30.—George Hawley Jr., 24 years old, today faced a first degree murder charge for the killing of Michael Cerwinka, 36-year-old farmer, whose wife, it is alleged, Hawley wanted to marry.

Cerwinka's body, shot and beaten, was found on his farm, near here, a few days after he disappeared.

Young Hawley yesterday signed a confession, according to Prosecutor Albert J. Rapp, that he waylaid Cerwinka Sunday, shot him and then pounded his head with rocks. The body was found by neighbors, including George Hawley Sr., who organized a searching party when they discovered that Cerwinka's livestock was unattended.

Young Hawley was bound over to the Circuit Court yesterday, without bond, by Justice Harry Reading.

Cerwinka's wife, Celia, is 26 years old.

ANTI-JAPANESE RAIDS RESUMED IN ARIZONA

Two More Bombs Thrown at Farm Houses, One Causing Considerable Damage.

By the Associated Press.
PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 30.— Bombs thrown by night raiders in a new wave of anti-alien sentiment
in Arizona's rich Salt River Valley sent State and county authorities into that area last night for an investigation.

Two bombs were thrown by the raiders Wednesday night. Both were directed at farms operated by Japanese. One exploded in the yard of Jim Takesuye, seven miles northwest of Phoenix. It tore off screening from around the porch, ripped boards from the gable of the house and shattered a window. Three children in the house were not hurt.
The other bomb did not explode.
It was found in the yard of a Japanese home two miles from that of Takesuye. Officers found it had been made of a quart tomato can stuffed with dynamite and cotton.

Five other bombings preceded Wednesday night's. The first of these occurred during August. Japanese in the area were terrified
but no injuries resulted.

Authorities attributed the latest attack to the unidentified persons responsible for the previous explosions. The alleged slowness of courts to act against certain aliens cultivating Arizona lands assertedly in violation of State laws has been blamed by officials for the night raiding. The State imposes certain restrictions against the owning and operation of farms by aliens not eligible to American citizenship. Several injunctions were issued restraining Japanese after the first bombings.

Gov. B. B. Moeur and other officials have denounced the night raiding activities and the Governor recently named a land tenure committee to investigate the situation.

ROBINSON ON SCHOOL AID

By the Associated Press.
CONWAY, Ark., Nov. 30.—Senator Joe T. Robinson, Democratic floor leader, said today Federal support of education should never become permanent policy.

Robinson made this statement in an address here dedicating a new dormitory at State Teachers' College. The Federal Government's aid in keeping open schools and in lending money for construction of educational buildings is praiseworthy in the present emergency,
he said, but added it is both "impossible and undesirable" for the Government to assume permanently the burden of public education.

WORLD MATCH MONOPOLY REPORTED IN THE MAKING

Merger of Swedish and International Companies Said to Be Contemplated.

By the Associated Press.
STOCKHOLM, Nov. 30.—Merger of the Swedish Match Co. and the International Match Co. into a virtual world monopoly, may result from negotiations now under way
in New York, according to an article in the newspaper Nya Sagligt Allenhand.

The newspaper said there was information that such a merger, reminiscent of the days of Ivar Krueger, would have its headquarters in Sweden. The Swedish Government has been approached, the paper says, and is willing to grant "certain advantages" to encourage the union.

The advantages are believed to be primarily lower taxes. Complete reconstruction of the firm of Krueger & Toil as well as "complete nationalization" of the world's match industry, was indicated as a possibility.

Bomb Under Priest's House.
WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Nov. 30.—Two sticks of dynamite and fuse were found during the night under the porch at the rectory of Mr. J. J. Curran, pastor of St. Mary's Church, who has been active in the peace negotiations of rival mine unions. The fuse had burned within two inches of the dynamite. Two policemen, armed with shotguns, were on duty at the rectory all night.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. E. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women who suffered from constipation. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the bowels, causing a normal action carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, hollow cheeks, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets at night for a week and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—now and then—to keep fit, 15c, 30c and 60c.

CORONER WITHHOLDS IDENTITY OF WOMAN

Business Man's Wife in Accident in Which James Weaver Was Killed.

Coroner Tiernon of St. Louis County declined today to disclose the identity of a woman who was injured in an automobile accident in which James Weaver, 29-year-old drug salesman, was fatally injured last Tuesday afternoon. He added that she was the wife of a business man residing in Clayton, and that to give her name might cause "unfair inferences and humiliation."

The accident occurred about five miles north of Manchester road on a little used gravel road two miles west of Wild Horse Creek road. Weaver's body was found Wednesday afternoon in woods about three-quarters of a mile from the wrecked car by CCC workers from a nearby camp. Death was due to brain and lung hemorrhages.

Apparently the car crashed into a tree on the left side of the road when Weaver attempted to turn out of a rut. Weaver was thrown through the windshield. Coroner Tiernon said the woman had made a statement, in which she said Weaver examined the car after the crash, saw that the front axle was broken and started for help, leaving her in the car. Several hours later she called William Parks, a farmer, as he drove by, and asked him to drive her to a physician.

Parks drove her to Ellisville, where she made a telephone call and then to the vicinity of North and South and Clayton roads, where she said she would send a physician to the scene of the accident, the Coroner said. Later that evening the Coroner related, the woman's husband and a physician returned to the scene and looked for Weaver. The woman said she met Weaver, with whom she was acquainted, in a drug store at Creve Coeur, where she had stopped during a ride with a woman friend, according to her story. Coroner's version of her story, which she left with him, said, "The accident, she related, occurred as they were making a short cut to Manchester road, where he was to make a business call before taking her home."

Parks said he first passed the wrecked automobile between 5 and 6 p. m. Tuesday, as he was on his way to Centaur. A woman was then in the car alone, he said. She hailed him as he was returning home some time later, he said. Her face was badly bruised, he added. Weaver resided at 1032 Common-dore drive, Richmond Heights, with his wife and two children. No inquest was held. The Coroner said a "view" was the only investigation needed and ordered that the cause of death be recorded as accidental.

DISTRIBUTION OF WEALTH DISCUSSED BY DR. EZEKIEL

He Points Out That in 1929 71 Per Cent of U. S. Families Received Less Than $2500.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Dr. Mordecai Ezekiel, economic adviser to the Agriculture Department, said last night that in 1929 71 per cent of American families had incomes of less than $2500. For a moderately full life, he estimated, $2500 a year is necessary.

Addressing the National Council of Teachers of English, he said the "lower 80 per cent" of the families in 1929 received only one-fourth of the total income, while the upper 12 per cent received another fourth. "If it were possible," he said, "to average these two groups directly, the income of millions of families would be greatly increased. The problem cannot be solved as simply as that, however."

A large part of the income of higher income groups, he pointed out, is saved and becomes capital. "Even if some system were worked out for more equal incomes," he said, "it would still be necessary to continue to divert a considerable part of our annual production to the creation of capital."

WIFE SAYS HUSBAND STOLE $175 FROM THEIR LANDLORD

She Declares She Acted as Lookout for Ex-Convict, Who Denies Charge.

Benjamin Lovett, 34-year-old cook and his wife, Julie, 20, 1314 South Ninth street, are held at Southern District Station on Mrs. Lovett's statement to police that her husband stole $175 Monday from a trunk in the quarters of the owner of their house, Edward Couvion, who lives on the second floor at the Ninth street address.

Mrs. Lovett said that on Monday while Couvion was a patient at the City Sanitarium, she acted as lookout while her husband stole the money, all old currency of the large size. Police found $80 in large bills hidden in her shoes and another $21 in her purse. She said that her husband bought a second-hand automobile with $55 of the money. Lovett, an ex-convict, according to police records, denied the charge, saying that he won the money in a dice game.

Couvion, released from the Sanitarium yesterday, said that $800 in bills and $5 in gold had been taken from his trunk, but Mrs. Lovett said $175 was the total amount stolen. The Lovetts were arrested following reports to police that they had been exchanging old style bills for smaller currency at stores in their neighborhood.

THANKSGIVING DINNER SERVED TO 1224 BY FATHER DEMPSEY

Smallest Crowd in His Free Lunch-rooms' History. Eat in City Institutions.

Charitable organizations and the various city institutions provided Thanksgiving dinner for nearly 8000 persons.

Father Dempsey served 1224 men at his free lunchroom at 1200 North Sixth street. He said it was the smallest Thanksgiving crowd in the history of the organization.

The Thanksgiving reunion at Father Dunne's Newsboys' Home and Protectorate, 3010 Washington boulevard, was attended by many former residents of the home, who returned to have dinner with the boys now living there.

Six thousand persons were served at city institutions, including patients at City Sanitarium and City Hospital, children of the St. Louis Training School, and prisoners at city jails.

A dinner for 350 young men away from home was given at the Downtown Y. M. C. A. under auspices of the Y. M. C. A., St. Louis churches, and the young men's division of the Chamber of Commerce. The 40 girls living at the Y. W. C. A., 744 Walton avenue, took part in the annual dinner there.

KILLED WHILE TRAVELING HOME BY FREIGHT FOR THANKSGIVING

Body of Arthur Wheeler, 29, Found on Tracks, Near New Haven, Mo.

The body of Arthur Wheeler, 29-year-old elevator operator, 2381 Albion place, was found mangled yesterday morning on the Missouri Pacific Railroad tracks three miles east of New Haven, Mo. Wheeler's wife reported he left home Wednesday night, saying he was going to ride a freight train to Tahlequah, Ok., to visit his parents there Thanksgiving day.

It is believed that Wheeler fell beneath a freight train which passed through New Haven an hour before the body was found. Identification was made through his clothing and a slip of paper with his name and address, which was found in a pocket. The body was returned to St. Louis and will be sent to Tahlequah tomorrow for burial.

EVEREADY PRESTONE

THE GUARANTEED ANTI-FREEZE

in your car and play safe!

Every minute... "freeze-up" is reaching for your car. Stop it! Put in Eveready Prestone at once... and save yourself big repair bills for a frozen radiator, or worse still, a cracked water-jacket.

One-shot of Eveready Prestone is all you need. And your car is safe against both freeze-up and rust, right through until next Spring. ALL ANTI-FREEZE... no water. Eveready Prestone at $2.95 a gallon is your most economical buy. It brings you these important advantages: No "freeze-up." No boiling away.* No more trips back for more anti-freeze.

Eveready Prestone should not be confused with either glycerine or alcohol. Eveready Prestone is approved by all car manufacturers and guaranteed by National Carbon Company, Inc., to provide all-Winter, two-way protection against freeze-up and rust.

IMPORTANT! The price per gallon of an anti-freeze means nothing unless you know how many gallons you will need during the Winter. You can't get that information on a boil-away anti-freeze—you don't know how many gallons you will need. But you can get it for Eveready Prestone... and here it is. See how reasonably you can get two-way protection all Winter long against both freeze-up and rust with one shot of Eveready Prestone—one shot because it won't boil off, no matter how warm the weather gets between the cold snaps. First cost is last cost—no trips back for more.

* Make the "NOSE TEST"

Eveready Prestone, truly non-evaporating, is absolutely odorless. "Boil-away" anti-freezes, on the other hand, can always be identified by a noticeable odor. Regardless of special "treatments" claimed to decrease evaporation, they will evaporate rapidly whenever the engine is running at high speeds.

AN UNUSUAL WAY TO BAKE
A DELICIOUS LUNCHEON DISH
HERE is a dish that comes from the home of gumbo and bean-biscuit and derives its name from the famous capital of South-cookery, Charleston.
Southern Baked Salmon.
(A La Charleston).
Mix one can salmon, one teaspoon salt, pinch of pepper, two table-spoons mustard. Slice six medium-size potatoes, boiled, and six bell peppers; fill baking dish alternate-ly with salmon mixture, potatoes and bell peppers and one-fourth pound cheese two well beaten eggs and dot butter on top. Bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes.

A Note on Ham Cooking.
Sliced ham is improved both in flavor and tenderness if it is covered with cold water, slowly brought to the boil and allowed to simmer for 10 minutes. It can then be drained, wiped dry and broiled or browned.

Not half the work to make things bright
Your labor easy—Oh So light
The Cleaner? Old Dutch
That saves you so much
No scratching, no marring with Seismotite.
Written by Mrs. A. W. Westermann, 5905A So. Kingshighway, St. Louis, Mo.

Old Dutch saves work and money for millions of women because it cleans quicker and does more cleaning per penny of cost. The reason is, it is made with surface-saving SEISMOTITE (pronounced sis'-mo-tite)—a natural cleaning and polishing material of volcanic origin that is specially processed and compounded with other fine ingredients according to the famous Old Dutch formula. Old Dutch adds years to the life of porcelain and enamel, glassware and metals, kitchen utensils and painted surfaces because it doesn't scratch.

Prove to yourself that Old Dutch lasts longer and costs less to use by dating the next package you buy. It's kind to sensitive hands, doesn't clog drains, is odorless and removes odors. There is no substitute for Old Dutch quality and economy.

$5 HERE'S HOW $5

Write a limerick about Old Dutch on the back of an Old Dutch Cleanser label (or a reasonable facsimile) and send it to us. We will pay $5.00 in cash for each limerick which we publish and publication will include the writer's name and address. All limericks become the property of The Cudahy Packing Co.

TEMPTING ONE-DISH MEALS WITH SPAGHETTI

With Salad and Dessert They Will Appease the Most Enormous Appetite.

What to serve on these brisk autumn days when the family seems to develop enormous appetites over night, is the question that most housewives ask themselves. With more holidays coming on and days filled with seemingly endless tasks there is one solution: One-dish meals.
One-dish meals give you a tempting combination of foods that can be prepared in a casserole, popped into the stove and forgotten, or nearly so. These recipes include spaghetti, which alternates with potatoes and goes very well with many meat cuts besides adding color and flavor to vegetable plates. With a salad and a dessert you have a complete and very hearty meal.
Tasty Oven Dinner.
Twelve small onions.
One-fourth cup finely grated cheese.
Eight sausages.
One can spaghetti.
Parboil onions and arrange around edge of shallow greased baking dish or large glass pie plate. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Meanwhile fry sausages till slightly browned. Mix with spaghetti and turn into center of baking dish. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) till spaghetti is heated through and cheese is melted. Makes four portions. Serve with clover rolls and large fruit salads.
Casserole of Veal.
One slice salt pork.
Two pounds breast of veal.
One teaspoon salt.
One can spaghetti chopped.
Four small cooked onions.
Four small cooked carrots.
One cup cooked green peas or string beans.
Two teaspoons Worcestershire sauce.
Buttered bread crumbs.
Dice the salt pork and try out in kettle. Cut veal in pieces and sear in hot fat. Add salt and hot water to cover. Simmer, closely covered, for one hour. Chop spaghetti and mix with vegetables and veal. Put in greased casserole. Thicken one cup of the meat stock with two tablespoons flour; add Worcestershire sauce. Pour over other ingredients. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for one-half hour, till dish is heated through and crumbs are browned. This dish may be prepared in the morning and the covered casserole stored in the refrigerator till time to bake. Generous servings for four. Dessert: Preserved pears, ginger cookies and coffee.

Spaghetti a la King.
One-half cup chopped, cooked celery.
Three tablespoons chopped, parboiled green peppers.
Two tablespoons chopped pimientos.
One-half teaspoon salt.
One cup cubed, cooked chicken.
One-half cup thickened beef bouillon or soup stock.
One can spaghetti chopped a little.
Mix all ingredients well and turn into large greased frying pan. Cover tightly and cook till meat and spaghetti are thoroughly heated. This is also delicious if ingredients are placed in a greased casserole, covered with buttered crumbs and baked in a moderate oven (375 degrees) till contents are hot and crumbs browned. Omit bouillon in that case. Serves four.
Try this with hearts-of-lettuce and Russian dressing, with apricot whip and coffee for dessert.

IF YOU WANT AN ELEGANT CAKE—HERE IT IS!
A "Torte" is one of those elegant confections that partakes both of cake and dessert. It is served on the continent on those very grand occasions such as birthdays or anniversaries and with its unusual texture it really fills the bill. Don't allow anyone to interrupt you during the mixing operations and don't open the oven door, once you've started baking the cake until the allotted time has passed. The success of this cake depends on these two "don'ts."

Almond Torte.
One pound shelled almonds.
Two cups sugar.
Ten egg whites.
Four ounces chocolate.
One lemon.
Put almonds (not blanched) through a food chopper until they are like fine meal. Mix with sugar and the grated rind of lemon. Melt chocolate slowly over hot water and mix it with the lemon juice (about two tablespoons of juice). Then combine these two mixtures, stirring until well blended. Beat egg whites until very stiff and fold carefully in the nut mixture. Turn lightly into an angel cake pan (eight inches in diameter) which has been oiled and floured well and bake in a warm oven (325 degrees) for 40 or 45 minutes. On removing from the oven let it stand in the pan to cool for 10 minutes and then invert carefully on a cake rack and let it stand until cool.

Chopped cooked beets added to a thin layer of lemon jelly, when chilled, can be cut out into small shapes, and used for garnishing salads, sliced meats, hot or cold fowl.

AN HISTORICAL RECIPE THAT HAS STOOD THE TEST OF YEARS

YOU'VE probably heard of fried apples before but we'll wager you've never seen this one before. The recipe has history back of it, dating to the Civil War.

Fried Apples.
Six large apples.
One-half cup brown sugar.
Apples for frying should be the kind that does not cook mushy. Jonathans are excellent for this purpose. Cut apples in eighths or sixteenths and do not peel. Put two tablespoons bacon grease in a skillet and drop the apples in the hot grease. Cover and cook until steaming and then add the brown sugar. Keep covered and cook until the apples are glazed. Serve with baked or fried pork chops or broiled ham.

Icing Note.
To whites of two eggs well beaten add enough confectioner's sugar until icing becomes stiff. Flavor to taste and add chopped nuts if desired.

DUMPLINGS ADD FESTIVE TOUCH TO PLAIN STEWS

PLAIN stews can be frilled up with dumplings so your family won't recognize them. For veal stew or stewed chicken there is nothing like them.
Dumplings.
One egg.
One and one-half cups flour.
Three heaping teaspoons baking powder.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
Mix and drop from a spoon into the hot stew. Cook slowly for 20 minutes and do not uncover while cooking.

Peached With Rice Cakes.
Cook one cup rice in three cups milk, with one-fourth teaspoon salt, in double boiler until liquid is absorbed and rice is tender. Add one-fourth cup butter, grated rind and juice of one-fourth medium-sized lemon and one-fourth cup sugar and mix thoroughly. Cool, form into flat cakes, adding a little flour if needed to make of consistency that can be handled. Dip in flour and fry on hot griddle. Serve with a peach half for each cake. Add lemon juice to taste to syrup from peaches and serve as a sauce.

Baked Sweet Potatoes.
Bake sweet potatoes, scoop out the pulp, mash it and season with butter, salt, a dash of pepper, and one or two teaspoons sherry or cherry flavoring. Put back in the potato shells, brush the tops with thin cream or melted butter and brown in a hot oven. Yummy with baked ham, with chicken or turkey, pork chops, etc.

STEAMED FIG PUDDING

One cup beef suet.
Two cups bread crumbs.
Two cups figs, chopped.
One-half cup flour.
One-fourth teaspoon salt.
One and one-half teaspoon baking powder.
Two eggs.
Two-thirds cup sugar.
Two-thirds cup milk.
Chop the suet finely, add to it the bread crumbs, figs and flour, salt and baking powder sifted together. Beat the eggs and sugar together, add the milk, and use these to moisten the dry ingredients. Turn into a well-greased mold and steam three hours. Serve with hard sauce or lemon sauce or both.

To make hard sauce, cream one-half cup butter and add 2 cups of powdered sugar gradually. When well creamed, stir in the white of an egg and vanilla, being sure to incorporate it thoroughly. Chill before serving.

Chicken and Mushroom Sauce.
Melt two tablespoons butter in a saucepan, add 3 tablespoons flour and blend well. Add one medium tin mushroom soup and stir until thickens. Add one and one-half to two cups cold diced chicken and four sliced hard cooked eggs. Add salt and pepper, if desired, but since the chicken was seasoned when cooked, little additional seasoning will be required. Serve on biscuit straws, which are made by rolling biscuit dough to not more than one-third inch in thickness, then taking a sharp knife and cutting the dough into thin strips—about one-third inch wide and three inches long. Bake as for biscuits in a hot oven (425 degree Fahrenheit) until delicately browned (from five to eight minutes). Place the biscuit straws on a platter, pour the chicken with mushroom sauce over top, garnish with parsley or with sweet gherkins or spanish olives.
A little honey added to mayonnaise makes it very acceptable for fruit salads.

Home EconomicsSIMPLE MEALS COAX WARY APPETITES

Hearty Breakfasts, Fruits and Vegetables Included in After-Holiday Procedure.

Appetites usually lie low after a holiday and must be coaxed out of hiding with more simple dishes. Vegetables, salads and the more simple desserts and fruits especially will accomplish this feat.

The roast beef for Sunday roast, chuck or rump. Buy enough to serve two meals. When a hot savory soup and hot vegetables are served, cold meat is not to be despised even in cold weather. Serve a horseradish or spicy sauce with cold beef and watch it disappear. If the roast beef is one with bones, the roast beef is one with bones. Put the fish, skin side up, in a baking pan and cover with equal parts of water and milk. Cook over a slow fire for 10 minutes, turn the fish, drain off the liquid and dot the fish with small pieces of butter. Put under the broiler and cook for eight to 10 minutes, basting once or twice with some of the liquid.

Good Breakfasts.

Smoked fish make good weather breakfasts and finnan haddie is one of the most popular. Choose a whole or half fish, or you may be able to buy the finnan haddie fillets which are boned. Finnan haddie is smoked haddock and is in season all during the winter months. It is only slightly salted as a rule and needs very little freshening to make it palatable. Put the fish, skin side up, in a baking pan and cover with equal parts of water and milk. Cook over a slow fire for 10 minutes, turn the fish, drain off the liquid and dot the fish with small pieces of butter. Put under the broiler and cook for eight to 10 minutes, basting once or twice with some of the liquid.

Home-baked beans are usually a popular dish, providing they are well seasoned. They are inexpensive and perhaps furnish more nutriment for the cost than most other foods. They are an excellent source of protein and also furnish valuable minerals—all at a low cost. The ready-cooked canned variety are, of course, more convenient and if preferred, may be used just as advantageously. It is a good plan to turn them out into a baking dish, sprinkle with water, criss-cross with thin strips of bacon and bake in a hot oven until the bacon is crisp.

Whole kernel or "shoe peg" canned corn is delicious; sautéed, or lightly fried in butter or any cooking fat. Served this week with stuffed, baked peppers, it helps out a well planned vegetable dinner. See that one-half cupful of the corn is put aside for the corn omelet served next morning.

Peach Island.

Place six peach halves in a serving dish. Beat two egg yolks with two tablespoons sugar and one-eighth teaspoon of salt; add one cup of hot milk; cook in double boiler until thick; cool; add one-fourth teaspoon of vanilla; fold in two beaten egg whites; pour over peaches and sprinkle with coconut.

NEW PROCEDURE FOR THE WELL-KNOWN POACHED EGG
 THERE is nothing that wearies the child appetite more quickly than the breakfast egg cooked in the same fashion morning after morning. With children who must be coaxed to eat eggs are rather a problem. Eggs fried this way are both nourishing and appetizing.
Savory Poached Eggs.
 Two eggs.
 One-half cup milk.
 One tablespoon flour.
 Salt and pepper to taste.
 Put the milk in a saucepan and heat. Slip in the eggs and cook until the yolk begins to set. Have ready some slices of hot buttered toast, put the eggs on the toast and thicken the remaining milk with the butter and flour. Pour this white sauce over the eggs and serve.

LITTLE POUND CAKES

Three eggs.
 One-half cup sugar.
 One-third cup melted butter.
 One-fourth teaspoon salt.
 Three-fourths cup flour.
 One-half teaspoon baking powder.
 Flavoring.
 Break eggs into top of double boiler. Add sugar and place the boiler over hot water to cook slowly. Beat eggs and sugar for 15 minutes or until the mixture is light and creamy. Add melted butter and beat again. Whip in flour, salt and baking powder that have been sifted. Flavor as desired and bake in patty pans in a moderate oven (375 degrees). Ice and decorate, using maraschino cherries and bits of angelica.

Baked Liver.
 (With Vegetables).
 Buy two pounds beef liver, cut in slices one-half inch thick. Wash the liver in cold water, drain thoroughly, cut in large dice and roll in flour seasoned with salt and pepper. Melt three tablespoons bacon drippings in a frying pan, add the liver

PEANUT BUTTER CUTLETS

One cupful hot milk.
 One cupful peanut butter.
 Salt and pepper.
 Slices of dry bread.
 Add the milk to the peanut butter. Mix well and season with salt and pepper. Dip slices of bread in this mixture. Brown delicately on both sides in a skillet with a small amount of hot fat. This takes only a few minutes. Serve hot.

Pear Trifle.
 Arrange six halves of pears, stem ends toward the center, on a round sponge cake about eight inches in diameter. Make a boiled custard using one pint milk, and when lukewarm pour over the pears. When cold decorate with sweetened whipped cream (one cup before whipping) and pistachio nuts or candied cherries. If the cake is stale, moisten with pear syrup and allow it to stand until softened before putting on the fruit.

Four teaspoons of liquid equal one tablespoon, and two cups of butter make a pound.

SUPPERS FOR GUESTS OVER THE WEEK-END

Informality of Buffet Style Has Holiday Enthusiasm and May Be Simple or Elaborate.

Thanksgiving week-end usually finds us still in a holiday spirit with plenty of enthusiasm for entertaining out-of-town guests.

A Sunday evening supper, served at quarter tables or buffet style, is a most enjoyable way of greeting such guests. It has the advantages of informality, requires less space than a dinner party, and gives the hostess an opportunity to display her choicest possessions in table appointments.

For buffet service, food must be chosen which is easy to serve, for the guests will help themselves to all foods except the beverage. Usually a platter of cold meats, or a hot meat combination dish, is the basis of the winter Sunday night supper. With this, several relishes, a salad which lends itself to individual service, bread or rolls, a beverage and dessert are usually served.

Cold Platters Are Good.
 A platter of cold sliced ham and cold sliced chicken, garnished with celery curls, or crisp parsley, is acceptable and easily prepared. Cold turkey could be utilized to good advantage in such a service.

Crisp banana curls served on fried pineapple slices or fried bananas would make a delicious hot buffet meat. For very informal service try chop suey or boiled rice, or French pancakes rolled around crisp fried link sausages and served with a maple sugar and butter mixture.

If only a small group is served, a waffle and sausage supper, fortified with a tart fruit salad, sometimes exactly fits the mood of a Sunday night gathering.

Hot meat dishes which may be kept hot in ramekins, casseroles or chafing dishes might include individual meat pies in ramekins or tiny casseroles, a ham and noodle casserole, escalloped fish and eggs served in shells, or creamed ham or chicken in pattie shells.

The dining table may be made regal in its best lace or linen cloth, the plates and hot main dish placed at one end, the beverage with cups and saucers at the other and trays bearing salads, rolls and relishes on either side.

Ham Noodle Casserole.
 Left-over ham (one-half slice for each person).
 Three-fourths package of noodles cooked.
 Four small onions.
 Two tablespoons fat.
 Two tablespoons flour.
 Two cups tomato juice.
 Three tablespoons Worcestershire sauce (or mustard).
 Make a sauce of the fat, flour and tomato juice. Arrange alternate layers of ham, noodles and onions in the casserole and pour the sauce over the mixture. Bake 30 minutes in 350 degree F. oven.

Individual Chicken Pie.
 Two cups cold cubed chicken.
 Two cups medium white sauce.
 One-half cup mushrooms, cut fine.
 One-half green pepper.
 One-half cup peas.
 Seasonings of salt, pepper and poultry seasoning.
 Mix all ingredients and place them 2-3 full. Over the top place a layer of pie crust, crimping the edges as for a large pie. Cut a star shaped design in the top of each. Bake in a 400 degree F. oven 25-30 minutes. Serve the ramekins or casseroles directly onto the dinner plate.

For the crust, mix one cup pastry flour and one-half teaspoon salt with one-fourth cup lard and add three tablespoons ice water gradually. Roll and cut.

A PUMPKIN PIE FILLING THAT REQUIRES NO BAKING IS A GOOD DESSERT

This pumpkin pie filling requires no baking. If you happen to feel particularly luxurious you might top it with whipped cream. Otherwise a high meringue that has been browned only slightly will serve the purpose.

Pumpkin Pie Filling.
 One tablespoon gelatin.
 One-fourth cup cold water.
 One and one-half cups milk.
 One and one-half cups pumpkin, cooked.
 Two tablespoons butter.
 Two tablespoons molasses.
 One-third cup sugar.
 One teaspoon ginger.
 One teaspoon cinnamon.
 Three-fourths teaspoon salt.

Soak the gelatin in cold water. Heat the milk, pumpkin, butter and molasses together in a double boiler. Combine the sugar, ginger, cinnamon and salt and add to the liquid mixture. Add softened gelatin, mix thoroughly; cool. Pour into a baked pie shell. This makes one nine-inch pie.

PIES ALWAYS ACCEPTABLE ESPECIALLY THOSE WITH HIGH MERINGUES

Pies are always an acceptable dessert. When in doubt, serve pie to your family or guests and they will always applaud you.

Chocolate Meringue Pie.
 Cover an inverted pie pan with pastry rolled a scant eight inch thick. Prick all over with a fork and bake in a hot oven for 15 minutes, or until delicately browned.

Remove from the oven, cool, slip from the pan, and fill with the following filling: Scald one quart milk. Mix one-half cup powdered cocoa with one cup sugar, five tablespoons cornstarch and one-half teaspoon salt. Add two well beaten egg yolks and one-fourth cup cold milk. Beat until smooth, then add the hot milk gradually, stirring constantly. Pour into a saucepan and stir over a moderate fire until very thick, smooth and boiling. Remove from the fire, add one teaspoon vanilla extract.

Beat the whites of three eggs until stiff enough to hold their shape when the beater is lifted up. Beat in five tablespoons powdered sugar and one teaspoon lemon juice. Spread the meringue over the chocolate filling and bake in a slow oven (200 degrees) for 15 minutes or until the meringue is firm, well puffed, and delicately browned. Chill before serving.

Lemon Meringue Pie.
 Mix one cup sugar with five tablespoons cornstarch, the grated rind of one large lemon and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Add three egg yolks and one-fourth cup cold water and beat until light colored. Stir in three cups boiling water, adding it slowly. Pour the mixture into a saucepan and stir over a moderate fire until thick, boiling and smooth. Remove from the fire, add one tablespoon butter and the juice of two large lemons (one-third cupful). Pour into a baked pie shell, baked the same as for chocolate pie, cover with meringue made as for chocolate pie and bake in a slow oven to brown the meringue. Serve cold.

Cookie Filling.
 Peanut butter, thinned with butter and a little cream, makes a good filling for sugar cookies.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Todd Shipyard Corporation declared a dividend of 50 cents on the capital stock, payable Dec. 20 to stock of record Dec. 3. In previous quarters 25 cents was paid.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Cotton futures opened steady, 6 to 9 points decline, in response to lower Liverpool cables, which were partially offset by trade and foreign buying.

December opened 12.50c; Jan. 12.56c; Mar. 12.63c; May 12.67c; July 12.60c; Oct. 12.23c. The relatively easy Liverpool cables brought in considerable liquidation which continued after the call and prices sagged off another point or two with December selling down to 12.48 and March to 12.60, or about 10 to 11 points net lower. The trade continued to buy, however, and the decline seemed to bring in a little buying from Wall street or commission house sources and the market held fairly steady before session had gone far with active months about 6 to 16 points net lower.

The cotton acreage curtailment plan announced by the Department of Agriculture after the close of the market on Thursday was considered about in line with the recent forecasts, calling for a reduction of 25 per cent from the base acreage.

One of the early Liverpool cables said the 1935 crop proposal and weakness in Egyptian had been unsettling factors in that market with hedging and Bombay selling absorbed by the trade at the decline.

The Alexandria market for Achmout cotton showed a decline of 40 to 54 points as compared with last Wednesday's close. Realizing continued during the middle of the morning but it was absorbed by trade buying and scattered demand from local or Wall street sources. Prices held fairly steady after the early decline of some eight to 12 points.

At midday the market was quieter, with December selling around 12.54 and March 12.61, or about five to 10 points net lower.

PHYSICIAN, BEHIND IN ALIMONY, TELLS OF DECREASE IN INCOME

Dr. E. Lee Dorsett Says He Is Unable to Pay $250 Monthly to Ex-Wife.

Dr. E. Lee Dorsett, physician, 156 Gray avenue, Webster Groves, cited to appear before Circuit Judge Bader for examination as a judgment debtor, testified Wednesday that his former annual income of about $14,000 had been reduced to $4500 since the depression.

Questioned by Jacob M. Lashly, attorney for his former wife, Mrs. Lucille M. Dorsett, Dr. Dorsett said he owned no property and had been unable to meet alimony payments of $250 a month because of his reduced income. Mrs. Dorsett, having obtained several judgments for unpaid alimony since September, 1931, is seeking to collect.

Mrs. Dorsett obtained a divorce on ground of general indignities Sept. 21, 1928. A few weeks later Dr. Dorsett married Mrs. Romayne Alexander, who had been employed in his office.

NEW GOVERNMENT SET UP IN BOLIVIA; PRESIDENT OUSTED

Vice-President Sorzano Forms Cabinet After Army Plane Brings Salamanca's Resignation.

EXECUTIVE REPORTED SEIZED BY TROOPS

Forced Out of Office While at Front in Chaco—Said

Commanders.

By the Associated Press.
LA PAZ, Bolivia, Nov. 30.—A new Cabinet began to direct the affairs of Bolivia today.

All Government authority was sundered last night to Jose Luis Tejada Sorzano, Vice-President, whose coup d'etat of two days ago
forced the resignation of President Daniel Salamanca.

After the Salamanca Cabinet had resigned, Sorzano asked for cooperation of the Bolivian people in view of "present problems" and said
the army's only concern was the welfare of the nation.

Message to Army.
In a message to the army in Chaco he said: "I have just organized a Cabinet of national concentration, uniting in it the outstanding elements of the nation. I thus ratify an old aspiration for national harmony in order to utilize it for the defense of the country."

"My first word is directed to the army, which symbolizes the nation, in order to express confidence and the assurance that I will be guided in any effort to defend the honor and sovereignty of the republic."

Twenty-four hours before Salamanca's resignation was officially presented, Sorzano was exercising the powers of the office by virtue of his decree, in which he announced that Salamanca had gone to the Chaco Boreal leaving affairs of state that needed immediate attention.

Reported—Captive.
Dispatches from Buenos Aires
and Santiago, Chile, as well as reports received in Washington, indicated Salamanca had been made prisoner by Bolivian troops when he attempted to change commanders in chief.

Before the fact that Salamanca had quit his office was confirmed, Foreign Minister David Alvestrand declared the Ministers "must remain in their posts until the resignation becomes official."

Army officials said last night that Salamanca would go to Cochabamba to join his family, after his visit to Villamontes, Bolivia, troops had declared the Ministers "must remain in their posts until the resignation becomes official."

Already en route to Cochabamba was Laura Salamanca Guzman, daughter. The rest of the family, including his faithful sister, remained in the capital after moving from the presidential palace to the home of a friend.

Paraguay Celebrates Reported Rout
of Bolivian Army.
ASUNCION, Paraguay, Nov. 30.—
Reports that Bolivian troops were retiring along all fronts in the Chaco Boreal brought thousands of Paraguayans into the streets last night, celebrating what they believed was the beginning of the end of the long war.

The reports were posted on bulletin boards to the accompaniment of shrieking whistles, screaming sirens and the explosion of firecrackers.

A communique from Gen. Jose Estigarribia, Paraguayan commander-in-chief, said Bolivians were retreating in disorderly fashion "before our energetic pressure on the entire front from the Pilco-Mayo River to Puesto Bolivia, northeast of Fort Strongest."

That Paraguayan victory was believed here to have been the cause of President Salamanca's desire to replace Gen. Enrique Penaranda with Gen. Jose Lanza as Bolivian commander-in-chief, an effort that is reported to have led to his overthrow.

'BIG FOUR' APPARENTLY UNABLE TO REACH WHEAT AGREEMENT

Failure of Conference of U. S. and Three Other Growers at Budapest Indicated.

By the Associated Press.
BUDAPEST, Nov. 30.—Indications were late today from the negotiations of the representatives of the United States, Canada, Argentina and Australia seeking to decide on a new basis for future export quotas of wheat would end in failure.

The Associated Press was informed from an official source that the Argentine attitude had tightened considerably within the last 24 hours. I was learned that Rudolf Garcia-Arias, Argentina's representative in the world wheat conference here, expected instructions
later today from Buenos Aires which may alter the situation. The "Big Four" delegates seemed to feel that there was not much hope of an agreement.

Informed circles indicated there was a possibility of the talks continuing tomorrow, or being resumed in London within the next several weeks, but it was recognized that postponement means that reallocation of quotas for this year might as well be abandoned as the current crop already has entered its fifth month.

GREECE PROTESTS TO TURKEY

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 30.—Foreign Minister Maximos yesterday made the first protest against a new Turkish law which forbids the wearing of religious attire on the streets.

Communicating with the Turkish Minister, he indicated relations would be strained if the order were carried out. The prohibition includes priests of the Greek Orthodox Church.

JAPAN DEMANDING POWER 'IN SPIRIT OF DISARMAMENT'

So Says Foreign Minister
Koki Hirota in Explanation to Diet in Tokio of Policy at London.

By the Associated Press.
TOKIO, Nov. 30.—Foreign Minister Koki Hirota told the Diet today Japan was "endeavoring to establish firmly the principle of non-menace and non-aggression."

"It is according to this principle,"
he said, "that Japan proposes abolition of the ratio principle hitherto in force and establishment of a common upper limit for Japan, the United States and Great Britain."

He declared Japan was actuated by
"the spirit of disarmament."
"In consonance with the spirit of disarmament we desire to bring about thorough and drastic naval reduction and to lighten thereby the tax burden of nations in the future," he said. "To that end we desire to bring down this common upper limit to the lowest level possible and at the same time through drastic reduction and limitation of offensive arms and proper adjustment in defensive arms, to render it difficult for any power to attack
another but easy to defend itself."

Hirota did not mention Japan's preparations to denounce the Washington naval treaty.

Gist of Hirota's Speech.
"At the sixty-fifth session of the Diet I had occasion to address you on foreign policy of Japan," Hirota said. "A new cabinet has since been appointed, but I have continued to deal with our various external questions in accordance with the same policy as before."

"I am very pleased to say that on the whole our relations with the various countries of Europe, America and with China, have grown increasingly cordial because a better understanding now prevails among the powers regarding Japan's position in East Asia. Today it is my desire to report on a few important affairs that have engaged our attention since adjournment of the previous session of the Diet."

"The healthy development of our ally, Manchoukuo, is a matter wherein we are vitally concerned as we are readily perceived from the imperial rescript issue on the occasion of Japan's accession to the League of Nations. We rejoice that the new state has since made rapid strides in every branch of national administration and laid a lasting foundation for the country by establishment of the imperial regime in March last."

Some Improvement With Russia.
"As for relations between Japan and the Union of Soviet Soviet Republics, there has been some improvement since my last report upon the subject. For instance, the fact that our fishing industry in Northern waters was able to proceed without any trouble this year is a matter for congratulation for the sake of Soviet-Japanese friendship."

"Negotiations for the transfer of the North Manchuria Railway, temporarily suspended early this year, were resumed in March, although serious obstacles were encountered time and again, an agreement of views, thanks to the efforts of the

SOVIET ABOLISHES BREAD CARDS AND INCREASES PRICES

10 Pct. Rise in Wages Granted to Take Care of Higher Food Costs.

By the Associated Press.
MOSCOW, Nov. 30.—A blanket 10 per cent increase in wages throughout the Soviet Union to compensate for increase living costs for workers was announced today by Vyacheslav Molotov, president of the People's Commissars.

The increase in food costs will be in effect Jan. 1 with the elimination of bread cards whereby workers are supplied with bread at prices under the open market rate.
Molotov's announcement hailed the abolition of the double prices for bread and grain as the "greatest forward step made under the second five-year plan" and said it would greatly strengthen the rouble.

The new prices for bread will vary. They were announced as lowest in Central Asia and highest in Siberia.

In general, however, the new bread prices are midway between the present card rate and the open market rate, averaging 50 to 60 per cent above the existing ration prices.

SCHACHT ANNOUNCES PROGRAM FOR GERMAN BANKING REFORM

Government to Control All Credit Concerns and Separate Money and Capital Markets.

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—A program for reform in German banking, involving complete credit control through a board headed by Dr.
Hjalmar Schacht, were announced yesterday in a statement from the Reichsbank president to Reichsfuhrer Hitler.

The program includes: Control of all credit institutions; assurance of adequate liquidity; distinction between money and capital markets;
security for repayment; complete public supervision of the credit business; establishment of a board to make the provisions effective.

The plan for credit reorganization was based on the report of 123
experts who said the past failure was due to improper political economy systems and too great short term credit which in 1931 aggregated seven billion marks (then about $1,700,000,000) because of the "insane Versailles reparations policy."

"It is impossible suddenly to change a nation's organizational basis," Schacht said, "without un-balancing the tax system. Control of all parts of the money and credit system is the only way to produce a healthy bank system."

SHOOTING OF MEXICAN INDIANS DEFENDING CHURCH REPORTED

Belated Dispatches Say Three Men and Child Were Killed and 14 Wounded by Officials.

MEXICO, D. F., Nov. 30.—Twenty
Indians in the village of Huixtla, Chiapas State, stood quietly in front of their church last Sunday and allowed themselves to be shot by officials who sought to remove and burn images. Three men and a child were killed.

The story, as told in belated dispatches reaching the capital said
the villagers adopted the method of passive resistance when officials tried to enter the church.

They surrounded the edifice standing quietly and refusing to allow the men to go in. The latter finally opened fire with pistols, killing four and wounding 16 of the defenders.

The officers were forced to abandon their mission.

NANKING'S FORCES PREPARE FOR NEW DRIVE ON REDS

Gen. Chiang Declares Government Seeks "to Banish the Movement From China Forever."

By the Associated Press.
NANKING, China, Nov. 30.—Gen.
Chiang Kai-shek announces the Nanking Central Government is preparing for a campaign against Communist forces in Western China "to banish the movement
from China forever."

The backbone of Communism in China, heretofore existing in Kiangsi Province, has been broken. We are now prepared to undertake a campaign in West China—the sole remaining stronghold of Communism
from China forever."

He called the Reds "inhuman," saying, "in the last seven years they slaughtered 1,000,000 persons and made 6,000,000 homeless in Kiangsi." Despite the death and destruction in Kiangsi, he said, the people are recovering under the Government reconstruction program.

Chiang, who retains vigor despite almost nine years of strenuous activity since he led the Nationalist forces northward from Canton, said China was on the doorstep of a new era of advancement heretofore unequaled.

"The nation's future unity and well-being," he said, "cannot be denied us if every Chinese can be motivated by a patriotic sense and inspired to pay the price of working ceaselessly for these goals."

BELGIAN CABINET INDORSED

Chamber of Deputies Votes Confidence in Theunis, 93 to 83.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 30.—
After three days of heated attacks by Laborites, the new Cabinet of Premier Georges Theunis yesterday obtained a vote of confidence from the Chamber of Deputies. The vote was 93 to 83, with five absent.

The Government stands for balancing the budget and maintaining the gold standard. It faces a similar test in the Senate today where it is expected to obtain indorsement by a larger margin.

Austrian Socialist Leader Urges Nation Be Taken From Fascist Playmasters, Made Neutral State

Julius Deutsch Says His Country Is Ruled by Mussolini — "Germany, a Prison, Alliance Impossible."

NOTED AUSTRIAN HERE

—By a Post-Dispatch Staff Photographer
JULIUS DEUTSCH.

Julius Deutsch, exiled Austrian Socialist leader, was in St. Louis yesterday to tell his countrymen and party comrades of Socialism's desperate and losing battle in Vienna, Feb. 12-14 last, and to talk of conditions in Central Europe under Fascism.

An audience of 700 heard him last night at Swiss Hall, Arsenal street and Iowa avenue, and saw his collection of lantern pictures of the damage done by shell-fire to the Karl Marx Hof and other apartment houses for workmen, in the Vienna fighting. Many in the audience wore the blue shirt and red necktie of the workers' Socialist group, and red armbands bearing the word "Freiheit." Freedom.

Views of Engelbert Dollfuss, Chancellor and victor in the February fighting, who was murdered five months later in resisting an unsuccessful putsch of German-backed Nazis, were shown, and were booed by the audience. One of these pictures showed the short
group, looking through field glasses at the effect of shell-fire on the distant quarters of Socialist workers.

Boeing also greeted the pictures of the funeral held for the members of the Fascist Heimwehr, killed in the February fighting and buried with full honors of state,
while the speaker related, the bodies of the Socialist dead were hauled away at night and interred without ceremony.

Dr. Deutsch—he holds a degree from the University of Zurich—is a native of Hungary, was a member of the Austrian Parliament for 15 years, and was Secretary of War of the Socialist Government of Austria from 1918 to 1920. His left eye was injured last February by a building fragment, dislodged by shellfire, and the sight of that eye was destroyed, but the eyeball was saved. He read a descriptive talk in English while his lantern views were shown, then made an address in German, of which language he has an oratorical command.

No German Alliance.
In his speech, and in a previous interview with a Post-Dispatch reporter, Dr. Deutsch declared that Anschluss—union of Austria with Germany—was not a possibility.
Italy controls Austria now, and did so while Dollfuss lived, he said, and the present danger, as he sees it, is a combination of Italian-supported Austrian Fascists and the Nazi group, to crush the remnant of the Social Democrats.

"Germany is a prison," he said,

FHA INSURANCE OF MORTGAGES ON LOW-COST HOMES

New Regulations Designed to Induce Private Capital to Finance Such Urban Buildings.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Federal Housing Administrator James
A. Moffet issued a set of new regulations yesterday which were, in effect, an invitation to private capital to invest in low-cost urban housing with Federal insurance of mortgages up to the amount of the cost of building.

The announcement said:
"Long-term mortgage loans on low-cost housing projects up to the full value of the buildings, exclusive of the land, which must be unencumbered, may be insured under Section 207."

"Capitalization of low-cost projects is limited to actual investment by the stockholders. On this they may receive regular annual dividends not to exceed 6 per cent and special disbursements not to exceed 2½ per cent a year, provided, an amount equal to that paid in such special disbursements is returned to the tenants in the form of rebates or rent."

"Earnings, if any, to accumulate 6 per cent dividends and 2½ per cent
special disbursements to stockholders and tenants must, under the rules governing insured mortgages, be allowed to accumulate for distribution to the tenants at such times and in such amounts as the administrator in his discretion shall determine."

It was provided that no capital stock be retired during the lifetime of the mortgage, which may run up to 20 years.

The Low-Cost Housing Corporations may be financed either by private capital or by municipalities or states or the Federal Government.
Rents, charges, capital structure,
rate of return and methods of operation may be regulated by the administrator.

In further defining its rules, the announcement continued:
"No applicant or proposed applicant need be represented by professional advisers or by any Washington representatives, and any statements to the contrary should

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare; never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrongs, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Counties and Relief Waste.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
MILLIONS of listeners probably heard Senator Borah's radio address regarding waste, bearing the earmarks of graft in many instances, in the distribution of Government relief funds. Mr. Borah has performed a valuable service in bringing this matter to public attention at a time when politics could not use it as a reflection on the administration at Washington. Because of his unquestionable integrity and fairness, he is well aware such conditions would exist regardless of the party in power under the present system of county government. We must bear in mind there are in excess of 3000 counties in these 48 states. This great number of counties might have been very necessary in the horse-and-buggy days, but we now find that administration is being retarded instead of speeded up, as a result of improved methods of communication. If it were possible to reduce the number of counties to about one-fourth of this number, the saving in tax dollars would be tremendous; the convenience to the Federal Government as well as to every state government would be readily recognized.

The duplication of expense on account of such unwarranted condition is tremendous, and Mr. Borah's statements regarding waste in distributing Federal relief funds is convincing evidence of waste in county government administration as it now functions. He refers to it as waste, but is it waste or a willful duplication of expense nursed along for political expediency by whichever party is in power? However, it was entirely necessary to establish relief agencies in every one of these 3000 counties. A. E. K.

Radio vs. Newspaper Advertising.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
WITH reference to the recent debates concerning the relative merits of radio and newspaper advertising: As a whole, there can be very little question of the superiority of the newspapers. I tune in the radio if I feel disposed, but of the entire schedule from 5:30 a. m. to after midnight, there are not more than a half dozen programs a reasonable being would waste time in listening to. Ninety per cent are crooning, jazz or advertising. If listening to a presentable program, I turn off the radio when the advertising begins; and I believe that is very largely the case among radio owners of intelligence. BORED.

A Tribute to St. Louis Architects.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
THE recent action of St. Louis architects, offering free advisory service in connection with the better housing campaign, is an outstanding example of civic interest in this movement.

During the last few years, architects and all other professional men have felt the pinch of the depression most acutely. Building has been below normal for several years and St. Louis architects have maintained their offices and employees at great sacrifice to themselves. The few building projects which have been undertaken during this period of depression, in many cases, have been handled without the aid and advice of an architect, which often proves costly to the owner and which he fully appreciates when the work is completed. St. Louis has many distinguished men of national reputation in this profession and much of the beauty of our city is due to the splendid co-operation which they have always been willing to give for civic betterment.

The effort to stimulate the building industry in St. Louis and 150 other cities of the United States at this time has received impetus by the architects, by establishing a bureau to give free advice and thus avoid misguided developments in St. Louis and St. Louis County. They are again placing beauty of their city before personal profit. The chapter is maintaining headquarters for the better housing campaign at 1212 Olive St. Let us thank them for their generosity and civic pride. BOYLE O. RODES.

How to Win That Plebiscite.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I am both anxious and France are both anxious to win the plebiscite to be held in the Saar Valley.

If either of them would import Pendergast and Jimmy Miller to do the work, I'll bet money, marbles or chalk that it would win.

By the way, I see that Mr. Pendergast has booked passage to Europe. I wonder. SAMUEL HILL.

Protests Auditorium Policy.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
THE policies of the Auditorium Commission have been classified to the satisfaction of the Chamber of Commerce, Real Estate Exchange and the Post-Dispatch is true. But we, the 800,000 inhabitants of this community who have built this wonderful building to house our entertainments, fail to understand how we are improving our position by assuming an annual deficit of $100,000 in lieu of having a self-sustaining institution.

This new policy of the Auditorium Commission is the age-old policy of business, of getting all of the self-liquidating and self-sustaining enterprises, while the public gets the white elephants. GEO. A. KOVAKA, Chairman, Socialist Party of St. Louis.

JAPAN AND THE NAVAL TREATY.

Japan's decision to denounce the Washington naval treaty will be received by the world with little surprise, but with great regret. Japan's recent course and her statements' utterances made it apparent long ago that she would take this action if naval parity were denied by England and America. The apparent collapse of arms limitation by international agreement, a policy hailed at its adoption in 1922 as a great forward step for world peace, is a matter of extreme regret, since its alternative, an unlimited building race, means both economic waste and danger of armed conflict.

One ground for hope remains: the fact that the treaty, even though denounced, remains in effect until Dec. 31, 1936. There may be opportunity, in the two-year interim, for an adjustment less perilous to world peace.

The 5-5-3 ratio, accepted by the nations at the Washington conference, was the target of Japan's attack at the London conversations. She demanded actual equality. It has been pointed out that Japan, by reason of her energetic building program, will have the full naval strength provided by the treaty by the end of 1936, while both the other countries will be considerably below their limits. Japan at present actually has the largest number of modern under-age vessels; the United States has the smallest. The strategic reasons why the two English-speaking Powers opposed Japan's claim for equality were summarized in a recent article by Admiral Pratt, American adviser at the London conference, as follows:

In time of war, does Japan have the seas of the world to cover as a necessary part of her own security, as does the British Empire? She does not, and in addition she has a secure line to the mainland, which England has not.

Does Japan have two great ocean fronts and one of the main water arteries of the world to defend in case of war, as does the United States? She does not.

Is there any nation in the world which, after taking care of its essential obligations at home and elsewhere, could lay successful blockade to the coast of Japan? There is not.

Japan's determination to have a big navy as a matter of national pride may satisfy the country's patriotic spirit, but, to Western eyes at least, its fulfillment would not be worth the sacrifice involved. The Japanese people have won front-rank recognition by their energy and talents. But their country does not compare with Great Britain or America by standards of population, area, resources or trade. If a building race develops, Japan could not hope to stand the pace set by the two wealthy sea Powers.

Further, it is likely that Japan's action will reopen the question of fortifications and naval bases in the Pacific. America, under the treaty, has done no building in the Philippines, the Aleutians, Guam or Samoa. Japan and England also agreed to refrain from fortifying their insular Pacific possessions. A full-fledged armament race might result in the building of fortifications in all these places, and Japan might well find herself in a worse strategic position than at present.

Much as Japan's attitude is to be deplored, and much as the outcome is to be dreaded, it is perhaps better for the treaty to be shelved than to be continued as a means of extending armaments, which was the price of Japan's continued adherence. What the world needs is fewer armaments, not more. A treaty that provided for bigger navies would be a mockery of the whole concept of arms limitation.

Japan, withdrawing from the treaty, marks herself as a militarist nation. Her action will rouse the big-navy shouters of other Powers, but the burden of launching a naval race will be upon the Japanese Government, and the greatest cost will be saddled upon the Japanese people. The world at large should hope for a turn of events in the next two years that will divert the rulers of Japan from this wanton folly—and the Japanese people themselves should join in this hope.

PROFITS FROM THE LOCH NESS MONSTER.
The marine monster which allegedly inhabits Loch Ness, Scotland, has been a subject of scientific and facetious discussion for almost two years. The mystery remains unsolved, and it is probable that its eventual debunking or confirmation will bring more grief than satisfaction to nearby Inverness. That city has reaped fine profits from the legend. Tourists in greatly augmented numbers have appeared, to the delight of the innkeepers. The souvenir trade offers a variety of post cards showing the monster in numerous strange forms, ranging from the seal to the dinosaur. One may buy little bronze monsters in the jeweler's shops; scooters in monster form for the youngsters; rubber monsters for use as bathing floats.

Does not all this enterprise give a clue to the mystery? It would not be fair, however, to convert the incident into merely another Scotch joke. Such a thing might happen anywhere in the world—and probably has happened in other regions where sensational stories have attracted visitors for a few seasons.

Isn't this about it? Japan, measuring five feet four inches, wants to be rated a six-footer.

PINERO AND THE MODERN PLAY.

The late Sir Arthur Wing Pinero was one of the prophets of the modern drama. He shocked London with "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," but his was the London which refused to produce the plays of Ibsen when they had been tolerated on the Continent for 12 years.

Pinero found the play a far different thing from the play of today. What it was in America may be judged by the great vogue which the plays of Clyde Fitch enjoyed. Ibsen had, of course, related the play to life; he used the theater as a pulpit from which to preach everything from his liberal social views to his detestation for medical orthodoxy. This was nothing new to the theater. It had been used for centuries by religious propagandists.

Pinero was not a man of the intellectual powers and social insight which make the Ibsen drama outstanding. Pinero thought the time had come to make the drawing-room drama more realistic. He knew, as theatergoers knew, that the drawing rooms of England were a great deal spicier than the theater had assumed to reveal. He knew that divorce was running domestic romance one of the tightest races in history.

The scorn with which a smug London received "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" did not dismay Pinero. He kept right on at it, and the perfect workmanship which he brought to the stage made the Pinero plays admirable for their technique if sometimes shocking for their content. "Iris" was a bold thing to do when it was first played in America. We have by this time become so sophisticated that we flock to the plays of O'Neill. Pinero was one of the people who made this realism possible. He was a master technician who despised all social sham. His dialogue was outspoken and brilliant, and he lived to see the play become like life itself.

This was a great service, one for which all lovers of the modern play should be grateful.

RELIGIOUS FREEDOM IN MEXICO.

The joint protest of Protestant, Jewish and Roman Catholic clergymen in the United States against the anti-religious crusade in Mexico is what might have been expected from a nation founded upon religious tolerance.

A national conference of Jews and Christians recently held in New York City pointed out that 95 per cent of churchgoers in Mexico are Catholics; hence it invited Protestants and Jews to take the initiative in a national petition. This has now been drawn up. More than nine-tenths of the signatories are Protestant ministers and Jewish rabbis. They represent Protestant and Jewish congregations in 41 states and Canada.

Uprisings against established religion are widespread in the world. They have occurred in Russia, in Turkey, in Spain, in Mexico and other nations. It is impossible for the world always to know just what the causes of these uprisings are. In Mexico, it is insisted that religion is antagonistic to political and social reforms which the Government is seeking to put into effect.

The trouble in Mexico has been made acute within recent years by the introduction of popular education. Whether or not the parochial schools maintained by the Catholics and other denominations have been responsible for frequent disinclination on the part of parents to send their children to the public schools, the Mexican Government has laid the blame on the parochial schools. It has gone so far as to suppress parochial schools. More shocking, in some of the states, clergymen of all denominations have been excluded. In the State of Queretaro, according to news reports, an incredibly brutal order was issued to shoot priests on sight.

The American people have been strongly sympathetic with the Mexican revolution. It was inevitable that a free people like ourselves should find much in common with the aspirations of a neighboring people seeking to be free from oppression. The deep currents of common interest running across the Rio Grande since the Mexican revolution began have entirely altered the political relations of the two republics. They were never so close together. They were never so far from any thought of war between themselves, never so disinclined to let unreason prejudice international amity.

This being so, we are hopeful that Mexico will heed the American protest in the present instance. Not to do so would be to sacrifice a large degree of American sympathy for Mexico's efforts to find the way out of social and economic chaos. It would be to injure greatly the fine friendship which prevails between these two nations.

The United States has never found that religious freedom has been a barrier to social and political progress. Upon the contrary, it presents the spectacle of powerful support in religious circles for human goals toward which the nation is groping.

Is Mexico sure that the ideals of religion are so far removed from her own political and social ideals that she cannot tolerate it in her borders? If so, she is, in our judgment, mistaken.

THE CITY TAX BILLS.

Except for the omission of the proposed gallonage tax on beer, the special tax bills passed by the Board of Aldermen this week constitute the same program which the board refused to pass for the Mayor some months ago.

Nothing has been gained by the delay, and the city will still be in arrears some $2,000,000 at the end of the fiscal year. The gallonage tax, which would have made a substantial increase in the city's revenue, met the fate of various proposals to tax powerful groups. The business men and merchants who have to pay more taxes had less political power. So did the oil companies, which will now increase the cost of gasoline to absorb the additional gasoline tax.

The Democratic administration is now suffering the consequences of having played politics by reducing property taxes. Taxes, whether on property or on gas and goods, come to pretty much the same thing in the end. Whether the money is paid from one pocket or the other cannot matter greatly to the taxpayer.

Let us hope that all the nuisance taxes will end with the emergency which they are designed to meet. We are not optimistic enough to believe that St. Louis is going to profit by this experience and devise a modern tax system, but we do promise to remark its necessity off and on.

NEXT?

Public Enemy No. 1 has been blotted from the picture.

Unfortunately, his demise was accompanied by the killing of two of the Federal Government's most valued men—Samuel P. Cowley and Herman E. Hollis. Hollis is reputedly the man who accounted for Dillinger. Both men have been prominent in the Government's great fight to exterminate the Dillinger gang.

In such a war to the death as the Government has declared upon the Dillingers and the Pretty Boy Floyds, it is inevitable that some of the law officers should fall. Thus W. Carter Baum was killed at the Little Bohemia resort in Wisconsin. And now Cowley and Hollis. To the memory of these fine, brave officers, we pay tribute.

In the main, however, it is a war the Government is winning brilliantly. Spectacular figures of the underworld no longer can lull themselves with the thought that they need deal only with local police. A long arm from Washington is reaching for them. A vigilance that never sleeps harasses them. Dillinger. Van Meter. Pretty Boy Floyd. Baby Face Nelson. They are all gone.

Who is the next desperado upon whom the dreadful name of Public Enemy No. 1 is to descend? He is next to go.

New York reports that female members of the white-tailed deer family are growing horns. Doesn't that beat the devil?

HARD AGROUND.

Is Roosevelt Moving to the Left?

Alleged inconsistency of President's course is said to be more apparent than real; his actual aim is viewed as salvation of capitalism, and to this end he is willing to experiment; program is summarized as often unorthodox but never revolutionary; writer cites liberal capitalist policy, approved by far-sighted business leaders.

From the New Republic.

READERS of the daily papers may suffer confusion as to whether the President is turning to the right or the left. He has skillfully wriggled back and forth many times in the past, making nodes and loops about a fairly straight trend. Now he seems to be going in both directions at once. He is resolved to give business a chance to see what it can do; he will resist new currency tinkering, the bonus legislation and long steps in social insurance. At the same time, he encourages public ownership of power plants and cracks down on the high rates of utilities.

We submit that the inconsistency is more apparent than real. It derives from a very hazy definition of "right" and "left." Put the issue rather in the terms in which the President probably sees his own role. He is not and never has been out for the abolition of capitalism. He does not visualize a gradual transition to a Socialist state, or think of his measures as steps in that direction. There is every reason to believe that he has never even put this alternative squarely before himself.

On the contrary, he wants to save capitalism, and has taken many occasions to express his belief in honest business and his sanction of the profit motive. He is, however, prepared to be experimental, unorthodox and vigorous in trying to save the existing order. He is prepared to do things in the interest of business which the more conventional business forces dislike. These things are denounced by them as movements to the left or even as Socialism, though as a matter of fact they include only the most moderate of reforms or even kinds of experiment that believers in a new order would not themselves sanction.

No Socialist or Communist has ever advocated devaluation of the currency or inflation as a major policy. Mr. Roosevelt's previous unorthodoxy on these matters is not "left" by the revolutionary test. The chief advocates of monetary tinkering are a group of business men who themselves are insistent that there should be no other interference with business; Dr. Wirt's famous charge that the administration harbored revolutionaries came from this very group.

Public ownership of electric utilities is in a sense a step away from that vague abstraction, "the profit system," but it exists in many capitalist countries where the heart of the system has not been touched. Cheap power is not a disadvantage to business, and the manufacture of electrical devices would certainly be aided if householders could use more current. Mr. Roosevelt's policy of spending for relief and for construction, moderate as this spending has been, is a double-barreled protection of the existing system; it helps allay the dissatisfaction of the unemployed and it is supposed to stimulate recovery, without which capitalism is certainly lost.

Mr. Roosevelt favored the wage increases of the NRA men who the impression, not that they would injure business, but rather that they would help it. He has said many harsh words about bankers and Wall Street, but his desire to reform their practices follows a well-grounded belief that capitalism cannot long survive a repetition of the abuses of the past. Everything the President has done that has displeased the ruling economic powers has been called a gesture to the left, but by the same token, it has been done in the long-time interest of their class. The present tactics of the President appear a little clearer on this basis. The measures so far undertaken have failed to bring sustained recovery. He has been frankly disappointed in the monetary experiment. The one thing lacking is new investment by private capital to stimulate construction and the heavy industries. The President and some of the more far-sighted business leaders have therefore come together on the basis of a liberal capitalist policy.

Business, on its side, will accept certain moderate and necessary reforms. It will strive to allay the exaggerated fears aroused by its extremist factions, so that capital may have more confidence. The President, for his part, will avoid new measures that are likely to frighten business. He will go as slowly as he can on the reform program, at least for a time. Both together will fight against the more extreme inflationary and spending tendencies in Congress.

The theme of this concert is that a liberal capitalist program is necessary to avert something worse. If improvement takes place, both will be satisfied. If it does not, business and finance can no longer contend that they have not had their chance. Then we shall see what we shall see. Doubtless the President will inaugurate something else, like a housing program, which is quite possible without upsetting capitalism, and for which he would hope to have some business support.

At the end of the New Deal, we shall have nothing more to the left than many other nations—such as Great Britain—have long since digested. We shall have an attempt to police the financial markets against dishonesty, a halfway program of social insurance, a certain amount of Government subsidy in housing, a trade-union movement somewhat less widespread and powerful than the British at present or the German before Hitler. We shall have more public ownership of utilities than before, but less than in most other industrial nations. This is the extreme left to which the President's "leftward" tendencies may take us.

TINKHAM, THE VETERAN.

From the Boston Evening Transcript.
CONSIDERING George Holden Tinkham's buoyant spirit and restless activity, it is hard to think of him as a veteran. Yet the old figures reveal that only two Republicans in the House of Representatives have seen longer service in Congress and only 11 out of the whole membership of 435. Republicans and Democrats alike, outrank him in seniority.

By all the visible signs on one election day after another, George Tinkham is Boston's favorite Congressman. For the eleven straight term, a strongly Democratic district is now sending this stalwart Republican to represent it in Washington. That it regards his performance as a perfectly natural one is as fine a tribute to Tinkham's forthrightness, political courage and ability as any man could wish.

The Brandeis Philosophy

Raymond Moley in Today.

THE economic and social philosophy of Justice Brandeis is an important intellectual institution in days of changing governmental policies. His presence on the Supreme Court at a moment when many of these policies are under consideration, and the potent influence in the administration of many who have drawn heavily from the wisdom of his writings in their formative years, give his ideas wide interest.

A collection of his representative papers has just appeared under the appropriate title, "The Course of Big Game" (Viking Press). These papers include excerpts from his judicial opinions, testimony before committees, articles, letters and occasional speeches. The subject matter covers social insurance, business efficiency, labor relations, monopolies and trusts, railroads, finance, Zionism, public service and the law. An examination of Justice Brandeis' reflections shows the essential error in current attempts to classify people as members of the left or the right. There are, in these papers, grave skepticism concerning an overly-ambitious effort toward experimentation on a national scale and, correspondingly, a firm belief that the states are the more appropriate places to try things out. There is a keen realization of how hard it is to get into the public service men and women competent to perform the tasks imposed by a rapid absorption by government of private functions; a firm belief in small business units; a fair sympathy of orthodoxy in finance; broad sympathy for the rights of labor; a deep respect for practical competence wherever it appears.

A teapot tempest recently bubbled over a statement by Gen. Johnson that he had counsel with Justice Brandeis. I did not feel much disturbed over it, although I suspect the view that specific advice should not be given by a member of the court to those who are drafting legislation for Congress. I happen to know that Justice Brandeis and Gen. Johnson respect it, too, and did not violate it.

This book makes it possible for members of the administration to get a glimpse of the view that specific advice should not be given by a member of the court to those who are drafting legislation for Congress. I believe they will find it decidedly worth their while.

PRIMER LESSON ON WAR DEBTS.

From the Baltimore Evening Sun.
PRIME MINISTER MacDonald referred in the House of Commons a few days ago to a subject that is familiar, perhaps to old, veteran newspaper readers, but which has hardly been mentioned in the papers recently. The subject is "war debt," and it may be advisable to explain to some of the newer readers what the term means.

Tradition has it that during the Great War, starting in 1914 and which this country entered in 1917, the United States lent billions to various European nations, expecting them to be paid back. So a scaling down process began until, in some cases, this country was offering to settle at 5 cents on the dollar. But the European nations declined to settle, even on that basis, so there seems to have been a tacit agreement to forget the whole business.

It is this ancient controversy to which the Prime Minister referred. What he said was merely that nothing in the situation has changed, so the subject may now be relegated once more to the antiquarians.

The DAILY WASHINGTON

MERRY GO ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30. It is the fate of almost every administration to suffer wide and sometimes unbridgeable splits within its own family. This is true during the days of Woodrow Wilson, of Taft, of Harding and already it is increasingly true of the Administration of Franklin Roosevelt.

Even within the Cabinet—a comparatively small group supposedly pulling for party and for country—the clash of personalities and policies is too great, the struggle for power too tempting.

The cleavage in the Roosevelt official family has increased ever since its overwhelming vote of confidence Nov. 6. It was brought to public attention by the Ickes-Moffett row. Actually it is more ancient and deeper than this.

The battle is between the New Dealers and the old—the men who favor long term reconstruction and those who want immediate recovery even if it means a change of board in attaining it; the men who feel that country should come before party and those who would build up Democracy at the expense of the country.

Divided Against Itself.

On these issues, the Cabinet and those closest to the President, divide themselves into three groups.

There are the outright New Dealers: Ickes, Wallace, Perkins, and to a considerable extent, Morgenthau, Tugwell and various members of the Brain Trust.

There are the outright Old Dealers: Farley, Roper, MacIntyre, Moffett, Hurla and Howe.

Then there is a borderline group of old-fashioned Democrats who retain occasional streaks of liberalism, sometimes are found in one category, sometimes in the other. They include: Cummings, Dern, Hull, and Swanson.

Between the first two groups there is bitter, poorly-concealed and continual warfare. It is important because it is symbolic of the forces pulling the administration in two directions. It will get a lot worse before it gets any better.

Here are the chief personalities involved:

Conservatives.

LEADER of the conservatives is Big Jim Farley. Jim is proud of his conservatism. He thinks the Government should stay out of these new-fangled ideas, unless it can make some money for itself. He mentions at Cabinet meetings the money the Postoffice Department is getting by selling new series of stamps, how the Government should make money out of its national parks and forests.

Perhaps even more potent in this group is Marvin MacIntyre, presidential secretary. MacIntyre came to the White House without definite conviction, but he has acquired any since, they are as Bourbon as Louis XVI.

"Nut ideas" is MacIntyre's description for a lot of the New Deal program. Because of his position in sorting out what and who should

LABORATORY DEVICES

SPEED WORK OF EYE

Mechanical "Mind" Does 50,000 Subtractions a Minute in Spectroscopy.

By the Associated Press.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 30.—A new mechanical "mind" that can do 50,000 subtractions a minute and a new electric "eye" that reads wave lengths of light, were announced today at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. They were developed by Prof. George Harrison, director of the institute's spectroscopy laboratory.

Both apparatus have to do with the lines of the spectrum, lines no thicker than fine hairs, which appear in almost endless numbers on a photographic plate after light has passed through a glass prism. The study of these lines shows what is going on within atoms.

The new machines provide substitute methods for laborious calculations and readings heretofore made through use of the human eye. So slow were the old methods that photographs of complex spectra produced in a few hours might keep several men measuring, computing and tabulating for several months.

One of the machines is an "interval sorter." It will take the lines of the spectrum and subtract the distance of each line from every other line. The result shows the "energy levels" in atoms, or how energy is locked in them. When these subtractions were made mentally one investigator might be required to make as many as 100,000 computations.

The ultra-rapid "eye" measures and computes the wave lengths of energy given off by atoms. This is done by measuring the position of a line on the spectrum, formerly accomplished by the human eye with an instrument capable of measuring distances of a twenty-five thousandth of an inch.

The new eye uses photo-electric cells, so sensitive to reflected light from the hair-like lines, that they "see" the exact middle point. At that instant they set off an electric circuit which records the measurement. At present this mechanical eye works 20 times faster than the human eye. It is expected to go ultimately 200 times faster.

DEAN HECKEL OF MISSOURI U.

UPHOLDS FRATERNITY SYSTEM

Fundamental Worth in Organized Friendliness of College Men, He Says in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Acknowledging that the fraternity system "will have its imperfections," Dean Albert K. Heckel of the University of Missouri defended it Wednesday night in an address at the College Fraternity Secretaries' Association dinner, preliminary to the opening of the national inter-fraternity conference tomorrow.

"The fraternity system as a whole is good, not bad," said Dr. Heckel. "It is so good we wish it were better. There is something of fundamental worth in an organized friendliness of college men."

He warned, however, that the fraternity's ideals "are meaningless and worthless" unless they "enter the lives of youth."

Other speakers at the dinner were Fred H. Turner, dean of men at the University of Illinois, and F. M. Massey, dean of men at the University of Tennessee.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

MORE than 1000 guests greeted Miss Anne Waters Francis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Francis, at her Thanksgiving day debut reception yesterday at their home, 6464 Ellenwood avenue. From 4 o'clock until late in the evening, motor cars stopped under the lighted canopy built from the house to the street, and debutantes of this and other seasons, their escorts, and hundreds of family friends and relatives emerged to call.

The party was one of the most elaborate home receptions given in recent years. To provide additional space for the unusually large number of guests, the garden at the back of the house was inclosed in satin-like canvas and heated. Frost-bitten rose bushes and flowering plants were transformed by florists to their June colorings, and brown November turf was made green again by a cloth covering. Around the sides of the inclosure was an English cedar hedge six feet tall, lighted from the back by tall inverted lamps which shed their glow on a blue ceiling draped to resemble a summer sky. A sunken garden, bordered by a low stone wall, bloomed with growing yellow chrysanthemums, and in the center a fountain, surrounded by climbing myrtle, played. At the far end of the garden, with spot lights shining from each side, was a pergola, one side of which was covered with a grape arbor laden with hundreds of clusters of real grapes, and the other with many dozens of blooming yellow roses. Punch was served in the arbor from a tiled-covered blue-green table. Garden furniture was arranged in groups about the garden and refreshments were served there.

The balcony leading from the living room was ivy-covered and banked with flowers. At one side a group of musicians from the Symphony orchestra played during the receiving hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis and their daughter received in the living room before the paneled fireplace which was completely concealed by baskets of gift flowers sent to the debutante. Mrs. Francis wore a gown of bronze green bagheer with a large band of violets at her belt. Miss Francis chose a red velvet for the attractive afternoon gown she wore. It was designed with a high neck, long draped sleeves and a train. She carried an armful of tulle roses.

Among those assisting were the following members of the Francis family: Mr. and Mrs. David R. Francis Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Perry Francis, Mr. and Mrs. Taiton T. Francis and Charles Francis, brothers and sisters-in-law of the host; their nieces, Miss Alice, Miss Jane Perry, and Miss Miriam Francis; Miss Marian Perry, Charles Perry, Mrs. Kenneth G. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Day, Mrs. Boyd Ware, all relatives; and a large group of friends including Mr. and Mrs. Ingram F. Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Lynton T. JAPAN DEMANDING POWER 'IN SPIRIT' OF DISARMAMENT

Japanese Government, has now been reached on a price of transfer and most of the other major points, leaving only a few technical questions yet to be solved. I expect an early conclusion of the transaction, although it will still require some more time before final settlement of questions involving minor details can be arrived at.

"Preliminary naval conversations at London are at present being carried on chiefly between the three great naval powers, Japan, Great Britain and the United States. The Japanese Government is paying close attention to the progress of the conversations, as they touch upon matters of extreme importance.

"The British Government proposed that preliminary conversations be held at London among the individual powers concerned in order to facilitate the work of the naval conference scheduled for next year. The Japanese Government, considering such preliminary conversations to be opportune, accepted the British proposal. As a result, the conversations were opened on June 18.

"To put the matter briefly, at the outset views were exchanged among the powers concerned regarding questions of procedure for next year's conference and since the resumption of conversations in October, discussions on substantial questions of disarmament have been going on between Japan, Great Britain and the United States.

"In these negotiations the Japanese Government, while aiming at Japan's possession of a naval force fully adequate for security of her national defense, is endeavoring to establish firmly the principle of non-aggression and non-aggression. It is according to this principle that Japan proposes abolition of the ratio principle hitherto in force and establishment of a common upper limit for the powers concerned.

"In consonance with the spirit of the conference we desire to bring about thorough and drastic naval reduction and to lighten thereby the tax burden of nations in the future. To that end we desire to bring down this common upper limit to the lowest level possible and at the same time through drastic reduction and limitation of offensive arms and proper adjustment in defensive arms, to render it difficult for any power to attack another but easy to defend itself.

"Our delegates are continuing their efforts toward realization of our plan based on the above policy and at same time toward conclusion of a new and reasonable treaty. It is to be hoped that Great Britain, the United States and other powers concerned will see the equity and justice of our claim and that a new naval pact will be brought into being to insure and promote world peace. I am not at liberty to give further details now because developments in preliminary conversations are to be held confidential, but I expect to be able to say more on the subject upon another occasion."

be ignored. The payment by any applicant to any such adviser or representative of any fee or commission upon the contingency of his securing a mortgage in connection with the submission of its application is disapproved.

"Persons or groups contemplating projects will deal directly with the Washington offices of the administration. Informal applications, it was stated, are invited as well as formal ones.

Tests of Insurability.

To obtain insurance in excess of 80 per cent of its value a property must be exceptionally well situated, the corporation must have at least 3 per cent working capital and an equity in the completed property of at least the value of the land.

The basic test, for determining the insurability of a mortgage will be the soundness of the project rated on the following bases: Social and economic trends of the neighborhood in which the property is situated; satisfactory corporate structure and other legal considerations; physical structure of the building or buildings; design and livability; pattern of mortgage value of project, capital structure, probable income and expense, credit of borrower, method of financing; management, supervision and accounting of project after completion; and present and probable taxes and bonded debt of the community in which the project is situated, probable trend of zoning legislation and legislation affecting the rights and remedies of debtors and creditors.

The Federal Housing Administration's announcement held out hope in some instances of full inclusion of the two classes of property with which it deals, namely, "properties comprised in low-cost housing projects occupied by a large number of family units, in either one building or a group of buildings."

Previously it had issued regulations on "properties occupied by one-to-four family dwellings," providing insurance up to 80 per cent of the value of property on mortgages not exceeding $16,000.

AUSTRIAN URGES NATION BE MADE A NEUTRAL STATE

next day they would proceed against the Marxists, and would do their task completely.

"The next day, Monday, Feb. 12, the leaders of the dissolved Schutzbund were arrested, and houses were searched to disarm workers. The raiding began in Linz, at the Social Democratic clubhouse, and the news was telephoned to Vienna. In Vienna, he told how the fighting soon centered on the Karl Marx Hof, monumental apartment house for workers. He gave the Socialist side of the controversy over the architecture and purpose of this building, the Government having charged that it was "a skillfully constructed fortress," while the Socialists insist that it was designed only to afford light, air and healthful conditions to the families of workers.

Homes in Ruins.

Jagged holes in the walls of the Karl Marx Hof, made by shellfire, were shown in the lantern pictures. Interior views showed apartments utterly wrecked and furniture in splinters. The adjoining Children's Home was shown to have suffered similar damage, and the speaker said two children were killed there, besides women and children killed in the Marx Hof and other large apartment houses. Similar views of other apartment buildings after the bombardment were shown, the Gothe Hof having suffered the greatest degree of demolition. Other pictures were of flimsy street barricades, which Government tanks broke down; of a Schutzbund group drilling on skis in winter; a Schutzbund machine gunner, killed beside his weapon; and the wrecked home of Albert Sever, member of Parliament and former suburban mayor of Ottakring, who was blinded, while his wife was killed.

Dr. Deutsch passed over his own activities in the Vienna fighting without detailed description, saying that he might implicate others, still within the reach of the Government, if he told too much. He told the story of his flight, suffering from his eye injury, from Vienna to the town of Hainburg, a center of Socialist strength, and across the Czechoslovakian border. His wife, his two children and his sister were arrested, and were held in concentration camps, but escaped from Austria after a short time, and are now in neighboring countries.

The visitor, who spoke calmly of his own vicissitudes, told with unconcealed bitterness of the hanging of captured leaders of the Schutzbund, some of them helpless from wounds, by the Dollfus government.

On Stretcher to Gallows.
"The execution of Karl Muenichreiter was one of the greatest abominations in history," he declared. "He had to be carried to the gallows on a stretcher. That would be a rare occurrence even in wartime, since it violates the Geneva Red Cross agreement. Muenichreiter died like a hero. While being taken from his stretcher to the gallows he cried aloud, 'Long Live Social Democracy, Liberty!'"

He described, in like tone, the deaths of Koloman Wallisch, leader of the Styrian workers; of George Weissel, commander of the suburban fire company in Florisdorf, and of other Socialist and Schutzbund leaders.

Dr. Deutsch was guest of honor at a reception yesterday afternoon at Socialist Party headquarters, 1603 South Jefferson avenue. At lunch earlier he met some local sympathizers not connected with the Socialist organization. He arrived yesterday morning from Chicago, and departed today for Kansas City.

Thanksgiving in New York.
The Face of Baby.
1000 Planes Scare Him.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

ON Thanksgiving day, New York was rather lonely. The streets were bare, you could see five or six blocks ahead of you. All who could go had taken their automobiles into the country. It was a warm day.

There were ghosts along Fifth Avenue of those who once drove up and down slowly; fine ladies, with purple parasols, in their open Victorias, noses tilted slightly upward, old-fashioned gentlemen with whiskers on the sides of their faces, white waistcoats in the daytime.

Perhaps the short old man, playing a small hand-organ, and looking up toward windows where servants live saw some of those ghosts. He is an old New Yorker, still speaks German better than English, remembers people and things as he grinds out "The Marseillaise."

That tune, the old man explains, is a song that Frenchmen like, and Socialists, too, but it is old, and nobody knows what it is any more.

That would surprise Rouget de Lisle, whose head was left on his shoulders by the revolutionary tribunal because when asked if he had any reason to offer why he should not be guillotined, he remarked that he had written "The Marseillaise."

After "The Marseillaise," the old man played "When You and I Were Young Maggie." That was for ordinary Americans.

Newspapers show photographs of "Baby Face" Nelson, dead in the morgue, many bullet holes in his body, his head on a small wooden pillow, such as Oriental young ladies once used to preserve elaborate coiffures through the night.

In the photograph, a policeman points to one of 17 bullet holes, made, in his opinion, by the bullet that ended the outlaw's life. Not one bullet of the machine gun spray had hit his "baby face," which, by the way, is anything BUT a baby face.

It is a face that psychologists will study, the face of a hard fighter. In other times, under other conditions, such a man might have been useful to his country, a credit to his friends and family. The thick, curly hair, small mustache and white teeth probably explained his nickname.

Samuel P. Cowley and Herman E. Hollis, Federal agents killed by "Baby Face" Nelson, disposed of him with 17 bullets before they died. They will be honored with temporary praise, but the law does not give their families any part of the reward that would have been paid if someone, not a Federal agent, had killed the outlaw.

Walter Winchell suggests that Government pay the reward to widows of the dead agents, an excellent suggestion.

Stanley Baldwin, who helps run the British Government, warns the House of Commons that Germany threatens Europe, and tells of war preparations that make Germany dangerous. He does not discuss floating ships that are only targets for airplanes, does not talk of millions of men marching, waiting to be passed from the air.

He tells the House of Commons, with fear in his voice, and a response of anxiety from his hearers, that Germany, re-armed, "possesses a military air force of about 1000 planes."

One thousand planes, half for bombing, with gas and high explosives, one-half swift pursuit planes, drive away hostile aircraft, could enable Germany to declare war in the morning and destroy Paris, Marseilles, Bordeaux, London, Manchester and Liverpool, all in the same day.

Mrs. Louise Menzies, New York lady visiting Tallahassee, Fla., has a baby weighing 21 ounces, fed with an eyedropper, crying when hungry.

That baby seems small, but what a wonderful thing if all babies could weigh as little, for the relief of human mothers. A 1000-pound grizzly bear mother bears a cub weighing less than that Florida baby. The cub is born during the mother's winter sleep. She does not even know about it. It finds its own way to the dining car, all alone, in the dark. Wonderful nature.

A 10-pound baby for a 90-pound human mother, and a 16-ounce baby for a 1000-pound grizzly bear seems like overdoing the curse put upon Eve for that one apple, and talk with the snake.

Tarkington's Latest Novel To Be Filmed

Freddie Bartholomew and Cora Sue Collins Cast for
"Rennie Peddigo."

By Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 28.

It may have cost a fortune to get Freddie Bartholomew here from England, what with delaying "David Copperfield" and having to get his father's permission to let him leave London. But he is supposed to be worth every dime spent on him. He is so good that Rennie Peddigo, the story of children and their wealthy parents, has been bought by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for him.

Little Cora Sue Collins, whom I watched make a scene for "Evelyn Prentiss" and whose naturalness and childishness are so appealing, will play opposite Freddie. The two children will be the stars although the role of the parents will naturally be important.

Charlie Chan registers with the mob and after all, they pay the most nickels in the theaters. When you say Charlie Chan you mean Warner Oland so Fox has signed him for six more Charlie Chan pictures. He made within the next two years with John Stone as producer. Funny part, they tried to do a "Charlie Chan" picture without Warner Oland and it just wasn't any use. He so established the character that to make the picture without him was like eating apple pie without cheese. The first two Chans are "Charlie Chan in Buenos Aires" with Raul Roulien and Conchita Montenegro, and "Charlie Chan in Morocco."

Chatter in Hollywood: If Josephine Hutchinson and Jimmy Townsend, the agent, have no serious matrimonial plans, they are certainly not pinning away for want of each other's company. They are together every day and every evening. They make an odd couple, but they are a quiet, serious, artistic and literary couple. The first two Chans are "Charlie Chan in Buenos Aires" with Raul Roulien and Conchita Montenegro, and "Charlie Chan in Morocco."

A line or two: Twelve weeks' booking for Bebe Daniels and Ben Lyon. Now you can see how well these two are being received throughout the country; their notices are wonderful. They open in Montreal Dec. 6 and they write they hope they can get home for Christmas. But they are not sure. The Hal Roach studio, today, was laughing over the trick played on them by Jeanette MacDonald and Lawrence Traver, head of the casting bureau, announced that they were going to get married over the week-end and asked for time off. Instead, they went on a honeymoon. They were married Nov. 11 and didn't take a soul into their confidence. Dorothy Mackall writes to say that she will not appear in a vaudeville sketch with Lila Lee and Buster Collier. She says she has settled down to read plays and she is going to open in New York in a stage play as soon as she can find one that is right for her. Paramount says that Mae West's picture beat "College Rhythm" for the entire week by $435 and they ought to know. Junior Laemmle sails Saturday on the Rex for a trip abroad.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Elsie Torrence establishing a new record in bicycling at La Quinta; she, Elizabeth Allen and Mrs. Howard Hawks motored down to weekend with Gloria Swanson; Eddie Goulding, who visited Marjorie, his wife, also stopped by for luncheon; Gloria, a deep, golden skin, looks like a million; she has gone in for the big outdoor life and has never in all her life looked so well; some of the La Quinta guests and everyone in Palm Springs went to the historic baseball game; Danie Lloyd, Harold's papa, gave the guests a tea in the attractive house he and Mrs. Lloyd have built in the desert; all the movie players, Richard Arlen, Street, Gallagher, Frank Morgan, Ralph Bellamy and their wives.

CHRISTMAS BOOKS for CHILDREN

By Sylvia Stiles

WHEN Santa Claus appeared in the toy departments with his new stock of playthings that smacked of modern realism, one adult skeptic who surveyed them was heard to remark:

"These toys are beautiful, but they are so much like the real thing they leave little to the child's imagination."

There may have been a certain amount of truth in this observation, but we'll have to give the children's friend of the Christmas season credit for balancing his budget. He always had a few surprises tucked away in his pack, no matter how modern it may have become, and one of these surprises this year is the collection of books for children.

Development of imagination is their chief asset and charm. When weary of the streamline trains and electrically propelled household appliances so popular among the year's toys, the boy and girl can select any one of a number of books, curl up in a chair and be sailing to other lands and other ages in the twinkling of an eye. There are travel books galore, and there are books with a historical background.

Among the novel presentations of travel themes is that of the "Traveling Toys," the story of the adventures of a family took with them on a trip around the world. Contrasts of customs in different countries are portrayed in a naive manner. Let's Go Round the World is another attractively

the educational as well as entertaining features of these books. "Homes and Habits of Wild Animals" has perhaps the widest appeal among these, its interest ranging from the very young child to the one of 11 or 12 years. This introduces full page color plates with interesting descriptions of the animals pictured.

Boys will like a collection of dog stories by Rudyard Kipling which has been compiled recently and which includes one hitherto unpublished story. "Crazy Quilt" happens to refer to a pony, while "Midgit and Bridget" are two burros that have interesting adventures.

Fun is another delightful study in which Munro Leaf treats of such grammatical errors as the use of "can't" for "may," "set" for "sat" and double negatives. Cartoon-like drawings illustrate the text.

The child who is interested in music will be encouraged to work more diligently after reading "Mozart, the Wonder Boy." The "Junior Book of Authors," created to appeal to children from 7 years old to 17, discusses some of the most interesting facts in the history of well-known authors and includes 250 illustrations.

Little girls who never tire of reading about Cinderella will find a new picture book which introduces the most modern of crayon and color illustrations. The story of "The Three Little Bears" has been shown of its tearome features and the works of Lewis Carroll are available in new book form. There also is a new compilation of John Martin's "Tell Me a Story" book. Another revival is the "Read-Aloud" book which includes allusions to many favorites of juvenile fiction. Arthur Rackham's whimsical illustrations appear in "The Pied Piper of Hamelin" and give it a fresh interest.

An innovation is provided by "Birds and Animals Through Eyes of the Ortho-Scope." Photographs and descriptions of world famous bird and animal groups from the Field Museum of Natural History are arranged in book form and accompanied by a little object known as the ortho-scope which provides "three dimensional realism." This book is available in two forms.

"Vanishing Wilderness," dealing with 19 different animals, is the work of Francesca La Monte and Micaela Welch of the American Museum of Natural History and is a Junior Literary Guild selection.

Among other photographic books is one entitled "Billy" by Ruth Alexander Nichols. This is similar to the "Nancy" book that came out last year and proved so popular. The things that a little boy likes to do are presented in this book in an instructive and entertaining manner. Photographic pictures of the new trains form another book attractive.

Teaching children important subjects in a casual manner seems to be the theme of the so-called educational volumes. "Around the Clock" supplies good fun while instructing little folks in the art of telling time. It was written by Lena Towles. "Grammar Can Be

CHAPTER TWENTY-TWO.

ELLEN SPENCER and Ward Quentin sat looking at each other across the small hotel room which Ellen had taken for the day. "It's a trick," the woman exclaimed bitterly. "It's a trick."

"It's no trick," Ward said emphatically, pushing the ash tray away from him. "All my plans ruined—"

"All our plans," he corrected quickly. "I put up the money, Quentin, all of it, every cent of it. Six thousand dollars wasted on that girl! Terrible. The money gone—"

"Well, you inherit $20,000 under Miss Raleigh's will. You're not sitting so badly. The $6000 was a gamble."

"You spent it, Quentin. You got the good out of it. I saw none of it. You and the girl—"

Ward got up impatiently. Women were so petty about money. He hated dealing with them for that reason. Ellen, moaning about her lost $6000 as if it had been $60,000. When she was getting $20,000 in cash when the will was probated and he was getting nothing. All these weeks lost—

"Just what did she say?" "Who?" Quentin asked, kicking a footstool out of his way. "The Carey girl."

"I've told you a dozen times what she said, Ellen. Can't you understand English? The lockbox she found isn't the right lockbox. It doesn't match the set Miss Raleigh had. And we know it had to match the set—that's what the will said, if you'll think back to the time you read it."

"If only the will had been more specific—we would have known which lockbox it was!" Ellen mourned, shaking her head from side to side sadly.

The late Miss Raleigh's housekeeper had aged five years in two hours. There were lines around her mouth which had never been there before, her cheeks were ashen gray and her lips bloodless. Her shoulders sagged forward as she sat in the straight-backed chair.

Two hours ago everything was so bright, the future, hers and Jay's, absolutely assured. Millions they would have, for six millions divided by three gave two millions apiece. Two millions for her, two millions for Jay, and two for Quentin who shouldn't have insisted on equal rights, but who had, regardless.

Her work, her plans— True, it was Jay who had given her the original idea with the casual suggestion that Miss Raleigh's will might be eccentric, as eccentric as the lady who signed it. After his one lunch, it was left to her to make everything certain.

Wasn't it she who had taken the risk of opening the safe in the library of Raleigh Park? The safe had not contained the will, but that had not daunted her. Not Ellen Spencer. She had reasoned correctly. If the will wasn't in the library safe, surely it was in Christopher Abbott's safe in the Boyer Building. A difficult matter—for a woman, for Jay was squeamish—to hire a professional safecracker, but she had done it, and paid the man $500 from her own pocket for the job.

In Abbott's safe was what she wanted, Harriet Raleigh's will, both the original and one copy. Seven million dollars to charity, a quarter of a million dollars for servants and retainers, of which she was to get a meagre $20,000, her brother, Jay, who was Miss Raleigh's estate manager, $10,000, and six million dollars for the lucky person who found the lockbox.

The copy was in Ellen's safety deposit box that minute. Annoying that the lockbox should not be described in detail in the will. Frantically annoying, Abbott, under terms of the will, had the remainder of the set to which it belonged, the earnings and the brooch in his own safety deposit box.

And safety deposit boxes were practically impregnable, as Ellen realized.

Wasn't it she, Ellen Spencer, who had decided that the lockbox, being lost, might be advertised as found? Of course, and of which she discovered Fran Carey's ad in a back issue of the Herald. "Found at Third and Cedar," as clear as day printed in the Herald. "To be dropped at Third and Cedar and left for lost," as clear as day in Miss Raleigh's will, fourth paragraph, twenty-seventh page—for the will was a lengthy one.

The same lockbox, to be sure! Abbott had thought that, too, because he knew about Miss Carey and was protecting her when Ellen and Jay discovered the will in April.

The brainstorm of Quentin belonged to both of them, but Jay claimed the credit for that, too. A third party would be needed. Who would be better for that third party than the charming, interesting Ward Quentin, whom Ellen had known in his childhood, through his aunt who was a school chum, and with whom, as a grown man, she had renewed acquaintance on the Riviera several years ago when she had a four months' leave of absence from Raleigh Park. Ward's exploits with women amused Ellen, for he had become confidential about them in the south of France in a rare mood of loquacity. When she ran across him in town a week before she read Miss Raleigh's will, she told Jay, and they laughed together. Then, when they needed someone—well, Ward was the man. The meeting seemed sheer good luck.

Who could connect Quentin with her and Jay? No one. His aunt

TODAY'S PATTERN

House Frock

HERE'S a house frock as trim as any business dress and just as carefully styled for becomingness and chic. Its slimming silhouette closing up button into place, as may the point of that nice slender panel. The belt slips under the front of the dress a slenderizing half-belted effect, and then ties into a little bow at the back, very perky-like. The panel itself breaks into pleats at the knee. A new tweedy-patterned broadcloth, or a small-checked gingham would be a nice choice for this design. And, of course, you'll want to make the belt and the bindings of contrasting color for an extra touch of smartness!

Pattern 2077 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric and 3/4 yard contrasting. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

CITY SLICKERS HAVE THE EDITOR GUESSING (From the Lamar, Mo., Democrat.)

"There was a story that a man and a woman named Endicott, evidently strangers in the community, were held up, on a country lane south of the Four Street Road, Thursday afternoon. The alleged victims said a man and a woman who looked like Indians, and who rode in a Chevrolet, stopped them by crowding them off the road, and robbed them of something like twenty-three dollars. Deputy Charlie Reid was notified, and he at once set out to try and locate the Indians. Charlie is a good sleuth and people who look like Indians would be shining marks for pursuit, but he could find nothing of them. The holdup, a little phoney, though it might have been the real thing."

Making Life as One Wishes It, With Thinking

So Much Depends on Thoughts That They Are Made to Happen.

By Elsie Robinson

POSE you want some percolator coffee—what do you do? You plug in on the electric connection. Bang!—back comes the "juice" and in a jiffy the water's boiling, the iron's hot, your friend is answering.

What is that mysterious "juice"? What happens when you make that connection?

Unless you're an electrician you haven't the slightest idea—and even then you can't tell what electricity is. But you don't need to know. Just shove in the plug, and the unseen power will do the rest.

But now suppose you want things which are far more precious than good coffee or a smooth shirt—happiness, confidence, success, peace of mind? How can you get these things?

"IN EXACTLY THE SAME WAY . . . BY PLUGGING IN," cries Mary Pickford. "KNOW—FOR I'VE DONE IT MYSELF."

A tall statement? Yes—but "our Mary" has put it into the simplest, most comforting, little book on the market today. "WHY NOT TRY GOD?" (H. C. Kinsey & Co., New York, publisher.) No matter who you are, you're going to like that book. It's Mary's own story. Behind the plain words you can hear her laugh—see her own tears—touch her friendly hand. Perhaps that's why she makes God seem as practical and possible as any household fixture.

Who is God? Mary doesn't try to answer that. She doesn't even care whether you call that mysterious Power who has all the makings God. That Power, says she, will work no matter what you call it. Just as the power behind the percolator works. All you need do is—PLUG IN!

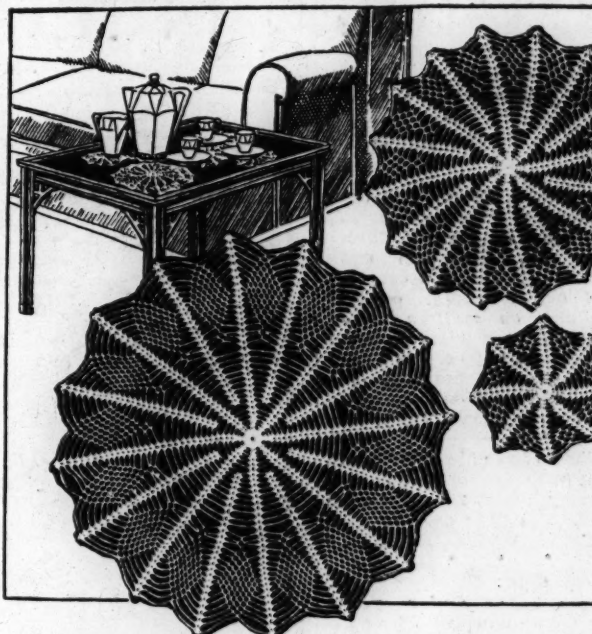

But how? With what? WITH YOUR THOUGHTS.

All your life you've been "plugging in" your thoughts. Thoughts are your only connection with life. Things have no meaning until you think about them. You put their meaning into them by thinking. Things ARE, FOR YOU, what you think they are. They're beautiful or ugly according to your own attitude.

Life is as you take it. Life is what you make it. You make it by your THOUGHTS. What do you get out of life? You get what you THINK. AND YOU CAN THINK WHATEVER YOU WANT TO THINK.

You've seen that proven a million times. Half a dozen people will be talking about some other person. Each of those people will see something different in that person. One will see sweetness, another loneliness, another stupidity, another shrewdness, another malice, or another pride. And each

CROCHETED DOILIES PATTERN 867

THESE dainty doilies are made almost entirely of chain stitch. They are in three sizes and are equally practical for a luncheon set, buffet set, or sherry doilies. Made of heavy crochet cotton they measure 15 inches, 11 inches and 8 1/2 inches. If smaller ones are desired, a finer cotton can be used. If you wish to use twine, your doilies will turn out slightly larger than the sizes given.

Pattern 867 comes to you with complete directions for making the doilies shown; illustrations of the doilies and of all stitches used; material requirements.

judgment will be the truth. All of those attributes are in that person—BUT EACH CRITIC FINDS WHAT HE WISHES TO FIND.

We think what we wish to think, and our life is whatever we think. We have no life save what we think for we live in our own thoughts. OUR THOUGHTS ARE OUR LIFE. . . THEY'RE ALL WE GET OUT OF LIFE. . . THEY'RE THE ONLY LIFE WE HAVE.

Nobody else's thoughts can help us, and nobody else's thoughts can harm us. Splendid things—or dreadful things—may happen to us. But they can't happen IN us—they can't become part of our lives—unless we let them.

That's why some of the richest people are the most miserable—and some of the poorest and most afflicted are the happiest. It isn't what happens to you that counts—it's the way you take it. AND YOU CAN TAKE IT IN ANY WAY YOU WISH.

And so—says Mary Pickford—you can make REAL life anything you wish it to be by your own thinking. AND IF YOU WISH GOD—PLUG IN GOD BY THINKING GOOD.

Puddle Muddle Pays the Bears A Final Visit

By Mary Graham Bonner

THE bears had just managed to stay awake long enough to have one last meal—Thanksgiving dinner—before they finally went to sleep for the winter.

But they had been so sleepy that they had to have the celebration by the cave, and the Puddle Muddlers had thought this was a nice idea, too. It made a bright little change for all of them.

Now the bears were back in the cave and the Puddle Muddlers were looking in and saying "good-night" and "good-winter" a few more times.

But the bears did not answer. They were asleep.

"Oh," barked Rip, the dog, "don't those cubs look adorable! Just see how they are curled up against Honey Bear, and isn't Jelly Bear a wonderful creature?"

Each one in turn took one more look. Willy Nilly went in last and patted the furry bodies of each bear.

"Good-night, good-winter, my splendid bears," he said. "You'll never know how much I care for each one of you."

But maybe the bears could feel that someone was in the cave with them, someone who loved them, and the cubs moved slightly, too, and Jelly Bear moved a little. Then, for a moment they awoke.

Beaten Egg White

To help prevent the filling from soaking into the undercrust of a two-crust or custard pie with uncooked filling, beat an egg white just enough to have a few bubbles form. Spread thinly over the lower crust and then add filling.

When heated the white forms a little coating which helps prevent the filling from going into the crust.

If You Want Their Confidence

Mothers, take time to listen to the small tales of the young son or daughter even if they do prove a bit boring at times. It cultivates the habit of their bringing their thoughts and problems to you in an open, honest way, and when the real decisions come along you will find you will have a part in them, not to be told after it is too late to help out with a mature mind.

EXPLANATION OF WEDNESDAY'S CARTOON

THE PILGRIMS WERE NOT PURITANS—The Puritans were those dissenters from the Established Church of England, who held that the English Protestant Church was corrupt, and who held that a Church Established in law was wrong. They advocated independent self governed local congregations. The Pilgrims fled to Leyden, Holland, from Puritan persecution. When they emigrated to the New World, the Puritans came here as members of the Church of England with no thought of separation. The distinction between the Pilgrims, who settled Plymouth, and the Puritans, who settled Boston, is very important. The Pilgrims were an independent colony until 1691, when they merged with the Puritans. Strangely enough it was the Pilgrims, not the Puritans' conception of church government which was finally to prevail in Massachusetts and Connecticut.

TOMORROW: THE RAIN OF FISHES.

Canine Sleuth

By Otis Adelbert Kline

THE two men faced each other across the food-littered table of the bungalow kitchen. One was slender and dark, with a wolfish expression in his deep-set eyes. The other was large and heavy, with straw-colored hair and a rum-purpled nose.

There was a look of contempt in the sunken eyes of "Wolf" McMurdie, as he said:

"You're yellow, Mike, yellow as saffron!"

Big blond Mike Janowski leaned forward until the rickety kitchen chair on which he sat creaked with the weight of his huge body. Extending a flat bottle from his hip pocket, he took a deep draught that exhausted the contents, then tossed it to the oil cloth-covered table before him. There was a dangerous glint in his little piggy eyes as he glared across at the man who had dared to accuse him of cowardice.

"You and me been partners a long time, Wolf," he said, "but I guess it's about time to bust up."

"A hell of a partner you've been," retorted McMurdie. "Time and again you've gummed up the works. Here I got things all framed for a soft stickup that'd bring us a couple grand apiece and you go and get lit up like a church."

"That payroll stickup wouldn't of been so soft, and you know it. Chances we'd have got ironed off."

Slim, predatory Wolf McMurdie stared contemptuously at the bearded, boozed-out countenance of the other for an instant, then rose, his chair scraping across the bare rough boards of the kitchen floor.

"Gents of our profession always takes the chance of gettin' croaked or pinched," he said, "I'm as ready to call it a day as you are. Slip me my share of the jack you got from Rensell and you can pack up and pull your freight."

Slowly, deliberately, Janowski drew a roll of money from his pocket. He counted out five $10 bills and tossed them to the center of the table.

"Fifty bucks!" roared McMurdie. "Why, you yellow dog! That swag was worth two C's of any fence's jack. Come clean, Mike, or else!"

"Or else what? Are you tryin' to make off I'm holding out on you? A hundred was all Rensell gave me, and don't think you can chisel me out of my cut."

"Don't hand me no argument. Come across with fifty more."

I tell you.

McMurdie landed, flattening the bulbous nose of Janowski so that its tint of purple gradually assumed a deep

Let's EXPLORE Your MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

See Whether His Opinions Agree With Your Own

AUTHOR'S NOTE: These answers are given from the scientific point of view. Science puts the rights of organized society above the rights of individuals.

1. The world-renowned anthropologist, Prof. Franz Boas of Columbia, advances this thought and his numerous published works give the impression that he is committed to the belief that acquired characters can be transmitted and the improvement of the parents will thus be inherited by the children. Most biologists discount this theory, as almost all the experimental evidence, to date, is either against it or else negative. I am unconvinced that Prof. Boas is correct, notwithstanding his undisputed eminence in his own field, but the question at issue is still far from being settled.

2. The final evidence that men have really learned something from their science is that they apply it to governing themselves. Take as instances, Cincinnati and Milwaukee—two cities that have boldly and intelligently experimented with government and brought about startling improvements in reduced expenses, better transportation, reduced crime, cleaner streets. And both are in extraordinary cash and debt positions compared to their status a few years ago under the rule of thumb and greed of professional politicians. Mr. C. V. Brogan, the English authority, showed what unbelievable results have flowed from the great British local government reform bill of 1929. Slow, intelligent, cautious experimentation in government, not grandiose revolution, is the only social and political hope of the world.

3. Certainly they would. The gambler is not influenced by the degree of chances of winning, but by the hazard of the game. It is the love of hazard, of hanging his fortunes on the edge of chance that lures him.

Treaties Just Get in the Way

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

AMERICA, England and Japan are getting together like a broken dish. It won't be all there when it's back on the shelf.

All because each nation wants the biggest navy afloat. We already have the biggest in dry dock. The Washington agreement was a major document but is headed for the minors.

Now, they're getting sensible. The world will be better off with no peace treaties to irritate it.

A treaty halts the victor in his stride and continually reminds the loser of the beating he took.

The pen may be mightier than the sword but the way to settle a war is to fight until you can't lift either.
